A House Of Prayer For All Peoples Congregations Building Multiracial Community:

A House of Prayer for All Peoples Sheryl A. Kujawa-Holbrook, 2002-12-31 Contrary to the oft repeated truism there are churches in America where Sunday is not the most segregated day of the week as Sheryl Kujawa Holbrook convincingly demonstrates in her compelling exploration of congregations tackling racial justice issues Yet the truism continues to haunt many congregations and Kujawa Holbrook reveals through story and thoughtful analysis what it means to create and live out multiracial community Focusing on six congregations from different denominations geographical regions and settings the author shows us the joys and struggles in their intentional pursuits of a more diverse and just community The stories in A House of Prayer for All Peoples will inspire leaders to explore their congregation's history study their community's demographics and most of all search their souls for ways they can develop and celebrate the diversity in their midst The book is capped by an extensive annotated resource list for readers who want to explore the topic further Teaching for a

Multifaith World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2017-05-05 When religious diversity is our reality radical hospitality to people of other faiths is not a luxury but a necessity More than necessary for our survival radical hospitality to religious diversity is necessary if we are to thrive as a global society By no means does the practice of hospitality in a multifaith world require that we be oblivious of our differences On the contrary it demands a respectful embrace of our differences because that's who we are Neither does radical hospitality require that we water down our commitment because faithfulness and openness are not contradictory We must be able to say with burning passion that we are open to the claims of other faiths because we are faithful to our religious heritage The essays in this book do not offer simply theological exhortations they offer specific ways of how we can become religiously competent citizens in a multifaith world Let's take the bold steps of radical openness with this book on our side Worship Across the Racial Divide Gerardo Marti, 2017-12-15 Many scholars and church leaders believe that music and worship style are essential in stimulating diversity in congregations Gerardo Marti draws on interviews with more than 170 congregational leaders and parishioners as well as his experiences participating in worship services in a wide variety of Protestant multiracial Southern Californian churches to present this insightful study of the role of music in creating congregational diversity Worship across the Racial Divide offers a surprising conclusion that there is no single style of worship or music that determines the likelihood of achieving a multiracial church Far more important are the complex of practices of the worshipping community in the production and absorption of music Multiracial churches successfully diversify by stimulating unobtrusive means of interracial and interethnic relations in fact preparation for music apart from worship gatherings proves to be just as important as its performance during services Marti shows that aside from and even in spite of the varying beliefs of attendees and church leaders diversity happens because music and worship create practical spaces where cross racial bonds are formed This groundbreaking book sheds light on how race affects worship in multiracial churches It will allow a new understanding of the dynamics of such churches and provide crucial aid to church leaders for avoiding the pitfalls that inadvertently widen the racial divide Seeing God in Each Other Sheryl Kujawa-Holbrook, 2006-03-01 As neighborhoods cities and churches become gathering places for people from an astonishing variety of cultures traditions races and ethnicities racism us a profoundly spiritual concern and it s more important than ever for Christians to see the face of God in one another This book takes a look at just what that means and how to help make it happen Seeing God in Each Other is rooted in an abiding hope that congregations are one of the few places where people can work together for positive human change This book addresses that need with a selection of essays by respected Anglicans including Frederick Borsch Michael Battle and Steven Charleston Also included are practical suggestions on what parishes can do to support the vision of an anti racist church as well as a leader guide useful for parish programs God Beyond Borders Sheryl A. Kujawa-Holbrook, 2014-03-17 Based on ten years of research God Beyond Borders is a comprehensive study of interreligious learning in faith communities The United States is one of the most a diverse countries of the world Kujawa Holbrook details the many practices of interreligious learning in faith communities through interreligious encounters religious education shared sacred space shared prayer and compassionate action The book also surveys the field of interreligious learning and investigates some of the more common intentionally interreligious communities families clergy groups chaplaincies and community organizations Kujawa Holbrook combines theory and praxis to make a case for the importance of interreligious learning in all religious organizations The Power of Stories Rev. Jacqueline J. Lewis, 2010-09-01 Most congregational leaders find it difficult to resist the dominant cultural expectation that different cultural and ethnic groups should stick to themselves especially when it comes to church But some congregational leaders have learned the secrets of breaking out of these expectations to bring together communities of faith that model God s radical inclusiveness What makes the difference Jacqui Lewis explains that it resides in the stories these leaders tell stories about who they themselves are and what the communities they lead are about These leaders are able to embrace the multiple complex stories within these diverse communities hearing in the many voices a particular echo of the living voice of the gospel In this book Lewis shares with the reader examples of congregational leaders who have successfully overcome the challenges of leading multicultural congregations and the lessons that can be learned from them Jacqueline J Lewis is Senior Minister for Vision Worship and the Arts at Middle Collegiate Church in New York From Times Square to Timbuktu Wesley Granberg-Michaelson, 2013-08-18 In the last century amazingly world Christianity s center of gravity has effectively moved from Europe to a point near Timbuktu in Africa Never in the history of Christianity has there been such a rapid and dramatic shift in where Christians are located in the world Wesley Granberg Michaelson explores the consequences of this shift for congregations in North America specifically for the efforts to build Christian unity in the face of new and challenging divisions Centers of religious power money and theological capital remain entrenched in the global secularized North while the Christian majority thrives and rapidly grows in the global South World Christianity s most decisive twenty first century challenge Granberg Michaelson argues is to build meaningful bridges between faithful churches in the global North and the spiritually exuberant churches of the global South Watch the trailer

