

FUSION OF FILM AND MUSIC

1900S – 1920S

- Accompanists, either pianists or entire orchestras, were hired to drown out the noise made by the projector during silent film viewing
- Accompanists were either given books of musical ideas or suggestion lists for songs to play
- Most historians believe that Camille Saint-Saen's score for L'Assissinat du Duc de Guise (1908) was the first original score
- Joseph Carl Breil wrote the first feature length musical score for The Birth of a Nation (1915)

A History Of Film Music:

A History of Film Music Mervyn Cooke, 2008-09-25 This book provides a comprehensive and lively introduction to the major trends in film scoring from the silent era to the present day focussing not only on dominant Hollywood practices but also offering an international perspective by including case studies of the national cinemas of the UK France India Italy Japan and the early Soviet Union The book balances wide ranging overviews of film genres modes of production and critical reception with detailed non technical descriptions of the interaction between image track and soundtrack in representative individual films In addition to the central focus on narrative cinema separate sections are also devoted to music in documentary and animated films film musicals and the uses of popular and classical music in the cinema The author analyses the varying technological and aesthetic issues that have shaped the history of film music and concludes with an account of the modern film composer s working practices

Film Music James Eugene Wierzbicki, 2009 Film Music A History explains the development of film music by considering large scale aesthetic trends and structural developments alongside socioeconomic technological cultural and philosophical circumstances The book s four large parts are given over to Music and the Silent Film 1894 1927 Music and the Early Sound Film 1895 1933 Music in the Classical Style Hollywood Film 1933 1960 and Film Music in the Post Classic Period 1958 2008 Whereas most treatments of the subject are simply chronicles of great film scores and their composers this book offers a genuine history of film music in terms of societal changes and technological and economic developments within the film industry Instead of celebrating film music masterpieces it deals logically and thoroughly with the complex machine whose smooth running allowed those occasional masterpieces to happen and whose periodic adjustments prompted the large scale twists and turns in film music s path

Twenty Four Frames Under Russell Lack, 1997 A history of film music combined with an examination of music s emotional impact on the film audience

William Alwyn Ian Johnson, 2005 Ian Johnson s evaluation of Alwyn s film music places his achievement in the context of wider movements within the film industry William Alwyn was a leading composer of British film music in the 1940s and 50s a time when the British film industry was at its peak

His scores ranged from documentaries to almost 80 full length feature films including classics such as Fires were Started Desert Victory Odd Man Out The Fallen Idol and The History of Mr Polly he was adept at any musical genre from classical to cartoon slapstick and in the process worked with legendary directors including Carol Reed David Lean Humphrey Jennings and Anthony Asquith Alone with Vaughan Williams he was granted the distinction of a separate title credit columnists mentioned him alongside Bliss Bax and Walton However as the reputation of the British film industry declined in the 1950s so musical snobbery against those who were its leading lights became unpleasantly raw In recent years however with sensitive performances of his film and concert music available on CD this most appealing of composers has enjoyed something of a renaissance In this long overdue reassessment Alwyn's films are analysed and put into the context of his biography the film industry and of society at large the author shows in particular this remarkably versatile composer developed a hitherto unrecognised grammar of film music which enhanced every film on which he worked He also examines his work for war propaganda radio and the concert hall The volume is enhanced by the most complete filmography discography and bibliography of the composer's works yet published as well as listings of his concert and radio music

Destiny: The Extraordinary Career of Pianist Eileen Joyce David Tunley, Victoria Rogers, Cyrus Meher-Homji, 2017-11-01 Born in Tasmania the Australian pianist Eileen Joyce was destined for the great concert halls of the world and a career that established her at the international pinnacle of twentieth century pianism In depth essays in this book examine her studies in Germany her appearances as a glamorous concert artist her starring roles on film her fascination with the harpsichord and embrace of early music and her many acclaimed recordings With listings of Joyce's concerto and solo recital repertoire and the most complete discography to date this is an informative new account of the extraordinary career of a consummate artist

Hindi Film Songs and the Cinema Anna Morcom, 2017-07-05 Since their beginnings in the 1930s Hindi films and film songs have dominated Indian public culture in India and have also made their presence felt strongly in many global contexts Hindi film songs have been described on the one hand as highly standardized and on the other as highly eclectic Anna Morcom addresses many of the paradoxes eccentricities and myths of not just Hindi film songs but also of Hindi cinema by analysing film songs in cinematic context While the presence of songs in Hindi films is commonly dismissed as purely commercial this book demonstrates that in terms of the production process musical style and commercial life it is most powerfully the parent film that shapes and defines the film songs and their success rather than the other way round While they constitute India's still foremost genre of popular music film songs are also situational dramatic sequences inherently multi media in style and conception This book is uniquely grounded in detailed musical and visual analysis of Hindi film songs song sequences and films as well as a wealth of ethnographic material from the Hindi film and music industries Its findings lead to highly novel ways of viewing Hindi film songs their key role in Hindi cinema and how this affects their wider life in India and across the globe It will be indispensable to scholars seeking to understand both Hindi film songs and Hindi cinema It also forms a major contribution to popular music popular culture film music studies and ethnomusicology tackling pertinent issues of cultural production multi media and the cross cultural use of music in Hindi cinema The book caters for both music specialists as well as a wider audience
