Building Information Modeling in Pedagogy and Practice Anne K. Anderson, Kevin R. Miller, David E.

Gunderson, 2025-08-11 The adoption of building information modeling BIM in both pedagogy and practice has experienced significant growth in the past decade. As the use of BIM is being quantitatively and qualitatively shown to improve project outcomes, many educators and practitioners are still struggling with how to incorporate BIM into curriculum training and current and future projects. This book is a compilation of the best academic and research articles on the topic of BIM, providing a resource for both educators and practitioners for understanding issues regarding BIM. It covers BIM topics such as BIM Execution Planning, Collaboration, Visualization, Site Utilization Planning, Safety Estimating, Sequencing, Coordination, Clash Detections, Integrated Project Delivery, Legal considerations for BIM, Industry Uses of BIM, Sustainability, Facilities Management, Interoperability, Modular Construction, and Virtual Reality, and includes a new introduction and conclusion. Building Information Modeling in Pedagogy and Practice will be an invaluable resource for engaged academics and teaching practitioners interested in playing a key role in the future development of the building profession, as well as undergraduate and postgraduate students wishing to understand the importance of BIM. Most of the chapters in this book were originally published in the International Journal of Construction Education and Research. Building Science Abstracts Building Research Station (Great Britain), 1969 IBEA Conference 2011 Proceedings: Innovation and Integration - Science, Technology and Policy in the Built Environment Mahtab Akhavan Farshchi, 2012 Advances in Building Energy Research Mat Santamouris, 2012-05-23 Several high quality scientific journals are published in the area of building energy and indoor outdoor environment; however, one has been missing. Advances in Building Energy Research fills the gap. I recommend ABER to all technical libraries, research institutes, and universities. It should also be used by construction companies and those manufacturing building materials and building products. Professor Olli Seppänen, President of REHVA Federation of Heating and Air conditioning Associations. Advances in Building Energy Research is a unique index. It will be an inexhaustible resource for energy related sciences and a continuous inspiration for architects around the world. N. Fintikakis, Architect and Director of UIA ARES WP Architecture and Renewable Energy Sources. The collection of articles provides an encyclopaedic overview of the state of the art of the subject, and they are written clearly and concisely. This volume is a must for researchers and advanced students. Professor Edward Ng, Department of Architecture, The Chinese University of Hong Kong. This is a very valuable first volume of a new series, with each section written by leaders in their respective fields. Contributions cover a range of related topics and present evaluations of contemporary issues in building energy research that give the reader an immediate and clear insight. Dr. Adrian Pitts, Senior Lecturer in Energy Environment and Sustainability, University of Sheffield. Advances in Building Energy Research (ABER) offers state of the art information on the environmental science and performance of buildings, linking new technologies and methodologies with the latest research on systems simulations and standards As stringently reviewed as a journal but with the breadth of a book this annual volume brings together invited contributions from the foremost international experts on energy efficiency and environmental quality of buildings Spanning a broad range of technical subjects this is a must have reference on global developments in the field suitable for architects and building engineers environmental engineers industry professionals students teachers and researchers in building science technical libraries and laboratories This first volume covers double skin fa ades artificial intelligence in buildings indoor thermal comfort and the progress of the adaptive approach heat island research and the effect of urban microclimate the use of techniques such as high dynamic range imaging and satellite remote sensing and vital management and monitoring approaches such as post occupancy evaluation

The Empirical Validation of House Energy Rating (HER) Software for Lightweight Housing in Cool Temperate Climates Mark Andrew Dewsbury,2015-02-02 This book reports on the first empirical validation of AccuRate Australia s national benchmark software tool for house energy ratings The validation was conducted by the University of Tasmania in collaboration with Forest and Wood Products Australia the Australian Government the CSIRO and industry partners The study presented here describes the results of graphical and statistical analysis of variations observed between the measured and simulated data from three different test buildings in Launceston Tasmania. It shows that while the AccuRate software is well suited to modeling energy flows, there are discrepancies between the simulated and measured temperatures of the test buildings. Moreover, it highlights possible connections between the discrepancies in all zones and the outside air temperature, wind speed, global and diffuse solar radiation, and possibly the ground model. Beyond its contribution to further investigations into the ongoing improvement and calibration of the Australian NatHERS supported AccuRate software, this book also meticulously describes the methodology used in conducting the research, which is expected to pave the way for further studies of this type.

Research Paper FPL-RP, 1986      Fire Science and Technology 2015 Kazunori Harada, Ken Matsuyama, Keisuke Himoto, Yuji Nakamura, Kaoru Wakatsuki, 2016-10-04. This book focuses on topics in the entire spectrum of fire safety science, targeting research in fires, explosions, combustion science, heat transfer, fluid dynamics, risk analysis, structural engineering, and other subjects. The book contributes to a gain in advanced scientific knowledge and presents or advances new ideas in all topics in fire safety science. Two decades ago, the 1st Asia Oceania Symposium on Fire Science and Technology was held in Hefei, China. Since then, the Asia Oceania Symposia have grown in size and quality. This book, reflecting that growth, helps readers to understand fire safety technology design and methodology in diverse areas, including historical buildings, photovoltaic panels, batteries, and electric vehicles.

Outdoor Thermal Comfort in Urban Environment Kevin Ka-Lun Lau, Zheng Tan, Tobi Eniolu Morakinyo, Chao Ren, 2021-09-16. This book highlights the importance of outdoor thermal comfort for improving urban living quality in the context of urban planning and urban geometry design. It introduces readers to a range of assessment methods and applications of outdoor thermal comfort and addresses urban geometry and thermal environment at the neighbourhood scale using real world examples and parametric studies. In addition, the subjective evaluations by urban dwellers and numerical modelling tools introduced in this book provide not only a comprehensive assessment of outdoor thermal comfort but also an integrated approach to using thermal comfort indicators as a standard in high density cities. Given its scope, the book offers a valuable guide for urban climate researchers, urban planners and designers, and policymakers pursuing more liveable urban environments.

An Interdisciplinary Approach for Disaster Resilience and Sustainability Indrajit Pal, Jason von Meding, Sangam Shrestha, Iftekhar Ahmed, Thayaparan Gajendran, 2019-10-17. This book includes selected papers presented at the international expert forum on Mainstreaming Resilience and Disaster Risk Reduction in Education held at the Asian Institute of Technology, Thailand, on 1-2 December 2017. The journey towards disaster risk reduction and resilience requires the participation of a wide array of stakeholders ranging from academics to policymakers to disaster managers. Given the multifaceted and interdependent nature of disasters, disaster risk reduction and resilience require a multidisciplinary problem-solving approach and evidence-based techniques from the natural, social, engineering, and other relevant sciences.

Traditionally hazard and disaster related studies have been dominated by the engineering and social science fields In this regard the main purpose of this book is to capture the multidisciplinary and multisectoral nature of disaster risk reduction and to gather existing data research conceptual work and practical cases regarding risk reduction and its ties to sustainable development under a single umbrella Along with the sustainability aspect the book also links disaster risk reduction with development technology governance education and climate change and includes discussions on challenges solutions and best practices in the mainstreaming of disaster risk reduction
