Metaphoricity and the Politics of Mobility, 2016-08-01
 This collection of essays investigates the convergence between the postmodern politics of mobility and a politics of metaphor a politics in other words in the context of which the production and displacement of meaning s constitute the major stakes Ranging from discussions of re territorialization multiculturalism digisporas and transnational politics and ethics to September 11th the Pentagon s New Map American legislation on Chinese immigration Gianni Amelio s film Lamerica Keith Piper s online installations and Doris Salcedo s Atrabiliarios the collection aims to follow three different theoretical trajectories First it seeks to rethink our concepts of mobility in order to open them up to the complexity that structures the thoughts and practices of a global order Second it critically examines the privileged position of concepts and metaphors of mobility within postmodern theory In juxtaposing conflictual theoretical formulations the book sets out to present the competing responses that fuel academic debates around this issue Finally it evaluates the influence of our increasingly mobile conceptual frameworks and everyday experience on the redefinition of politics that is currently under way especially in the context of Post Marxist theory Its hope is to contribute to the production of alternative political positions and practices that will address the conflicting desires for attachment and movement marking postmodernity

Affect, Performativity, and Chinese Diasporas in the Caribbean Elena Igartuburu García, 2024-02-12
 Affect Performativity and Chinese Diasporas in the Caribbean Hopeful Futures analyzes the emergence of Chinese diasporic literature and art in the Caribbean and its diasporas in the twenty first century This book considers the historical and critical discourse about the Chinese diasporas in the Caribbean and proposes a textual and visual archive selecting contemporary texts that signal a changing paradigm in postcolonial literature at the turn of the twenty first century Whereas historically Chinese minorities had been erased or presented as ultimate Others contemporary texts mobilize Chinese characters and their stories strategically to propose alternative configurations of community and belonging grounded in affective structures and contest the colonality of national imaginaries

Postcolonial Translocations Marga Munkelt, Markus Schmitz, Mark Stein, Silke Stroh, 2013

which postcolonial cultural articulations develop and the sites at which they are received have undergone profound transformations within the last decades This book traces the accelerating emergence of cultural crossovers and overlaps in a global perspective and through a variety of disciplinary approaches It starts from the premise that after the spatial turn human action and cultural representations can no longer be grasped as firmly located in or clearly demarcated by territorial entities The collection of essays investigates postcolonial articulations of various genres and media in their spatiality and locatedness while envisaging acts of location as dynamic cultural processes It explores the ways in which critical spatial thinking can be made Productive Testing the uses and limitations of translocation as an open exploratory model for a critically spatialized postcolonial studies it covers a wide range of cultural expressions from the anglophone world and beyond literature film TV photography and other forms of visual art philosophy historical memory and tourism The extensive introductory chapter charts various facets of spatial thinking from a variety of disciplines and critically discusses their implications for postcolonial studies The Contributors essays range from theoretical interventions into the critical routines of postcolonial criticism to case studies of specific cultural texts objects and events reflecting temporal and spatial material and intellectual physical and spiritual mobility What emerges is a fascinating survey of the multiple directions postcolonial translocations can take in the future This book is aimed at students and scholars of postcolonial literary and cultural studies diaspora studies migration studies transnational studies globalisation studies critical space studies urban studies film studies media studies art history philosophy history and anthropology Contributors Diana Brydon Lars Eckstein Paloma Fresno Calleja Lucia Kr mer Gesa Mackenthun Thomas Martinek Sandra Meyer Therese M Meyer Marga Munkelt Lynda Ng Claudia Perner Katharina Rennhak Gundo Rial y Costas Markus Schmitz Mark Stein Silke Stroh Kathy Ann Tan Petra Tournay Theodotou Daria Tunca Jessica Voges Roland Walter Dirk Wiemann We Got Soul, We Can Heal Phyllis

Jeffers-Coly, 2022-04-13 Poet Alice Walker has described culture as something in which one should thrive further that healing means putting the heart courage and energy back into one s self within one s own culture Similarly the yes yes ya ll phrase used by classic 1990 s era hip hop DJs and artists evokes the passion in Black American culture Written with that same celebratory spirit and using the idea of culture and SOUL synonymously this book explores of the ways in which integrating SOUL culture with contemplative practices can foster healing and restoration expanding our understanding of leadership and community interaction and impact With years of experience in higher education and as a mentor and teacher living in Senegal the author stresses the importance of celebrating Black cultures including the role of ancestry community interdependence elder mentors and institutions such as HBCUs Autoethnography and Feminist Theory at the Water's Edge Sonja Boon, Lesley Butler, Daze Jefferies, 2018-05-31 This book takes an intimate collaborative interdisciplinary autoethnographic approach that both emphasizes the authors entangled relationships with the more than human and understands the land and sea scapes of Newfoundland as integral to their thinking theorizing and writing The authors draw

Dead Woman Pickney Yvonne Shorter Brown, 2022-04-01 Dead Woman Pickney chronicles Yvonne Shorter Brown's life growing up in Jamaica between 1943 and 1965 and teaching in Canada from 1969 Told with stridency and humour the stories include both personal experience and history Taking up the haunting memories of childhood along with persistent racial marginalization of Black people both globally and in Canada the author sets out to construct a narrative that at once explains her own origins in the former slave society of Jamaica and traces the outsider status of Africa and its peoples The author's quest to understand the absence of her mother and her mother's people from her life is at the heart of the narrative The author struggles through life to discover the identity of her mother in the face of silence from her father's brutal family In this updated edition she adds a coda finding mother constructed from archives genealogy letters and journals Initially published in 2010 this second edition includes expanded text and a foreword by Sonja Boon author of What the Oceans Remember

