A Scrap Of Time And Other Stories:

A Scrap of Time and Other Stories Ida Fink, 1995 Named a New York Times Notable Book Winner of the PEN Book of the Month Club Translation Prize Winner of the Anne Frank Prize These shattering stories describe the lives of ordinary people as they are compelled to do the unimaginable a couple who must decide what to do with their five year old daughter as the Gestapo come to march them out of town a wife whose safety depends on her acquiescence in her husband's love affair a girl who must pay a grim price for an Aryan identity card My Mother's Voice Adrienne Kertzer, 2001-12-11 How do children's books represent the Holocaust How do such books negotiate the tension between the desire to protect children and the commitment to tell children the truth about the world If Holocaust representations in children's books respect the narrative conventions of hope and happy endings how do they differ if at all from popular representations intended for adult audiences And where does innocence lie if the children's fable of Roberto Benigni's Life is Beautiful is marketed for adults and far more troubling survivor memoirs such as Anita Lobel's No Pretty Pictures A Child of War are marketed for children How should Holocaust Studies integrate discourse about children's literature into its discussions In approaching these and other questions Kertzer uses the lens of children's literature to problematize the ways in which various adult discourses represent the Holocaust and continually challenges the conventional belief that children's literature is the place for easy answers and optimistic lessons Short Story Index, 1994

The Daughters of the Plaza de Mayo David Moshman, 2006 In the late 1970s some 30 000 Argentines mostly young men and women thought to have leftist sympathies were kidnapped and tortured to death by the military government which denied what was happening In response the mothers of the disappeared came together and marched in Buenos Aires at the Plaza de Mayo demanding week after week that their children be returned or accounted for Democracy was finally restored with promises of truth and justice As memory gave way to historical amnesia however and judicial processes to reconciliation the Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo continued to march Do not forget they insisted do not forgive Sixty years later a nonlocalizable electronic agent that calls itself the Daughters of the Plaza de Mayo emerges on the global Network No one knows what the Daughters are or what they want They tell horrifying stories from Argentina and elsewhere They provide seemingly endless lists of victims names They invoke El Eternauta a comic book character from a space beyond time to press a moral perspective that demands the impossible They are singular and plural informative and obscure irritating threatening unclassifiable and relentless in the pursuit of their agenda whatever that may be

Reference Guide to Holocaust Literature Thomas Riggs, 2002 Covering the entire spectrum of the literature of the Holocaust era from the beginnings of Nazism through the concentration camp experience survivor syndrome and second generation response this detailed survey includes entries on more than 200 authors and 300 works Author entries include detailed biographical information as well as expert analytical interpretation Work entries discuss each work in detail and include a critical essay written by an expert in the field Value added features include chronologies further reading lists and nationality concentration camp and title indexes

Using and Abusing the Holocaust Lawrence L. Langer, 2006-06-21 Langer by the force of scholarship and literary precision rather than dogmatic affirmation and pathos is one of the few writers with the exception of significant poets and novelists who unsettles both our customary language and conceptual instruments His book is a moral as well as an intellectual act of a very high order Geoffrey Hartman author of The Longest Shadow In this new volume Langer one of the most distinguished scholars writing on Holocaust literature and representation assesses various literary efforts to establish a place in modern consciousness for the ordeal of those victimized by Nazi Germany's crimes against humanity Essays discuss the film Life Is Beautiful the uncritical acclaim of Fragments the fake memoir by Benjamin Wilkomirski reasons for the exaggerated importance still given to Anne Frank's Diary and a recent cycle of paintings on the Old Testament by Holocaust artist Samuel Bak
