

This flowery lesson has students filling in daisy-shaped graphic organizers with story details. Your young readers will love improving their comprehension skills with this lesson's creative activities.

Learning Objectives

Students will be able to identify the main idea and details of simple texts.

Materials and preparation

- Chart paper
- Copies of a simple drawing of a daisy
- Markers
- Three short stories

Key terms

- main idea
- details

Introduction (15 minutes)

- Begin by telling your students that you are going to read them a story.
- Let them know while you are reading, you want them to think about the main idea of the story.
- Help your students understand what a main idea of a story is by reading a short passage from one of your stories.
- Ask the students to tell you in one sentence what the story was about. Tell them that the summary they're generating is the story's main idea.
- Talk about student answers and discuss how to pick out the main idea.
- Check for understanding before moving on. It may be necessary to try with another brief story to be sure students have a solid understand of finding the main idea.

Explicit Instruction/Teacher modeling (20 minutes)

- Take your chart paper and draw a large circle in the middle.
- At the top of the circle, write "Main Idea." This circle will be the center of the daisy graphic organizer you are creating for an anchor chart. Draw at least 4 petals. You will write the story details on the petals.
- Explain to the students that you will be reading another short story to them. This time, you will write the story's main idea in the center of your daisy.
- Read your second story, and again request that students volunteer to tell in one sentence what the story was about.
- As a group, develop a sentence describing the story's main idea and write it in the center of your daisy.
- Tell your students that the petals of the flower add color and beauty to the flower.
- Let them know that you will be writing down the details of the story on the petals. Just like a flower's petals the details of the story add interest and color to the story. Ask students about story characters, actions, problems and resolution. Write down these details on the petals of the daisy.
- Once you're done, display the chart for student reference.

Guided Practice (20 minutes)

- Give all students a copy of the daisy drawings.
