Cartographies of Empire Myka Tucker-Abramson, 2025-03-18 The road novel is often dismissed as a mundane nostalgic genre Jack Sal and other tedious white men on the road trying to recapture an authentic youth and American past that never existed Yet new road novels appear every year tackling unexpected questions and spanning new geographies from Mexico Brazil Bulgaria Palestine Ukraine and former Yugoslavia Why did the road novel emerge and why does it persist What does it do and why has it traveled so widely Myka Tucker Abramson draws from an archive of more than 140 global road novels from over twenty countries challenging dominant conceptions of the road novel as primarily concerned with American experiences and subjectivities Grounding her analysis in materialist theories of genre world ecology and commodity frontier frameworks and post-45 American literary studies Tucker Abramson persuasively argues that the road novel is a genre specific to coterminous with and revealing of US hegemony's global trajectory Shifting our focus from Americanness to the fraught geopolitics of US Empire from the car to the built environment through which it moves and from passengers to those left behind Tucker Abramson remaps the road novel elucidating the genre's unique ability both to reveal the violent and vertiginous processes of capitalist modernization and to obfuscate these harsh truths through seductive narratives of individual success and failure
