Lapidus, 2014-10-13 This new edition of one of the most widely used course books on Islamic civilizations around the world has been substantially revised to incorporate the new scholarship and insights of the last twenty-five years. Ira Lapidus's history explores the beginnings and transformations of Islamic civilizations in the Middle East and details Islam's worldwide diffusion. The history is divided into four parts. Part I is a comprehensive account of pre-Islamic late antiquity, the beginnings of Islam, the early Islamic empires, and Islamic religious, artistic, legal, and intellectual cultures. Part II deals with the construction in the Middle East of Islamic religious communities and states to the fifteenth century. Part III includes the history to the nineteenth century of Islamic North Africa and Spain, the Ottoman, Safavid, and Mughal empires, and other Islamic societies in Asia and Africa. Part IV accounts for the impact of European commercial and imperial domination on Islamic societies and traces the development of the modern national state system and the simultaneous Islamic revival from the early nineteenth century to the present.

Islamic Societies to the Nineteenth Century Ira M. Lapidus, 2012-10-22 First published in 1988, Ira Lapidus's A History of Islamic Societies has become a classic in the field, enlightening students, scholars, and others with a thirst for knowledge about one of the world's great civilizations. This book, based on fully revised and updated parts one and two of this monumental work, describes the transformations of Islamic societies from their beginning in the seventh century through their diffusion across the globe into the challenges of the nineteenth century. The story focuses on the organization of families and tribes, religious groups, and states, showing how they were transformed by their interactions with other religious and political communities. The book concludes with the European commercial and imperial interventions that initiated a new set of transformations in the Islamic world and the onset of the modern era. Organized in narrative sections for the history of each major region, with innovative analytic summary introductions and conclusions, this book is a unique endeavour. A History of Islamic Societies Ira Marvin Lapidus, 2014 A History of Islamic Societies Ira Marvin Lapidus, 1999 A

An expanded new edition of this concise, illuminating introduction to Islam, written by one of the field's leading scholars, spans Islamic history from the life of Muhammad and the birth of Islamic ideals through Islam's phenomenal geographical expansion and cultural development to the creation of modern states and its role in today's global society. Features expanded coverage of the Qur'an, Sufism, and Muslim views on human rights including the rights of women. Safavid Persia C. Melville, 1996-12-31 The Safavids ruled Persia for nearly two and a half centuries. This study is divided into two sections: the first of which includes studies on the historiography and the religious politics of the period; the second section covers such subjects as trade and The Cambridge History of Islam: Volume 2B, Islamic Society and Civilisation P. M. Holt, Ann K. S. Lambton, Bernard Lewis, 1977-04-21 This is a most comprehensive and ambitious collaborative survey of Islamic history and civilization. The Cambridge History of Islam Ann K. S. Lambton, Bernard Lewis, P. M. Holt, 1977 Public Violence in Islamic Societies Christian Lange, 2009-07-31 This exploration of the role of violence in the history of Islamic societies considers the subject particularly in the context of its implementation as a political strategy to claim power over the public sphere. Violence both among Muslims and between Muslims and non-Muslims has been the object of research in the past, as in the case of jihad, martyrdom, rebellion, or criminal law. This book goes beyond these concerns in addressing in a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary fashion how violence has functioned as a basic principle of Islamic social and political organization in a variety of historical and geographical contexts. Contributions trace the use of violence by governments in the history of Islam, shed light on legal views of violence, and discuss artistic and religious responses. Authors lay out a spectrum of attitudes rather than trying to define an Islamic doctrine of violence. Bringing together some of the most substantive and innovative scholarship on this important topic to date, this volume contributes to the growing interest both scholarly and general in the question of Muslim attitudes toward violence. Islamic Society on the South Asian Frontier Stephen Frederic Dale, 1980 The Reconstruction of Islamic Society Sheikh Zafar Hussain, 1992 The Islamic World to 1041 Ariana Wolff, 2017-07-15 During his lifetime in the sixth and seventh centuries, the Prophet Muhammad built the foundations of what would become the second largest religion in the world. This comprehensive guide presents the history of Islam, beginning with the agrarian prehistory of Afro-Eurasia and the rise of Arabian city states. It then offers a biographical treatment of Muhammad, followed by an assessment of the spread of Islam and its splintering into diverse factions that occurred in the centuries following Muhammad's death. Resources including a timeline help readers contextualize and connect the various regional developments during Islam's early period. The Cambridge History of Islam, 1989
