A Heiner Müller Reader Plays Poetry Prose:

A Heiner Müller Reader Heiner Müller, 2001 Heiner Müller lived through Germany's tumultuous history from Hitler's rise through Soviet occupation to the building and eventual demolition of the Berlin Wall. One of his earliest memories was of his father being beaten by Brownshirts and taken away to a concentration camp. Later Müller chose to stay in the Soviet Zone even when his father defected to the West. His work presents a phantasmagoric vision of culture and history. Though a committed Marxist, Müller loathed the East German government and his works were often censured for their caustic portrait of a Germany whose history was an unending act of division and violence.

Searching for a New German Identity Theresa M. Ganter, 2008 Theresa M. Ganter investigates Heiner Müller's use of the Geschichtsdrama as a tool in his search for post-World War II and post-reunification German identity in Germania Tod in Berlin 1956 1971 and Germania 3

Gespenster am Toten Mann 1996 respectively.

Perspectives on Gender in Post-1945 German Literature Georgina Paul, 2009 Recent studies of German modernity have tended to approach the subject from either a uniquely masculine or uniquely feminine viewpoint. In this work, however, Georgina Paul examines these two gendered perspectives side by side via a sequence of readings of major thematically related German literary texts by both male and female authors.

The Cambridge Companion to the Literature of Berlin Andrew Webber, 2017-03-09 This book provides an informative overview of literary developments in Berlin since 1750 with more detailed readings of exemplary key texts.

A Concise Companion to the Study of Manuscripts, Printed Books, and the Production of Early Modern Texts Edward Jones, 2015-09-28 Bringing together a broad range of case studies written by a team of international scholars, this Concise Companion establishes how manuscripts and printed books met the needs of two different approaches to literacy in the early modern period. Features essays illustrating the particular ways a manuscript and a printed book reflect the different emphases of an elite private and an egalitarian public culture, both of which account for the literary achievements of the Renaissance. Includes wide-ranging essays from printing the Gospels in Arabic to a contemporary reconceptualization of Shakespeare's Titus Andronicus. Increases accessibility through a rubric organized around archival and manuscript studies, the provenance of texts, and the authority of editions and studies of genre, religion, and literary history. Announces the recovery of archival documents which in some instances are over four hundred years old. Places translations of Milton's Latin, Greek, and Italian alongside the original texts to increase accessibility for a wide audience of students and scholars. Provides an invaluable platform for highlighting on-going attention to the history of the book and its corollary subjects of reading and writing practices in the 1500s and 1600s.

Scenographies of the Subject Lars Friedrich, Karin Harrasser, Céline Kaiser, 2019-03-21 Under what circumstances do subjects become visible? And how do subjects themselves change and move the circumstances that allow them to appear? Rather than describing medial architectural or rhetorical arrangements that are readily available to subjects or concentrating on the processes of subject constitution without their scenic arrangements, this volume is dedicated to the reciprocal production of both subjects and scenes From various perspectives it underlines the abysmal conditions in which subjects arrive on stage and vice versa the stages arrive at their subjects Through articles that analyze concrete scenes in a highly focused manner and question the concept of the scene itself this volume argues that there is not subject without a scene and no scene without an instance of description Based on this thesis this volume investigates antique drama and revolutionary rhetoric therapeutic and bureaucratic facilities experiments in fine art and film and not least scenes of theory rhetorical stages that perform arguments and politics Editors Dr Lars Friedrich works at the Institute for German Literature at the University of Frankfurt am Main Dr Karin Harrasser is a professor at the Art University in Linz Dr Celine Kaiser is a professor at the University of Applied Sciences and Arts in Ottersberg

