Smith, 2016-11-08 A worldview of spiritual warfare is widely held among charismatics and Pentecostals but it has been criticized for producing paranoia and denying personal responsibility It is less well known that the term was first used in print around 1970 by Anglican charismatics What did it mean to them then and what are the practical effects of their worldview Should we now be adopting a more sophisticated ontology of evil such as Nigel Wright's non ontological realist view or Amos Yong's apophatic theology of the demonic rather than the traditional one that Satan and demons are real ontological entities This practical theological study begins with a study of Anglican charismatic pioneers and an in depth case study of a charismatic Anglican congregation before grappling with the ontological question in dialogue with Wright together with Barth and Walter Wink Yong and Gregory Boyd A fresh engagement with the biblical texts then argues for a positive realist ontology for rebellious demonic powers and presents a Trinitarian model of spiritual warfare praxis that emphasizes personal responsibility and promotes freedom from fear

Exploring the Old Testament in Asia Jerry Hwang, Angukali Rotokha, 2022-11-07 Exploring the Old Testament in Asia is the first evangelical Old Testament textbook written both from and for an Asian cultural context Rooted in the theological conviction that God still speaks through the Old Testament in all its fullness the twelve essays in this book address key theological issues pertinent to the diverse cultures and contexts of Asia Touching on topics from polytheism and kinship bonds to Scripture translation and the biblical conception of wisdom the writers position themselves in conversation with Asia's rich spiritual cultural and literary heritage The result is a theological contribution that is both contextually relevant and biblically faithful

Tithing in the New Testament Age: Is It Biblical? Andrew G. Robbins, 2015-11-13 The practice of giving the first ten percent of one's income to a church or ministry has become a topic of debate in recent years Having been widely accepted for generations tithing has now come under fire by a growing segment of today's Church who insist that tithing passed away with the Old Testament Law This treatise by Andrew G Robbins examines both sides of the subject and seeks to bring a truly Biblical perspective for those who may still be confused about whether or not God wants them to tithe Pastor Robbins also reaches across the aisle to those who oppose the concept of New Testament tithing with a respectful yet powerful defense of the timeless principle of worshiping God with the tithe One of the best selling modern books defending the concept of New Testament tithing entitled The Blessed Life was written by well known pastor Robert Morris and Pastor Robbins takes Pastor Morris' excellent work a step further by offering readers point by point Biblically based counter arguments for the most common objections to tithing as well as Pastor Robbins' own dramatic testimony about the benefits of tithing

Re-imagining African Christologies Victor I. Ezigbo, 2010-02-08 Who do you say that I am Mark 8 29 is the question of Christology By asking this question Jesus invites his followers to interpret him from within their own contexts history experience and social location Therefore all responses to Jesus s invitation are contextual But for too long many theologians particularly in the West have continued to see Christology as a universal endeavor that is devoid of any contextual influences This understanding of Christology undermines Jesus s expectations from us to imagine and appropriate him from within our own contexts In Re-imagining African Christologies Victor I Ezigbo presents a constructive exposition of the unique ways that many African theologians and lay Christians from various church denominations have interpreted and appropriated Jesus Christ in their own contexts He also articulates the constructive contributions that these African Christologies can make to the development of Christological discourse in non African Christian communities

Traditionalists, Muslims, and Christians in Africa Prince Sorie Conteh, 2009 As is the case for most of sub Saharan Africa African Traditional Religion ATR is the indigenous religion of Sierra Leone When the early forebears and later progenitors of Islam and Christianity arrived they met Sierra Leone indigenes with a remarkable knowledge of God and a structured religious system Successive Muslim clerics traders and missionaries were respectful of and sensitive to the culture and religion of the indigenes who accommodated them and offered them hospitality This approach resulted in a syncretistic brand of Islam In contrast most Christian missionaries adopted an exclusive and insensitive approach to African culture and religiosity Christianity especially Protestantism demanded a complete abandonment of African culture and religion and a total dedication to Christianity This attitude is continued by some indigenous clerics and religious leaders to such an extent that Sierra Leone Indigenous Religion SLIR and its practitioners continue to be marginalised in Sierra Leone's interreligious dialogue and cooperation. Although the indigenous of Sierra Leone were and continue to be hospitable to Islam and Christianity and in spite of the fact that SLIR shares affinity with Islam and Christianity in many theological and practical issues and even though there are many Muslims and Christians who still hold on to traditional spirituality and culture, Muslim and Christian leaders of these immigrant religions are reluctant to include Traditionalists in interfaith issues in the country. The formation and constitution of the Inter Religious Council of Sierra Leone (IRCSL) which has local and international recognition did not include ATR. These considerations then beg the following questions: Why have Muslim and Christian leaders long marginalized ATR, its practices and practitioners from interfaith dialogue and cooperation in Sierra Leone? What is lacking in ATR that continues to prevent practitioners of Christianity and Islam from officially involving Traditionalists in the socioreligious development of the country? This book investigates the reasons for the exclusion of ATR from interreligious dialogue, cooperation, and ATR's relevance and place in the socioreligious landscape of Sierra Leone and the rest of the world. It also discusses possible ways for ATR's inclusion in the ongoing interfaith dialogue and cooperation in the country; this is important because people living side by side meet and interact personally and communally on a regular basis. As such, they share common resources, communal benefits, and the joys, crises, and sorrows of life. The social and cultural interaction and cooperation involved in this dialogue of life are what compel people to fully understand the worldviews of their neighbours and to seek out better relationships with them. Most of the extant books and courses about interreligious encounters and dialogue deal primarily with the interaction between two or more of the major world religions: Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism, and Sikhism. This book fills a gap in the study of interreligious dialogue in Africa by taking into consideration the place and relevance of ATR in interreligious dialogue and cooperation in Sierra Leone. It provides the reader with basic knowledge of ATR, Islam, and Christianity in their Sierra Leonean contexts and of interfaith encounters and dialogue among the three major faith traditions in Africa. As such, it provides for the first time a historical, chronological, and comparative study of interreligious encounters and dialogue among Traditionalists, Muslims, and Christians in Sierra Leone. Traditionalists, Muslims, and Christians in Africa is an important reference for scholars, researchers, religious leaders, missionaries, and all who are interested in interfaith cooperation and dialogue, especially among all three of Africa's major living religions: ATR, Islam, and Christianity. Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998.
