Routledge Handbook of Archaeology and Globalization Tamar Hodos, 2016-11-18 This unique collection applies globalization concepts to the discipline of archaeology using a wide range of global case studies from a group of international specialists The volume spans from as early as 10 000 cal BP to the modern era analysing the relationship between material culture complex connectivities between communities and groups and cultural change Each contributor considers globalization ideas explicitly to explore the socio cultural connectivities of the past In considering social practices shared between different historic groups and also the expression of their respective identities the papers in this volume illustrate the potential of globalization thinking to bridge the local and global in material culture analysis The Routledge Handbook of Archaeology and Globalization is the first such volume to take a world archaeology approach on a multi period basis in order to bring together the scope of evidence for the significance of material culture in the processes of globalization This work thus also provides a means to understand how material culture can be used to assess the impact of global engagement in our contemporary world As such it will appeal to archaeologists and historians as well as social science researchers interested in the origins of globalization

The Boundless Sea David Abulafia,2019 A sweeping history of the world through its oceans and seas and their interconnections Rethinking South China Sea Disputes Katherine Tseng,2016-12-08 The proposed book draws on the on going South China Sea dispute and the multifaceted challenges wrought by the South China Sea issue that requires an inter disciplinary perspective It employs legal analytical methods to emphasize the nuances of the role and interpretation of international law and treaties by China in different periods while taking into account policy and strategic concerns which generally cast great sways in decision making The re introduction of interdisciplinary concerns straddling law and history illustrates that the historical dimension which has long been neglected is an emerging concern that poses looming dangers that may unexpectedly radicalize the friction Contributing to debunking the mystique wrought by confrontations between a historical and a law dominated perspective these perspectives are supported by a more nuanced analytical framework featuring theoretical concerns with a tinge of practicality The South China Sea Dispute aims to unveil a nuanced evolution of the issue with a confluence of inter temporal law policy and maritime practices in the South China Sea

Legal Protection of Intangible Cultural Heritage Diyana Sulaiman,2024-05-17 The book examines whether the protection of Intangible Cultural Heritage ICH by Indonesia and Malaysia upheld the interests of the various communities from which the cultural heritage originates and whether the laws recognise that cultural heritage is often shared with other states and communities The legal classifications of various indigenous communities and the interpretations of indigeneity in the two countries have presented problems in the context of ICH protection The state is regarded as holding the intellectual property rights for some forms of ICH and this also posed problems in the implementation of the laws to protect the communities ICH This book employs a community based perspective and adopts a multidisciplinary approach in exploring questions of the rights to and benefits of heritage This book will be useful for students academics and policy makers with an interest in international law heritage and intellectual property rights

Recentring Southeast Asia Himanshu Prabha Ray, 2024-11-19 This book assesses the impact of European colonization in the late 19th and early 20th century in restructuring the shared past of India and Southeast Asia It provides case studies that transcend colonial constructs and adopt newer approaches to understanding the shared past The authors explore these developments through the lens of political figures like Jawaharlal Nehru 1889 1964 and re examine themes such as the Greater India Society 1926 1959 established in Calcutta and the role of Buddhism in post World War II connections as the repatriation of the mortal remains of Japanese soldiers killed in Burma Myanmar acquired urgency Drawing on a diverse range of sources including archaeology Buddhist texts the afterlives of the Hindu temples maritime networks and inscriptions from Vietnam and central India the book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of history Buddhism archaeology heritage studies cultural studies and political history as well as South and Southeast Asian history Brunei - History, Islam, Society and Contemporary Issues Ooi Keat Gin, 2015-12-14 Brunei although a relatively small state is disproportionately important on account of its rich resource base In addition in recent years the country has endeavoured to play a greater role in regional affairs especially through ASEAN holding the chair of the organisation in 2013 and also beyond the region fostering diplomatic political economic and educational ties with many nations This book presents much new research and new thinking on a wide range of issues concerning Brunei largely drawn from Bruneian academics Subjects covered include Brunei s rich history the sultanate formerly had much more extensive territories and was a key player in regional affairs the country s economy politics society and ethnicities and resource issues and international relations Esoteric Buddhism in Mediaeval Maritime Asia Andrea Acri, 2016-09-05 This volume advocates a trans regional and maritime focused approach to studying the genesis development and circulation of Esoteric or Tantric Buddhism across Maritime Asia from the seventh to the thirteenth centuries ce The book lays emphasis on the mobile networks of human agents Masters textual sources Texts and images Icons through which Esoteric Buddhist traditions spread Capitalising on recent research and making use of both disciplinary and area focused perspectives this book highlights the role played by Esoteric Buddhist maritime networks in shaping intra Asian connectivity In doing so it reveals the limits of a historiography that is premised on land based transmission of Buddhism from a South Asian homeland and advances an alternative historical narrative that overturns the popular perception regarding Southeast Asia as a periphery that passively received overseas influences Thus a strong point is made for the appreciation of the region as both a crossroads and rightful terminus of Buddhist cults and for the re evaluation of the creative and transformative force of Southeast Asian agents in the transmission of Esoteric Buddhism across mediaeval Asia Early Navigation in the Asia-Pacific Region Chunming Wu, 2016-09-06 This book presents the proceedings of the international academic workshop on Early Navigation in the Asia Pacific Region A Maritime Archaeological Perspective held from June 21 23 2013 at Harvard University campus and organized by Harvard Yenching Institute It includes high quality papers focusing on the historical shipwrecks investigated by underwater archaeologists from Eastern Asian including southern China Vietnam Thailand the Philippines Indonesia and Malaysia and North America including California Oregon and Washington in the US as well as Mexico These investigations reveal the history of the early pan Pacific navigation and maritime globalization from the 16th to the 18th century covering the background and formation concept and practice as well as the results and influence of this early globalization and global economy emphasizing the maritime archaeological evidence of Spanish exploration of transportation between East Asia and North America The book provides an excellent opportunity for maritime archaeologists from both sides of the Pacific to share the latest findings and new developments in maritime archaeological exploration It discusses 16 18th century nautical trade and maritime cultural history and provides a comprehensive overview of research work in the Asia Pacific region