Charismatic Leadership and Missional Change
Craig S. Hendrickson, 2020-03-16 Too often the solution sought by many struggling churches is to make the homerun hire to find the charismatic leader who will take them to the promised land of growth and vibrant ministry While this strategy occasionally pays off it has overwhelmingly failed as seen in the hundreds of churches across the United States that close their doors annually Is it possible that there is another way forward for those seeking to lead local congregations into missionally vibrant ministry especially those located in multiethnic urban areas In Charismatic Leadership and Missional Change one church's journey from a struggling primarily Anglo congregation of less than 100 members to becoming a missionally vibrant multiethnic church of more than 700 attendees with no clear ethnic majority documented The charismatic leadership style that drove this change is discussed and critiqued as well as the adaptive challenges that have arisen in the church because of it An alternative approach interpretive leadership is proposed as a different pathway forward in response to these challenges The result the author suggests will be to empower the diverse everyday people of God to participate in God's mission in exciting and surprising new ways

People of the Dream Michael O. Emerson, 2010-12-16 It is sometimes said that the most segregated time of the week in the United States is Sunday morning Even as workplaces and public institutions such as the military have become racially integrated racial separation in Christian religious congregations is the norm And yet some congregations remain stubbornly racially mixed People of the Dream is the most complete study of this phenomenon ever undertaken Author Michael Emerson explores such questions as how do racially mixed congregations come together How are they sustained Who attends them how did they get there and what are their experiences Engagingly written the book enters the worlds of these congregations through national surveys and in depth studies of those attending racially mixed churches Data for the book was collected over seven years by the author and his research team It includes more than 2 500 telephone interviews hundreds of written surveys and extensive visits to mixed race congregations throughout the United States People of the Dream argues that multiracial congregations are bridge organizations that gather and facilitate cross racial friendships disproportionately housing people who have substantially more racially diverse social networks than do other Americans The book concludes that multiracial congregations and the people in them may be harbingers of racial change to come in the United States

Practicing Care in Rural Congregations and Communities
Jeanne Hoeft, L. Shannon Jung, Joretta Marshall, L. Shannon Jung, 2013-07-01 Pastoral care in rural communities is different from care in other locales Despite these differences rural churches and communities also hold a particular wisdom from which the rest of the church might benefit Small towns and rural areas have particular challenges and in seeking to live out the Christian life in the midst of those local churches have unique and useful insights into what it means to care for one another

Radical Welcome Stephanie Spellers, 2006-08-01 Radical Welcome Embracing God The Other and the Spirit of

Transformation is at once a theological inspirational and practical guide for congregations that want to move beyond diversity and inclusion to present a vision for the church of the future one where the transforming gifts voices and power of marginalized cultures and groups bring new life to the mainline church The book is based on two years of work and over 200 interviews with people in congregations around the United States in urban suburban and rural settings in the Northeast South Midwest West and Pacific Northwest asking the question How do we face our fears and welcome transformation in order to become God's radically welcoming people Each chapter introduces a particular congregation and the challenges it faced and lays out the theological underpinnings of tackling fears head on and embracing change as a welcome part of community life Additional resources and study guide available for free download at ChurchPublishing.org

Religion in Multicultural Education Farideh Salili, Rumjahn Hoosain, 2006-05-01 The National Association for Multicultural Education in Washington D C listed a number of issues that the school curriculum should address with reference to multicultural education including racism sexism classism linguisticism ablism ageism heterosexism and religious intolerance It is noteworthy that of all these issues religion is about the only one that throughout history people are willing to die for although whether what is at issue is really religion or other things such as territory is another matter It is also interesting that all the others have isms in their names but religious issues are characterized by intolerance Perhaps we should try to understand this intolerance and look at what steps might help to alleviate it However while intolerance might seem a simple thing understanding what is behind it and how it plays such a crucial role in religion requires what we refer to in the Introduction chapter as a multifaceted approach at multiple levels It is not enough just to try to dispel stereotypes of followers of other religions or to point out commonalities in world religions We should for example try to understand and appreciate how adherents of other religions try to answer questions regarding their adaptation to the contemporary environment It is through understanding how different religions coexist side by side at various levels that we truly come to learn about religion in multicultural education www.congregationalresources.org

