numerous submissions The papers accepted for presentation thoroughly cover the entire field of internationalization design and global development and address the following major topics Cultural and cross cultural design culture and usability design emotion trust and aesthetics cultural issues in business and industry culture communication and society This Impermanent Earth Douglas Carlson, Soham Patel, 2021-09 With its thirty three essays This Impermanent Earth charts the course of the American literary response to the twentieth century s accumulation of environmental deprivations Arranged chronologically from 1974 to the present the works have been culled from The Georgia Review long considered an important venue for nonfiction among literary magazines published in the United States The essays range in subject matter from twentieth century examples of what was then called nature writing through writing after 2000 that gradually redefines the environment in increasingly human terms to a more inclusive expansion that considers all human surroundings as material for environmental inquiry Likewise the approaches range from formal essays to prose works that reflect the movement toward innovation and experimentation The collection builds as it progresses later essays grow from earlier ones This Impermanent Earth is more than a historical survey of a literary form however The Georgia Review s talented writers and its longtime commitment to the art of editorial practice have produced a collection that is as one reviewer put it incredibly moving varied and inspiring It is a book that will be as at home in the reading room as in the classroom Who Gets to Go Back-To-the-Land? Valerie Padilla Carroll, 2022-12 In Who Gets to Go Back to the Land Valerie Padilla Carroll examines a variety of media from the last century that proselytized self sufficiency as a solution to the economic instability environmental destruction and perceived disintegration of modern America In the early twentieth century books already advocated an escape for the urban white collar male The suggestion became more practical during the Great Depression and magazines pushed self sufficiency lifestyles By the 1970s the idea was reborn in newsletters and other media as a radical response to a damaged world allowing activists to promote the simple life as environmental gender and queer justice At the century s end a great variety of media promoted self sufficiency as the solution to a different set of problems from survival at the millennium to wanderlust of millennials Nevertheless these utopian narratives are written overwhelmingly for a particular audience one that is white male and white collar Padilla Carroll s archival research of the books newspapers magazines newsletters websites blogs and videos promoting the life of the agrarian smallholder illuminates how embedded race class gender and heteronormative dogmas in these texts reinforce dominant power ideologies and ignore the experiences of marginalized people Still Padilla Carroll also highlights how those left out have continued to demand inclusion by telling their own stories of self sufficiency rewriting and reimagining the movement to be collaborative inclusive and rooted in both human and ecological justice A Man Apart Peter Forbes, Helen Whybrow, 2015-02-03 A story of friendship encouragement and the quest to design a better world A Man Apart is the story part family memoir and part biography of Peter Forbes and Helen Whybrow s longtime friendship with Bill Coperthwaite A Handmade Life whose unusual life and fierce ideals helped them examine and understand their own Coperthwaite inspired many by living close to nature and in opposition to contemporary society and was often compared to Henry David Thoreau Much like Helen and Scott Nearing who were his friends and mentors Coperthwaite led a 55 year long experiment in living on a remote stretch of Maine coast There he created a homestead of wooden multistoried yurts a form of architecture for which he was known around the world Coperthwaite also embodied a philosophy that he called democratic living which was about empowering all people to have agency over their lives in order to create a better community The central question of Coperthwaite s life was How can I live according to what I believe In this intimate and honest account framed by Coperthwaite s sudden death and brought alive through the month long adventure of building with him what would turn out to be his last yurt Forbes and Whybrow explore the timeless lessons of Coperthwaite s experiment in intentional living and self reliance They also reveal an important story about the power and complexities of mentorship the opening of one s life to someone else to learn together and carrying on in that person s physical absence While mourning Coperthwaite s death and coming to understand the real meaning of his life and how it endures through their own Forbes and Whybrow craft a story that reveals why it s important to seek direct experience to be drawn to beauty and simplicity to create rather than critique and to encourage others
