A History Of Sub Saharan Africa:

A History of Sub-Saharan Africa Robert O. Collins, James McDonald Burns, 2007 In a trawl through the entire sweep of sub Saharan history the authors have written an accessible introduction for students and general readers The opening chapter on geography and climate frames the discussion demonstrating how the environment has shaped the societies and cultures of those living in the region Thereafter they describe the rise of states and empires in the classical period the slave trade within Africa and beyond to the Americas and the European conquest The concluding section focuses on Africa in the twentieth century as it gains independence and searches for a new identity beyond colonialism While the authors mull over the debates which have shaped the study of African history at the centre of this story are the tragedies triumphs and the resilience of the African people The book is illustrated with photographs maps and sidebars which feature the salient points on either side of the debates Publisher's description from p 4 of cover

A History of Sub-Saharan Africa Robert O. Collins, James McDonald Burns, 2013 The second edition of A History of Sub-Saharan Africa continues to provide an accessible introduction to the continent's history for students and general readers The authors employ a thematic approach to their subject focusing on how the environment has shaped the societies and cultures of the African peoples The text demonstrates how the geography climate and geology of Africa influenced the rise of states and empires the emergence of the trans Atlantic slave trade the European conquest and the creation of independent African nations Yet the book maintains a focus on the peoples whose creative energies built unique communities and traditions within the challenging context of the Africa landmass In the process of reconstructing this continent's rich history the authors analyze the contentious scholarly debates that have emerged from this field The book is illustrated with photographs maps and sidebars that feature the salient points on either side of the debates

Sub-Saharan Africa Gregory Maddox, Sub-Saharan Africa and the United States Philip R. Cook,1986

The African Poor John Iliffe,1987-12-25 This history of the poor of Sub Saharan Africa begins in the monasteries of thirteenth century Ethiopia and ends in the South African resettlement sites of the 1980s Its thesis derived from histories of poverty in Europe is that most very poor Africans have been individuals incapacitated for labour bereft of support and unable to fend for themselves in a land rich economy There has emerged the distinct poverty of those excluded from access to productive resources Natural disaster brought widespread destitution but as a cause of mass mortality it was almost eliminated in the colonial era to return to those areas where drought has been compounded by administrative breakdown Professor Iliffe investigates what it was like to be poor how the poor sought to help themselves how their counterparts in other continents live The poor live as people rather than merely parading as statistics Famines have alerted the world to African poverty but the problem itself is ancient Its prevailing forms will not be understood until those of earlier periods are revealed and trends of change are identified This is a book for all concerned with the future of Africa as well as for students of poverty elsewhere Ethnicities and Tribes in Sub-Saharan Africa S. N. Sangmpam,2017-03-08 This book proposes new avenues for understanding tribal allegiance in Sub Saharan Africa Much research on ethnicity and cultural pluralism in Sub Saharan Africa falsely equates the term tribe with ethnicity and obscures the differences between Sub Saharan Africa and other regions It also puts too much emphasis on the role of the colonial state in fostering tribal allegiance This book challenges these claims and offers an alternate way of understanding tribal allegiance in Sub Saharan Africa Sub-Saharan Africa ,1989 The History and Government of Sub-Saharan Africa J. M. Klein,2020-12-15 All of human history begins in Sub Saharan Africa where scientists believe the first humans lived Over time thousands of ethnic groups inhabited the area creating villages cities unique cultures and governments This book explores the historical events movements and people who have shaped the region of Sub Saharan Africa over its long and varied history How did the transatlantic slave trade affect the region How did colonialism change the existing governments there Readers will travel to Sub Saharan Africa through primary sources informative text fact filled sidebars and breathtaking photographs to find the answers Quality of Life and Human Well-Being in Sub-Saharan Africa Valerie Møller,Benjamin J. Roberts,2021-02-07 This volume presents an account of how people in sub Saharan Africa have fared under changing life circumstances of the past centuries until the present By introducing the geography of the region it traces a time line of different historical periods that have shaped livelihoods of ordinary people of the region and addresses the major milestones in political and economic development It focuses on social indicators pointing to significant changes that have affected the health education and wealth of sub Saharan Africans and their outlook on the future since the wind of change blew through the region With case studies and vignettes the book highlights how individual citizens across the 44 different countries of sub Saharan Africa experience well being and express their aspirations for the future This book provides relevant material for practitioners and policy makers including community and development workers in non governmental and other organizations in sub Saharan African countries Historic Mosques in Sub-Saharan Africa Stéphane Pradines,2022-11-07 This book is the first comprehensive synthesis on mosques in sub Saharan Africa bringing together sites from more than twenty states from sub Saharan Africa and more than 285 monuments from the IXth to the XIXth centuries This monograph is divided into three large geographical areas from the earthen mosques of West Africa to the Nile Valleys and the Horn of Africa and to the Indian Ocean shores and Swahili coral stone mosques This book is a statement that African mosques demonstrate cultural links with North Africa Arabia Persia and India these monuments are unique in the history of Islamic architecture and they belong to our World Heritage Sub-Saharan Africa Lisa Zamosky,2007-01-05 Trade routes gave rise to the ancient kingdoms in Africa providing a rich history in culture trade and tradition This appealing book allows readers to explore the civilization people culture religion history and traditions of Sub Saharan Africa Modern Representations of Sub-Saharan Africa Lori Maguire,Susan Ball,Sébastien Lefait,2020-11-11

This book examines how representations of African in the Anglophone West have changed in the post imperial age The period since the Second World War has seen profound changes in sub Saharan Africa notably because of decolonization the creation of independent nation states and the transformation of the relationships with the West Using a range of case studies from news media maps popular culture film and TV the contributions assess how narrative and counter narratives have developed and been received by their audiences in light of these changes Examining the overlapping areas between media representations and historical events this book will be of interest to students and scholars of African Studies and Media and Cultural Studies