Local and Global Myths in Shakespearean Performance Aneta Mancewicz, Alexa Alice Joubin, 2018-08-08 This collection of scholarly essays offers a new understanding of local and global myths that have been constructed around Shakespeare in theatre cinema and television from the nineteenth century to the present Drawing on a definition of myth as a powerful ideological narrative Local and Global Myths in Shakespearean Performance examines historical political and cultural conditions of Shakespearean performances in Europe Asia and North and South America The first part of this volume offers a theoretical introduction to Shakespeare as myth from a twenty first century perspective The second part critically evaluates myths of linguistic transcendence authenticity and universality within broader European neo liberal and post colonial contexts The study of local identities and global icons in the third part uncovers dynamic relationships between regional national and transnational myths of Shakespeare The fourth part revises persistent narratives concerning a political potential of Shakespeare s plays in communist and post communist countries Finally part five explores the influence of commercial and popular culture on Shakespeare myths Michael Dobson s Afterword concludes the volume by locating Shakespeare within classical mythology and contemporary concerns

Electra After Freud Jill Scott, 2005 Electra s story is essentially a tale of murder revenge and violence In the ancient myth of Atreus Agamemnon returns home from battle and receives no hero s welcome Instead he is greeted with an axe murdered in his bath by his wife Clytemnestra and her lover accomplice Aegisthus Electra chooses anger over sorrow and stops at nothing to ensure that her mother pays In revenge Electra with the help of her brother orchestrates a brutal and bloody matricide and her reward is the restitution of her father s good name Amid all this chaos Electra Agamemnon s princess daughter must bear the humiliation of being treated as a slave girl and labeled a madwoman from the Introduction Almost everyone knows about Oedipus and his mother and many readers would put the Oedipus myth at the forefront of Western collective mythology In Electra after Freud Jill Scott leaves that couple behind and argues convincingly for the primacy of the countermyth of Agamemnon and his daughter Through a lens of Freudian and feminist psychoanalysis this book views renderings of the Electra myth in twentieth century literature and culture Scott reads several pivotal texts featuring Electra to demonstrate what she calls a narrative revolt against the dominance of Oedipus as archetype Situating the Electra myth within a framework of psychoanalysis medicine opera and dance Scott investigates the heroine s role at the intersections of history and the feminine eros and thanatos hysteria and melancholia Scott analyzes Electra adaptations by H D Hofmannsthal and Strauss Musil and Plath and highlights key moments in the telling and reception of the Electra myth in the modern imagination Waste Jessica Rizzo, 2020 If at its most elemental the theater is an art form of human bodies in space what becomes of the theater as suicide capitalism pushes our world into a posthuman age Waste Capitalism and the Dissolution of the Human in Twentieth Century Theater traces the twentieth century theater's movement from dramaturgies of efficiency to dramaturgies of waste beginning with the observation that the most salient feature of the human is her ability to be ashamed of herself to experience herself as excess the waster and the waste of the world By examining theatrical representations of capitalism war climate change and the permanent refugee crisis Waste traces the ways in which these human driven events signal a tendency toward prodigality that terminates with self destruction Defying its promise of abundance for all capitalism poisons all relationships with competition and fear The desire to dominate in war is revealed to be the desire to obliterate the self in collective conflagration The refugee crisis raises the urgent question of our responsibility to the other but the climate crisis renders the question of anthropocentric obligations moot Waste proposes that the theater is the form best suited to confronting the human's perverse relationship to its finitude Everything about the theater is suffused with existential shame with an acute awareness of its provisionality Unlike the dominant narrative of the human which is bound up with a fantasy of infinite growth the theater is not deluded about its nature origins and destiny At its best the theater gathers artist and audience in one space to die together for a little while to consciously waste and not spend their time JESSICA RIZZO is an American writer director and dramaturge She holds a DFA in Dramaturgy and Dramatic Criticism from the Yale School of Drama where she served as Associate Editor of Theater magazine and was awarded the John W Gassner Prize for Criticism She has taught at the Yale School of Drama Yale College and Bryn Mawr College In 2017 she directed the North American premiere of Elfriede Jelinek's Shadow Eurydice Says in New York City She has also worked at the Yale Repertory Theatre and the Hungarian Theatre of Cluj and has had her work presented as part of the Hong Kong Arts Festival Her writing has appeared in PAJ A Journal of Performance and Art TheaterForum Theatre Journal Theater TDR Austrian Studies the Theatre Times Vice Momus LA's Cultural Weekly Philadelphia's Broad Street Review and ArtBlog and Romania's Scena.ro