Imagined Geographies Geoffrey C. Gunn, 2021-09-03 Imagined Geographies is a pioneering work in the study of history and geography of the pre 1800 world In this book Gunn argues that different regions astride the maritime silk roads were not only interconnected but can also be construed as imagined geographies Taking a grand civilizational perspective five such geographic imaginaries are examined across respective chapters namely Indian Arabic Chinese Japanese and European including an imagined Great South Land Drawing upon an array of marine and other archaeological examples the author offers compelling evidence of the intertwining of political cultural and economic regions across the sea silk roads from ancient times until the seventeenth century Through a thorough analysis of these five geographic imaginaries the author sets aside purely national history and looks at the maritime realm from a broader spatial perspective He challenges the Eurocentric concept of center and periphery and establishes a revisionist view on a decentered world regional history This book will definitely interest history lovers from all around the world who wants to know more about how their forebears viewed their respective region and how their region fits into world history with local uniqueness Gunn takes large themes and makes them understandable He is not afraid to make the grand statement and to look at the sweep of history all in one arc I admire that greatly this is not history for the faint of heart But it is history well done and history that can show the forest from the trees Eric Tagliacozzo John Stambaugh Professor of History Cornell University This is one of the most ambitious and insightful books that I have read on pre Modern maritime Asia The author offers fascinating perspectives on how this vast region was imagined charted and experienced over many centuries That requires mastery of an immense range of scholarship and primary sources His aim is to knit this watery world together into a conceptual whole This mission is accomplished with style and discipline Andrew R Wilson John A van Beuren Chair of Asia Pacific Studies U S Naval War period ca 400 BCE 200 CE as a network based process showing how the geography of early interregional contacts south of the Yangzi River informed the directions of Sinitic state expansion Drawing from an extensive collection of sources including transmitted textual records archaeological evidence excavated legal manuscripts and archival documents from Liye this book demonstrates the breadth of human and material resources available to the empire builders of an early imperial network throughout southern East Asia from institutions and infrastructures to the relationships that facilitated circulation This network is shown to have been essential to the consolidation of Sinitic imperial rule in the sub tropical zone south of the Yangzi against formidable environmental epidemiological and logistical odds This is also the first study to explore how the interplay between an imperial network and alternative frameworks of long distance interaction in ancient East Asia shaped the political economic trajectory of the Sinitic world and its involvement in Eurasian globalization Contributing to debates around imperial state formation the applicability of world system models and the comparative study of empires The Imperial Network in Ancient China will be of significant interest to students and scholars of East Asian studies archaeology and history

Buddhist-Inflected Sovereignties across the Indian Ocean Anne M. Blackburn, 2024-01-31 Buddhist Inflected Sovereignties across the Indian Ocean draws attention to the varied historically contingent and sometimes competing arguments for and about sovereignty that operated in the Pali arena during the first half of the second millennium AD It was a time of expanding interaction within the Indian Ocean just prior to Portuguese colonial presence in Southern Asia Developing a linked series of case studies and examining territories now subsumed within the nation states of Sri Lanka Burma Myanmar and Thailand Blackburn examines sovereign arguments expressed textually as well as in the built environment by persons with an interest in the teachings and institutions associated with Gotama Buddha These cases show that no single model of Buddhist inflected sovereignty dominated the Pali arena during this time and that there was no stable vision of Buddhist kingship Rather over time there was an accrual of possible models and pathways for argumentation about how sovereigns could and should relate to buddha s sanna Taking inspiration from diverse sources transmitted through multiple forms and media arguments for and about sovereignty in the Pali arena were contested and rapidly changing As the Indian Ocean increasingly shaped the flow of people objects and ideas more peoples and territories participated in the Pali arena attracted by its intellectual and aesthetic resources Drawing on extensive scholarship and a wide range of multilingual source materials from premodern Sri Lanka Burma Thailand and Cambodia Anne M Blackburn develops innovative conclusions about the relationships between textuality sovereignty maritime connectivity and material culture in each of these areas The book contributes simultaneously to several fields of study the intellectual history of Southern Asia literary and historical scholarship on Buddhism and historical studies of the Indian Ocean By offering accessible yet in depth analysis Buddhist Inflected Sovereignties across the Indian Ocean connects research fields and introduces new interpretive possibilities for the study of sovereignty politics premodern textual cultures and Buddhism Handbook of Ancient
