Love What You Do Hamilton; Cornelio; Papagni, PhD.,2009-10-14 Starting or changing careers can be an intimidating process For those seeking their first job there is much to learn while career changers may face doubts about their options or obstacles in pursuing their dream LOVE WHAT YOU DO demystifies the career decision process and guides readers through the steps of any job hunt It also helps people prepare for and find careers of all kinds in the culinary world LOVE WHAT YOU DO begins with DECIDING where we ask readers to do a thorough self inventory to uncover their goals passions strengths and weaknesses In this section we emphasize the importance of experience and credentials especially during tough economic times We also focus on how to handle the obstacles and doubts that are an inevitable part of any new endeavor Section II TRAINING outlines the steps needed to begin a successful culinary career Both culinary school and on the job training are discussed as possible options We identify what to look for in a culinary program and how to apply We also explore paid and non paid positions available within the industry Finally we look at salaries and budgets The final section LAUNCHING is all about jobs We help readers decide what kinds of positions might be best for their needs and interests and how to conduct an effective job hunt also including jobs outside the kitchen such as food blogging and food television production We outline what to expect in the first year in the industry and how to excel The book concludes with profiles of three culinary entrepreneurs and a brief introduction to jobs that are community oriented Interspersed throughout the book are brief profiles of people in the culinary world as well as facts exercises and quotes from prominent chefs

Season to Taste Caroline J. Smith, 2023-05-18 2024 Honorable Mention Recipient for the Emily Toth Award for the Best Single Work by One or More Authors from the Popular Culture Association Between 2000 and 2010 many contemporary US American women writers were returning to the private space of the kitchen writing about their experiences in that space and then publishing their memoirs for the larger public to consume Season to Taste Rewriting Kitchen Space in Contemporary Women's Food Memoirs explores women's food memoirs with recipes in order to consider the ways in which these women are rewriting this kitchen space and renegotiating their relationships with food Caroline J Smith begins the book with a historical overview of how the space of the kitchen and the expectations of women associated with it have shifted considerably since the 1960s Better Homes and Gardens as well as the discourse of the second wave feminist movement tended to depict the space as a place of imprisonment The contemporary popular writers examined in Season to Taste such as Ruth Reichl Kim Sun e Jocelyn Delk Adams Julie Powell and Molly Wizenberg respond to this characterization by instead presenting the kitchen as a place of transformation In their memoirs and recipes these authors reinterpret their roles within the private sphere of the home as well as the public sphere of the world of publishing whether print or digital publication The authors examined here explode the divide of private feminine and public masculine in both content and form and complicate the genres of recipe writing diary writing and memoir These women writers through the act of preparing and consuming food encourage readers to reconsider the changing gender politics of the kitchen
