Montmartre and the Making of Mass Culture Gabriel P. Weisberg, 2001 Located on the fringes of Paris Montmartre attracted artists such as Toulouse Lautrec Picasso Steinlen and Jules Chéret By the beginning of the twentieth century the artists in the quarter began to create works blurring the boundaries between fine art and popular illustration the artist and the audience as well as class and gender distinctions The creative expression that ensued was an exuberant mix of high and low a breeding ground for what is today termed popular culture The carefully interlocked essays in Montmartre and the Making of Mass Culture demonstrate how and why this quarter was at the forefront of such innovation The contributors bring an unprecedented range of approaches to the topic from political and religious history to art historical investigations and literary analysis of texts This project is the first of its kind to examine fully Montmartre's many contributions to the creation of a mass culture that reigned supreme in the twentieth century

Modernism and Authority Charles Palermo, 2015-10-13 Modernism and Authority presents a provocative new take on the early paintings of Pablo Picasso and the writings of Guillaume

Apollinaire Charles Palermo argues that references to theology and traditional Christian iconography in the works of Picasso and Apollinaire are not mere symbolic gestures rather they are complex responses to the symbolist art and poetry of figures important to them including Paul Gauguin Charles Morice and Santiago Rusiñol The young Picasso and his contemporaries experienced the challenges of modernity as an attempt to reflect on the lost relation to authority For the symbolists art held authority by revealing something compelling something to which audiences must respond lest they lose claim to their own moral authority Instead of the total transformation of the reader or viewer that symbolist creators envision Picasso and

Apollinaire imagine a divided self responding only partially or ambivalently to the work of art's call Navigating these problems of symbolist art and poetry entails considering the nature of the work of art and of one's response to it the modern subject's place in history and the relevance of historical truth to our methodological choices in the present

The Parisian Avant-Garde in the Age of Cinema, 1900-1923 Jennifer Wild, 2023-04-28

The first decades of the twentieth century were pivotal for the historical and formal relationships between early cinema and Cubism, mechanomorphism, abstraction, and Dada. To examine these relationships, Jennifer Wild's interdisciplinary study grapples with the cinema's expanded identity as a modernist form defined by the concept of horizontality. Found in early methods of projection, film exhibition, and in the film industry's penetration into cultural life by way of film stardom, advertising, and distribution, cinematic horizontality provides a new axis of inquiry for studying early twentieth-century modernism. Shifting attention from the film to the horizon of possibility around, behind, and beyond the screen, Wild shows how canonical works of modern art may be understood as responding to the changing characteristics of daily life after the cinema. Drawing from a vast popular cultural, cinematic, and art historical archive, Wild challenges how we have told the story of modern artists' earliest encounter with cinema and urges us to reconsider how early projection, film stardom, and film distribution transformed their understanding of modern life, representation, and the act of beholding. By highlighting the cultural, ideological, and artistic forms of interpellation and resistance that shape the phenomenology of a wartime era, The Parisian Avant-Garde in the Age of Cinema, 1900-1923 provides an interdisciplinary history of radical form. This book also offers a new historiography that redefines how we understand early cinema and avant-garde art before artists turned to making films themselves. The first decades of the twentieth century were pivotal for the historical and formal relationships between early cinema and Cubism, mechanomorphism, abstraction, and Dada. To examine these relationships, Jennifer Wild's interdisciplinary study grapples