Richard Bass, 2004-12-30 An ever increasing number of resources compete for the attention of congregational leaders With a seemingly endless number of choices finding the best resource on a particular topic for a specific congregation is an often daunting challenge www.congregationalresources.org is an invaluable companion to the groundbreaking online version of Alban Institute's and Indianapolis Center for Congregation's jointly researched and produced Congregational Resource Guide launched in 2001 and accessed by thousands of seekers each week The book conveniently and cogently puts the rich array of important resources into context by examining in depth the key books organizations Web sites and people that will help leaders gain an understanding of important issues facing their congregations The book features ten overviews of important topics by widely recognized experts in their fields including Amy Sherman on Community Ministry Tom Fischer on Congregational Health Lee Ramsey on Preaching Paul Chaffee on Leadership John Janka on Evaluation and Jean Trumbauer on Lay Ministry Each essay is accompanied by an annotated list of selected resources for researching further information Helpful guides for using these valuable resources to promote and encourage congregational understanding and transformation are also included Born of Water, Born of Spirit Sheryl A. Kujawa-Holbrook, 2010-04-07 What does the church look like if we take the ministry of the baptized the priesthood of all believers seriously How are congregations transformed when the church supports and affirms the ministry of all the baptized particularly in small congregations without the means to hire a seminary trained pastor And what ecclesial structures and educational models need to emerge in the next decades to assist these small congregations in the recovery of baptismal living and their own vitality Sheryl Kujawa Holbrook and Fredrica Harris Thompsett explore these questions as well as the variety of ways people in small congregations many with no more than fifty members are living out their baptism and the impact their actions are having on their congregations judicatories and communities and the institutions that educate clergy The authors argue that just because a community cannot pay a seminary trained minister a growing problem in remote regions it does not mean that there is no ministry there It does mean that we need to look at ministry and the church in a more expansive way The stories of the congregations revealed in this book serve to inspire us about what is possible when we live intentionally as the reconciling presence of the body of Christ in the world They also educate us about what will be needed in the years to come to lift up still more small congregations for their work in the larger community The Church Enslaved Tony Campolo, Anthony Campolo, Michael Battle, 2005 Two of the most vocal activists on racial issues in the church here seek nothing less than a conversion of American Christianity Campolo and Battle expose the sad history and present realities of racism in the churches and then lift up a vision of a church and society without racism To achieve reconciliation among Christians they argue both black and white churches need to acknowledge and overcome substantial problems in their traditions Campolo and Battle then directly challenge Christians to a deeper spirituality enabling them to resume leadership in overcoming and redressing America's legacy of racial division The Living Church, 1953 Congressional Record United States. Congress, 2017-10 Encyclopedia of Christian Education George Thomas Kurian, Mark A. Lamport, 2015-05-07 Christianity regards teaching as one of the most foundational and critically sustaining ministries of the Church As a result Christian education remains one of the largest and oldest continuously functioning educational systems in the world comprising both formal day schools and higher education institutions as well as informal church study groups and parachurch ministries in more than 140 countries In The Encyclopedia of Christian Education contributors explore the many facets of Christian education in terms of its impact on curriculum literacy teacher training outcomes and professional standards This encyclopedia is the first reference work devoted exclusively to chronicling the unique history of Christian education across the globe illustrating how Christian educators pioneered such educational institutions and reforms as universal literacy home schooling Sunday schools women's education graded schools compulsory education of the deaf and blind and kindergarten With an editorial advisory board of more than 30 distinguished scholars and five consulting editors

Kater, 2025-09-04 This book offers a global perspective on how Anglican ministry evolved throughout a century marked by radical upheavals and dramatic changes in theological social and political perspectives That history begins with the end of the Victorian era when Anglicanism had spread around the world but was deeply enmeshed with colonialism and it was assumed that it was shaped and defined by its North Atlantic history Kater explores how the Anglican Way became rooted in widely different contexts and identifies the many pressures and movements that challenged that history including two world wars a global Depression anti colonialism and the struggles against the many forms of oppression and discrimination that marked the century This book is the story of how Anglican ministry has been broadened and deepened by its constantly growing diversity even as that diversity has brought new challenges