Decolonising Political Modernity Claire Sutherland, 2025-07-15 This book applies a decolonial perspective to key categories of colonial modernity such as racism and nationalism explores oceanic thinking as an alternative and proposes a UK museum of colonial modernity based on a critique of several existing European museums It analyses historical and contemporary manifestations of racism and nationalism particularly in British society Drawing on the concept of colonial modernity it traces the origins of racism to the colonial expansion and exploitation that began in the fifteenth century and continues to shape the world today The book is distinctive in its interdisciplinary approach engaging with history politics and museum studies It is also innovative in its comparative analysis of selected French Dutch and Belgian museum exhibits using a decolonial lens The book sets out a nuanced account of the complexity of representing race ethnonationalism and colonial modernity in a museum context using oceanic thinking to present alternative visions of belonging

Precarious Flânerie and the Ethics of the Self in Contemporary Anglophone Fiction Eva Ries, 2022-06-21 Even though the literary trope of the flâneur has been proclaimed dead on several occasions it still proves particularly lively in contemporary Anglophone fiction This study investigates how flânerie takes a belated ethical turn in its more recent manifestations by negotiating models of ethical subjectivity Drawing on Michel Foucault's writings on the aesthetics of existence as well as Judith Butler's notion of precariousness as conditio humana it establishes a link between post-sovereign models of subject formation and a paradoxical constellation of flânerie which surfaces most prominently in the work of Walter Benjamin By means of detailed readings of Ian McEwan's Saturday Siri Hustvedt's The Blindfold Teju Cole's Open City Dionne Brand's What We All Long

For and Robin Robertson's The Long Take Or a Way to Lose More Slowly this book traces how the ambivalence of fl nerie and its textual representation produces ethical norms while at the same time propagating the value of difference by means of disrupting societal norms of sameness Precarious Fl nerie and the Ethics of the Self in Contemporary Anglophone Fiction thus shows that the fl nerie text becomes a medium of ethical critique in post postmodern times Lorna Simpson:

Source Notes Lauren Rosati, 2025-05-19 This revelatory first look at the paintings of Lorna Simpson b 1960 an artist who has worked primarily as a photographer for much of her career examines this significant new development in her practice over the last decade Simpson's recent works midway between photography and painting advance her incisive explorations of gender race and history through bodies that emerge and disappear peering from inky surfaces or dissolving into landscapes of melting ice Her paintings draw on documentary photographs and images from vintage Ebony and Jet magazines combining screen printed collages of found images with washes of colorful ink on fiberglass wood or clayboard The texts in this volume explore how Simpson's fascination with time memory and the indeterminacy of representation propels her experiments in works that are both figurative and abstract portraits and landscapes paintings and photographs Dear Science and Other Stories Katherine McKittrick, 2020-12-14 In Dear Science and Other Stories Katherine McKittrick presents a creative and rigorous study of black and anticolonial methodologies Drawing on black studies studies of race cultural geography and black feminism as well as a mix of methods citational practices and theoretical frameworks she positions black storytelling and stories as strategies of invention and collaboration She analyzes a number of texts from intellectuals and artists ranging from Sylvia Wynter to the electronica band Drexciya to explore how narratives of imprecision and relationality interrupt knowledge systems that seek to observe index know and discipline blackness Throughout McKittrick offers curiosity wonder citations numbers playlists friendship poetry inquiry song grooves and anticolonial chronologies as interdisciplinary codes that entwine with the academic form Suggesting that black life and black livingness are in themselves rebellious methodologies McKittrick imagines without totally disclosing the ways in which black intellectuals invent ways of living outside prevailing knowledge systems Against a Sharp White Background Brigitte Fielder, Jonathan Senchyne, 2019-05-14 The work of black writers editors publishers and librarians is deeply embedded in the history of American print culture from slave narratives to digital databases While the printed word can seem democratizing it remains that the infrastructures of print and digital culture can be as limiting as they are enabling Contributors to this volume explore the relationship between expression and such frameworks analyzing how different mediums library catalogs and search engines shape the production and reception of written and visual culture Topics include antebellum literature the Harlem Renaissance the Black Arts Movement post Black art the role of black librarians and how present day technologies aid or hinder the discoverability of work by African Americans Against a Sharp White Background covers elements of production circulation and reception of African American writing across a range of genres and contexts This collection challenges mainstream book history and print culture to understand that race and racialization are inseparable from the study of texts and their technologies

Rethinking Identities Across Boundaries Claudia Capancioni, Mariaconcetta Costantini, Mara Mattosco, 2023-11-22 This collection of essays aims to widen the current critique on borders by examining their entanglements with constructions of identity and disciplinary categories In particular it calls into question established models of gender notions of narrative genres and typological genera of borders in today's literary artistic philosophical and socio political discourse The chapters interrogate boundaries and boundary crossing not only in terms of geographical frontiers and the physical acts of trespassing but also as discursive constructs that police crossing subjects as gendered subjects on the one hand and identify artistic genres and academic disciplines as fixed sealed in ways of understanding the world on the other Taking inspiration from the multiple meanings of the Italian word genere which stands for gender genre and typology genus simultaneously the volume reflects on the gendered narrative and typological nature of borders and border imagery and on the significance and potentialities of crossover phenomena taking place in borderlands in the fields of arts literature anthropology sociology and philosophy
