Associations, Synagogues, and Congregations Philip A. Harland, 2003 Ephesus Galatia Troas and Pergamum are familiar names to readers of the New Testament But what made this region such fertile ground for early synagogues and congregations of those who followed Christ How did the earliest churches and synagogues organize themselves How did other voluntary associations operate within the Roman empire How did such organizations relate to the constraints of imperial religion These are some of the questions that Philip Harland addresses in this stimulating look at first century Roman Asia He surveys the various forms of guilds and associations in the eastern Roman empire Asia Minor is one of the primary regions of Paul's journeys described in Acts and it provided the context for several New Testament books especially the Pastoral Epistles 1 Peter and Revelation The author's fresh look at ancient inscriptions reveals new insights about the formation operation and functions of congregations and synagogues within the larger framework of voluntary associations in the Roman world

Lutz Doering, Andrew R. Krause, Hermut Löhr, 2020-12-14 The study of ancient Judaism has enjoyed a steep rise in interest and publications in recent decades although the focus has often been on the ideas and beliefs represented in ancient Jewish texts rather than on the daily lives and the material culture of Jews Judaeans and their communities The nascent institution of the synagogue formed an increasingly important venue for communal gathering and daily or weekly practice This collection of essays brings together a broad spectrum of new archaeological and textual data with various emergent theories and interpretative methods in order to address the need to understand the place of the synagogue in the daily and weekly procedures community frameworks and theological structures in which Judaeans Galileans and Jewish people in the Diaspora lived and gathered The interdisciplinary studies will be of great significance for anyone studying ancient Jewish belief practice and community formation

Waldner, 2020-12-16 Martyrs create space and time through the actions they take the fate they suffer the stories they prompt the cultural narratives against which they take place and the retelling of their tales in different places and contexts The title Desiring Martyrs is meant in two senses First it refers to protagonists and antagonists of the martyrdom narratives who as literary characters seek martyrs and the way they inscribe certain kinds of cultural and social desire Second it describes the later celebration of martyrs via narrative martyrdom acts monuments inscriptions martyria liturgical commemoration pilgrimage etc Here there is a cultural desire to tell or remember a particular kind of story about the past that serves particular communal interests and goals By applying the spatial turn to these ancient texts the volume seeks to advance a still nascent social geographical understanding of emergent Christian and Jewish martyrdom It explores how martyr narratives engage pre existing time space configurations to result in new appropriations of earlier traditions
