Transbluesency Amiri Baraka,1995 Poet dramatist essayist fiction writer and political activist Amiri Baraka is considered by many to be the most influential and preeminent African American literary figures of our time Transbluesency reveals a writer shaping a body of poetry that is as well a body of knowledge a passionate reflection upon the cultural political and aesthetic questions of his time Transbluesency : the Selected Poems of Amiri Baraka, 1961-1995 ,1995

Amiri Baraka Jerry Watts,2001-08 In a chapter sure to prove controversial Watts links Baraka s famous misogyny to an attempt to bury his own homosexual past BOOK JACKET The New American Poetry, 1945-1960 Donald Allen,1999 Donald Allen s prophetic anthology had an electrifying effect on two generations at least of American poets and readers More than the repetition of familiar names and ideas that most anthologies seem to be about here was the declaration of a collective intelligent and thoroughly visionary work in progress the primary example for its time of the anthology as manifesto Its republication today complete with poems statements on poetics and autobiographical projections provides us again with a model of how a contemporary anthology can and should be shaped In these essentials it remains as fresh and useful a guide as it was in 1960 Jerome Rothenberg editor of Poems for the Millennium The New American Poetry is a crucial cultural document central to defining the poetics and the broader cultural dynamics of a particular historical moment Alan Golding author of From Outlaw to Classic Canons in American Poetry A Study Guide for Amiri Baraka's "In Memory of Radio" Gale, Cengage Learning,2016 A Study Guide for Amiri Baraka s In Memory of Radio excerpted from Gale s acclaimed Poetry for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Poetry for Students for all of your research needs A History of African American Poetry Lauri Ramey,2019-03-21 Offers a critical history of African American poetry from the transatlantic slave trade to present day hip hop Wound Building Danny Hayward,2021 Wound Building is a volume of essays with digressions on one group of contemporary poets active in a self organizing political poetry scene in the UK most of whom have little to no audience outside of the little magazines that they publish and the reading series they put on The book is a front line report on the rapid development of this poetry in the period between 2015 and 2020 with a particular focus on the relationship of poetry to violence and its representation The poets discussed here write violent love poems and violent elegies as well as violent fantasies composed in stabs of violent verse and violet prose The poems themselves comprise fantasies of killing David Cameron dreams of being split open along a seam basement songs hundreds of pages of notes on working life in a privatized care home in Hove East Sussex a four line slogan about the Cologne groping scandal of New Year 2016 variations on the Refugees Medical Phrasebook a life wasted in a factory in Guangzhou an autobiographical sci fi internet fever dream an anarchist elegy and a refusal to argue Ultimately Hayward argues that the lessons this poetry teaches is never to write a worthy narrative when a fucked up collage will do Rather than

a cohesive account of a school of poets or a contribution to the boring tittle tattle of aesthetic debates over British poetry as an institution Wound Building is a front line report on the local disasters of a contemporary UK poetry caught in the grip of the historical cataclysm of capitalist culture Wound Building is further concerned with aesthetic problems related to Marxism anarchism contemporary trans politics and class though its theoretical preoccupations are subordinated to its desire to provide a ground level view on the writing itself its production its intellectual aporia and the ways it finds itself outstripped by the ongoing march of events The book will be of interest not only for those concerned with contemporary British political and experimental poetry but also more generally for anyone who wishes to think carefully about what it means to make art about present day history and its many horrible enormities The book s title is derived from the idea of sublime woundedness that subtends the context of the poets discussed here the impressions of wounds opening up like LED lit shopfronts in the night in a parallel universe in which injury is intoxicatingly impersonal and structural and which forms the environment in which the poems fight to absolutize the value of every last breath or face into the reality of extravagantly violent wish fulfillment or dissolve themselves in a search for new ways of professing love or transform into a kind of expressionism of vomiting up medical diagnostic categories found in abstract social labor or pump their verses full of the convulsive rhythms of surprise and sudden relief without any guarantee that this is the right thing to do or that anyone will even fucking hear Wound Building does not historicize this state of affairs as much as it attempts to live alongside the immediacy of this work in order to see what is still possible for poetry and criticism to make and do Sherman Alexie Jeff Berglund, Jan

