Sleeping Giant Awakens David B. MacDonald, 2019-01-01 Confronting the truths of Canada's Indian residential school system has been likened to waking a sleeping giant In The Sleeping Giant Awakens David B MacDonald uses genocide as an analytical tool to better understand Canada's past and present relationships between settlers and Indigenous peoples Starting with a discussion of how genocide is defined in domestic and international law the book applies the concept to the forced transfer of Indigenous children to residential schools and the Sixties Scoop in which Indigenous children were taken from their communities and placed in foster homes or adopted Based on archival research extensive interviews with residential school Survivors and officials at the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada among others The Sleeping Giant Awakens offers a unique and timely perspective on the prospects for conciliation after genocide exploring the difficulties in moving forward in a context where many settlers know little of the residential schools and ongoing legacies of colonization and need to have a better conception of Indigenous rights It provides a detailed analysis of how the TRC approached genocide in its deliberations and in its Final Report Crucially MacDonald engages critics who argue that the term genocide impedes understanding of the IRS system and imperils prospects for conciliation By contrast this book sees genocide recognition as an important basis for meaningful discussions of how to engage Indigenous settler relations in respectful and proactive ways

Organizing Equality Alison Hearn, James Compton, Nick Dyer-Witheford, Amanda F. Grzyb, 2022-08-15 Struggles for equality happen in all corners of the world While social and economic justice movements are specific to their different national contexts identities and forms of oppression collaboration and coalition building are required if we are to attain sustainable equality and healing justice Organizing Equality engages activist and scholarly debates about the organization of social and economic equality movements around the globe The collection covers a myriad of issues approaches and experiences forging a link between critical scholarly studies and journalistic and artistic works that offer more personal and hands on perspectives Moving from a broad discussion of resistance and solidarity contributors examine case studies in their specific national contexts such as movement building in Greece caste politics in India land struggles in Guatemala student debt resistance movements in the United States and the fight to indigenize higher education in Canada Organizing Equality encourages understanding and collaboration between opposing views as a means of discovering new practices of seeing learning organizing and being together in our movements for equality

The Challenge of Modernizing Islam Christine Douglass-Williams, 2019-01-15. The entire foreign policy and much of the domestic policy of the United States and other Western governments is based on the proposition that the vast majority of Muslims are moderate and peaceful, including those who are emigrating in large numbers to Europe and North America. But as Islamist groups and many mosques radicalize peaceful Muslims and appeal to the teachings of the Koran, Hadith, and Sunnah, it is imperative for moderates and reformists to articulate a vision of Islam and an exegesis of Islamic texts that can withstand the challenge of Islamists and the ulema who have declared the sanctity and immutability of the text. Instead, they must reestablish a firm foundation of Islam that is modernized, genuinely peaceful, tolerant, pluralistic, and compatible with secular governance, the freedom of speech, human rights, and equality. The Challenge of Modernizing Islam is the first major effort to provide that foundation. Veteran journalist Christine Douglass Williams interviews foremost moderate and reformist Muslims in the Western world. She asks them tough questions about how they deal with problematic Koran passages, how they intend to get their message across to the Muslim world, and more. Their answers are revelatory, even in the ways in which they disagree with one another. Douglass Williams has captured the Islamic Reformist movement in its full intellectual ferment, laying bare the tensions and triumphs of the Reformers. In the book's second half, she adds a crucial series of searingly honest and illuminating reflections on the challenges the reformers face, the chances they have of succeeding, and the implications of their struggle for the future of the Western world and of all free people. Illuminating, engaging, and thought-provoking, The Challenge of Modernizing Islam is an essential text for understanding the future of the United States and the West and the implications of Muslim moderates' struggle for the free world.

Indigeneity and the Decolonizing Gaze Robert Stam, 2023-02-23. Indigeneity and the Decolonizing Gaze orchestrates an unprecedented conversation between French philosophers, Brazilian modernists, and indigenous artists and thinkers from North and South America. Against the long historical backdrop of 1492, Columbus, and the Conquest, Robert Stam's wide-ranging study traces a trajectory from the representation of indigenous peoples by others to self-representation by indigenous peoples as a form of resistance to colonial capitalism. In this indigenous sequel to the foundational text Unthinking Eurocentrism with Ella Shohat, Stam counterpoints the western-mediated gaze on the Indian and the indigenous gaze itself, especially as incarnated in the burgeoning movement of indigenous media, that is, the use of audio-visual digital media for the social and cultural purposes of indigenous peoples themselves. Drawing on examples from cinema, literature, music, video, painting, and stand-up comedy, Stam shows how indigenous artists, intellectuals, and activists have offered ideas profoundly relevant to the multiple crises—climatological, economic, political, racial, and cultural—afflicting the contemporary world.
