to leave the community to learn coding for After Effects through other coding sources such as JavaScript websites I experienced this firsthand and when it came to learning Expression you just can't find a precise answer where to start or a global approach this book is exactly what I wish I had found WHY A BOOK A missing piece Expression is known even to the experienced users as the dark and mysterious place within the After Effects world animators mainly understand keyframes When you don't know anything about coding in general it can look scary and not accessible but believe me Expression is very logical and you just need to know a few terms to be able to write read or decipher an expression my goal is to lighten things up and what can seem complex at the end is a very beautiful and simple tool that will bring harmony in creativity and boost the productivity definitely a must for any After Effects user Expression is still a written language so it's still easier to focus by learning it through reading rather than watching a video tutorial The purpose of this book is to have a reference where to quickly search learn and review the terms necessary to use Expression in After Effects Finally a real guide of how to learn Expression fast and easy presented in a modern and minimalist way

High-Level Adaptation and Aftereffects Rocco Palumbo, Stefania D'Ascenzo, Luca Tommasi, 2017-04-28 Aftereffects generally occur after a prolonged exposure adaptation to a first stimulus possessing one given property followed by presentation of a stimulus bearing a neutral value of that property The aftereffect consists in a change in appearance of the neutral stimulus following the adapter compared to the appearance of the neutral stimulus when it is perceived without any previous exposure to the adapter The transient phenomena of perceptual aftereffects are believed to depend on the activation of neuron populations that respond selectively to a given property of the stimuli Studying how adaptation occurs which stimulus properties are sensitive to it which timings are necessary whether individual differences modulate its occurrence has thus become an indirect way to probe the plasticity of sensory functions in the nervous system recently extending to more cognitive and representational aspects of neural coding In the last two decades indeed it has been demonstrated that aftereffects occur not only for low level properties of stimuli such as motion color or orientation but also for high level properties Many studies have proven that high level properties of the stimuli e.g. gender identity ethnicity or age of a face or a voice are sensitive to this phenomenon It has been shown for example that the prolonged exposure to a female or male face produces a gender misperception in the opposite direction when an androgynous face is shown after the adapter Furthermore recent studies have also shown that aftereffects are not strictly contingent upon the physical features that make up stimuli but they seem to run across the high level properties subjects are adapted to These evidences are supported by cross category adaptation studies which underlie how aftereffects occur even across stimuli that do not share physical features e.g. bodies and faces but that instead share common higher level properties such as gender Given the growing body of research focused on adaptation and aftereffects in high level perception at the boundaries with perceptual learning attention and cognition the purpose of this topic is to provide a picture of the state of the art relative to the specific phenomena of adaptation in high level perceptual processing