Roush, 2011-10-31 A collection of critical essays on the writing and films of American Indian author Sherman Alexie

Powers of Possibility Alex Houen, 2012 By outlining a novel concept of literary practice potentialism this text shows how opening up literary possibilities enabled writers such as Allen Ginsberg LeRoi Jones Amiri Baraka William S Burroughs Kathy Acker and Lyn Hejinian to tackle matters of power and politics The Poethical Wager Joan Retallack, 2003 Annotation The intellectual method and its relation to social activism Examines his involvement with socialist movements of the 1920s and 1930s and contends that the goal of overthrowing white oppression produced a socialist joy expressed repeatedly in his later work in spite of the anticommunist crusades of the cold war Provided by publisher The Talking Book Allen Dwight

The Origins of Cool in Postwar America Joel Dinerstein, 2018-09-26 Cool It was a new word and a new way to be and in a single generation it became the supreme compliment of American culture The Origins of Cool in Postwar America uncovers the hidden history of this concept and its new set of codes that came to define a global attitude and style As Joel Dinerstein reveals in this dynamic book cool began as a stylish defiance of racism a challenge to suppressed sexuality a philosophy of individual rebellion and a youthful search for social change Through eye opening portraits of iconic figures Dinerstein illuminates the cultural connections and artistic innovations among Lester Young Humphrey Bogart Robert Mitchum Billie Holiday Frank Sinatra Jack Kerouac Albert Camus Marlon Brando and James Dean among others We eavesdrop on conversations among Jean Paul Sartre Simone de Beauvoir and Miles Davis and on a forgotten debate between Lorraine Hansberry and Norman Mailer over the white Negro and black cool We come to understand how the cool worlds of Beat writers and Method actors emerged from the intersections of film noir jazz and existentialism Out of this mix Dinerstein sketches nuanced definitions of cool that unite concepts from African American and Euro American culture the stylish stoicism of the ethical rebel loner the relaxed intensity of the improvising jazz musician the effortless physical grace of the Method actor To be cool is not to be hip and to be hot is definitely not to be cool This is the first work to trace the history of cool during the Cold War by exploring the intersections of film noir jazz existential literature Method acting blues and rock and roll Dinerstein reveals that they came together to create something completely new and that something is cool

Feedback David Joselit, 2010-02-26 In a world where politics is conducted through images the tools of art history can be used to challenge the privatized antidemocratic sphere of American television American television embodies a paradox it is a privately owned and operated public communications network that most citizens are unable to participate in except as passive speculators Television creates an image of community while preventing the formation of actual social ties because behind its simulated exchange of opinions lies a highly centralized corporate structure that is profoundly antidemocratic In Feedback David Joselit describes the privatized public sphere of television and recounts the tactics developed by artists and media activists in the 1960s and 1970s to break open its closed circuit The figures whose work Joselit examines among them Nam June Paik Dan Graham Joan Jonas Abbie Hoffman Andy Warhol and Melvin Van Peebles staged political interventions within television's closed circuit Joselit identifies three kinds of image events feedback which can be both disabling noise and rational response as when Abbie Hoffman hijacked television time for the Yippies with flamboyant stunts directed to the media the image virus which proliferates parasitically invading transforming and even blocking systems as in Nam June Paik's synthesized videotapes and installations and the avatar a quasi-fictional form of identity available to anyone which can function as a political actor as in Melvin Van Peebles's invention of Sweet Sweetback an African American hero who appealed to a broad audience and influenced styles of Black Power activism These strategies writes Joselit remain valuable today in a world where the overlapping information circuits of television and the Internet offer different opportunities for democratic participation In Feedback Joselit analyzes such midcentury image events using the procedures and categories of art history The trope of figure ground reversal for instance is used to assess acts of representation in a variety of media including the medium of politics In a televisual world Joselit argues where democracy is conducted through images art history has the capacity to become a political science

