R. Kets de Vries,2014-06-16 Everything about hunting leads inexorably to death the challenge for all hunters is how to justify the kill But the hunter's emotional response to the kill is immensely complex Hunters respect and even love the animals they kill Talking to the Shaman Within Musings on Hunting addresses this paradox head on dissecting the emotional and psychological response of the hunter to his quarry and more broadly his surroundings The climax of the chase brings the hunter closer to realizing the nature intelligence that modern civilization has suppressed Through his investigation of the instinct that lies beneath the urge to hunt author Manfred F R Kets de Vries reveals something basic and fundamental about human behavior The hunting instinct is hardwired into the human psyche and for all our sophistication and urbanization it exerts a powerful influence over the way we conduct our lives even to this day Talking to the Shaman Within draws on depictions of hunting in art and literature throughout the ages exploring changing trends in human social norms with frequent reference to literature art film television and music It unites a dispassionate academic hypothesis with an engaging and colourful narrative into which Kets de Vries weaves stories from his own life as both an academic and a hunter Love of Labs Todd R. Sam Venable who has written about the woods and waters of his native state for the past twenty five years For Venable the outdoor world is meant to be enjoyed Whether he is casting popping bugs to bluegills during the frenzy of a willow fly hatch lying motionless on his back in muddy corn stubble as mallards warily circle his decoys savoring the sounds and scents of a moonlit summer night when smallmouth bass are on the prowl or issuing plaintive love calls to an amorous wild turkey gobbler the author s fascination with outdoor recreation never diminishes And as the reader quickly finds this fascination is contagious Along with the lightheartedness and rich humor in these pages there is an unmistakable love of the land and a deep concern for the endangered bond between nature and humankind Like the trout in the stream or the deer in the forest Venable suggests we are as much a product of the land as any living creature And what affects one for better or worse ultimately affects all