Trances, Dances and Vociferations Nada Elia, 2002-09-11 Trances Dances and Vociferations provides a compelling feminist analysis of gender politics in the works of four major African women writers Toni Morrison Michelle Cliff Assia Djebar and Paule Marshall Nada Elia explores the way in which black women characters use conjuring double entendre and song to empower liberate and determine their own female insurgency She also explains how African and Afrodiasporic women have been forced to rewrite history and substitute a communal and individual wholeness for alienation and separation in many different settings from Algeria to Oklahoma Ranging over works including Marshall's Praisesong for the Widow Djebar's A Sister to Scheherazade Cliff's No Telephone to Heaven and Morrison's Jazz and Beloved Elia offers essential and provocative insights into the works of some of our most influential African women authors today

"After Mecca" Cheryl Clarke, 2005 In After Mecca Cheryl Clarke explores the relationship between the Black Arts Movement and black women writers of the period Poems by Gwendolyn Brooks Ntozake Shange Audre Lorde Nikki Giovanni Sonia Sanchez Jayne Cortez Alice Walker and others chart the emergence of a new and distinct black poetry and its relationship to the black community's struggle for rights and liberation Clarke also traces the contributions of these poets to the development of feminism and lesbian feminism and the legacy they left for others to build on

The Force of Art Krzysztof Ziarek, 2004 Redefining art as a transformative forcework The Force of Art offers a new theory of the artwork in which art's force is explained as a contestation of power in its modern technological manifestations

Resounding Pasts Drago Momcilovic, 2020-05-15 The field of memory studies has long been preoccupied with the manner in which events from the past are commemorated forgotten re-fashioned or worked through on both the individual and collective level Yet in an age when various modes of artistic and cultural commemoration have begun to overlap with and respond to one another the dynamics of cultural remembering and forgetting become bound up in an increasingly elaborate network of representations that operate both within and outside temporal cultural and national borders As publicly circulating texts that straddle the line between cultural artifact and artistic object both musical and literary works both individually and often in conjunction with one another help shape cultural memories and individual experiences of those events Troping their cultural milieux through specific aesthetic and social forms genres and modes of dissemination music and literature become part of a growing global panoply of raw materials upon which we might begin to pose questions regarding the way we remember the consequences of sharing and passing on those memories and the aesthetic and cultural pressures attendant upon the circulation and interpretation of texts that re sound the past

Mary Turner and the Memory of Lynching Julie Buckner Armstrong, 2011 Mary Turner and the Memory of Lynching traces the reaction of activists artists writers and local residents to the brutal lynching of a pregnant woman near Valdosta Georgia In 1918 the murder of a white farmer led to a week of mob violence that claimed the lives of at least eleven African Americans including Hayes Turner When his wife Mary vowed to press charges against the killers she too fell victim to the mob Mary s lynching was particularly brutal and involved the grisly death of her eight month old fetus It led to both an entrenched local silence and a widespread national response in newspaper and magazine accounts visual art film literature and public memorials Turner s story became a centerpiece of the Anti Lynching Crusaders campaign for the 1922 Dyer Bill which sought to make lynching a federal crime Julie Buckner Armstrong explores the complex and contradictory ways this horrific event was remembered in works such as Walter White s report in the NAACP s newspaper the Crisis the Kabnis section of Jean Toomer s Cane Angelina Weld Grimk s short story Goldie and Meta Fuller s sculpture Mary Turner A Silent Protest against Mob Violence Like those of Emmett Till and Leo Frank Turner s story continues to resonate on multiple levels Armstrong s work provides insight into the different roles black women played in the history of lynching as victims as loved ones left behind and as those who fought back The crime continues to defy conventional forms of representation illustrating what can and cannot be said about lynching and revealing the difficulty and necessity of confronting this nation s legacy of racial violence
