A Martian Stranded on Earth Nikolai Kremmentsov, 2011-07-05 Much like Vladimir Lenin his onetime rival for the leadership of the Bolshevik party during its formative years Alexander Bogdanov 1873-1928 was a visionary In two science fiction novels set on Mars Bogdanov imagined a future in which the workers of the world liberated from capitalist exploitation create a physiological collective that rejuvenates and unites its members through regular blood exchanges But Bogdanov was not merely a dreamer He worked tirelessly to popularize and realize his vision founding the first research institute devoted to the science of blood transfusion In A Martian Stranded on Earth the first broad based book on Bogdanov in English Nikolai Kremmentsov examines Bogdanov's roles as revolutionary novelist and scientist presenting his protagonist as a coherent thinker who pursued his ideas in a wide range of venues Through the lens of Bogdanov's involvement with blood studies on one hand and of his fictional and philosophical writings on the other Kremmentsov offers a nuanced analysis of the interactions between scientific ideas and societal values

Gan's Constructivism Kristin Romberg, 2019-01-08 This compelling new account of Russian constructivism repositions the agitator Aleksei Gan as the movement's chief protagonist and theorist Primarily a political organizer during the revolution and early Soviet period Gan brought to the constructivist project an intimate acquaintance with the nuts and bolts of making revolution Writing slogans organizing amateur performances and producing mass media objects define an alternative conception of the work of art no longer an autonomous object but a labor process through which solidarities are built In an expansive analysis touching on aesthetic and architectural theory the history of science and design sociology and feminist and political theory Kristin Romberg invites us to consider a version of modernism organized around the radical flattening of hierarchies a broad distribution of authorship and the negotiation of constraints and dependencies Moving beyond Cold War abstractions Gan's Constructivism offers a fine grained understanding of what it means for an aesthetics to be political The Future of Immortality Anya Bernstein, 2019-06-25 A gripping account of the Russian visionaries who are pursuing human immortality As long as we have known death we have dreamed of life without end In The Future of Immortality Anya Bernstein explores the contemporary Russian communities of visionaries and utopians who are pressing at the very limits of the human The Future of Immortality profiles a diverse cast of characters from the owners of a small cryonics outfit to scientists inaugurating the field of biogerontology from grassroots neurotech enthusiasts to believers in the Cosmist ideas of the Russian Orthodox thinker Nikolai Fedorov Bernstein puts their debates and polemics in the context of a long history of immortalist thought in Russia with global implications that reach to Silicon Valley and beyond If aging is a curable disease do we have a moral obligation to end the suffering it causes Could immortality be the foundation of a truly liberated utopian society extending beyond the confines of the earth something that Russians historically have pondered more than most If life without end requires radical genetic modification or separating consciousness from our biological selves how does that affect what it means to be human As vividly written as any novel The Future of Immortality is a fascinating account of techno scientific and religious futurism and the ways in which it hopes to transform our very being The Gulag Doctors Dan Healey, 2024-02-27 A pioneering history of medical care in Stalin's Gulag showing how doctors and nurses cared for inmates in appalling conditions A byword for injustice suffering and mass mortality the Gulag exploited prisoners compelling them to work harder for better rations in shocking conditions From 1930 to 1953 eighteen million people passed through this penal industrial empire Many inmates not reaching their quotas succumbed to exhaustion emaciation and illness It seems paradoxical that any medical care was available in the camps But it was in fact ubiquitous By 1939 the Gulag Sanitary Department employed 10 000 doctors nurses and paramedics about 40 percent of whom were prisoners Dan Healey explores the lives of the medical staff who treated inmates in the Gulag Doctors and nurses faced extremes of repression supply shortages and isolation Yet they still created hospitals re fed prisoners treated diseases and saved a proportion of their patients They taught apprentices and conducted research too This groundbreaking account offers an unprecedented view of Stalin's forced labour camps as experienced by its medical staff Alternative Kinships Jacob Emery, 2017-05-15 According to Marx the family is the primal scene of the division of labor and the germ of every exploitative practice In this insightful study Jacob Emery examines the Soviet Union's programmatic effort to institute a global siblinghood of the proletariat revealing how alternative kinships motivate different economic relations and make possible other artistic forms A time in which literary fiction was continuous with the social fictions that organize the social economy the early Soviet period magnifies the interaction between the literary imagination and the reproduction of labor onto a historical scale Narratives dating back to the ancient world feature scenes in which a child looks into a mirror and sees someone else reflected there typically a parent In such scenes two definitions of the aesthetic coincide art as a fantastic space that shows an alternate reality and art as a mirror that reflects the world as it is In early Soviet literature mirror scenes illuminate the intersection of imagination and economy yielding new relations destined to replace biological kinship relations based in food language or spirit These metaphorical kinships have explanatory force far beyond their context providing a vantage point onto for example the Gothic literature of the early United States and the science fiction discourses of the postwar period Alternative Kinships will appeal to scholars of Russian literature comparative literature and literary theory as well as those interested in reconciling formalist and materialist approaches to culture

Showcasing the Great Experiment Michael David-Fox, 2011-10-01 During the 1920s and 1930s thousands of European and American writers professionals scientists artists and intellectuals made a pilgrimage to experience the Soviet experiment for themselves Showcasing the Great Experiment explores the reception of these intellectuals and fellow travelers and their cross cultural and trans ideological encounters in order to analyze Soviet attitudes towards the West Many of the twentieth century s greatest writers and thinkers including Theodore Dreiser Andr Gide Paul Robeson and George Bernard Shaw notoriously defended Stalin s USSR despite the unprecedented violence of its prewar decade While many visitors were profoundly affected by their Soviet tours so too was the Soviet system The early experiences of building showcases and teaching outsiders to perceive the future in the making constitute a neglected international part of the emergence of Stalinism at home Michael David Fox contends that each side critically examined the other negotiating feelings of inferiority and superiority admiration and enmity emulation and rejection By the time of the Great Purges these tensions gave way to the dramatic triumph of xenophobia and isolationism whereas in the twenties the new regime assumed it had much to learn from Western modernity by the Stalinist thirties the Soviet order was declared superior in all respects Drawing on the declassified archival records of the agencies charged with crafting the international image of communism David Fox shows how Soviet efforts to sell the Bolshevik experiment abroad through cultural diplomacy shaped and were in turn shaped by the ongoing project of defining the Soviet Union from within These interwar Soviet methods of mobilizing the intelligentsia for the international ideological contest he argues directly paved the way for the cultural Cold War plays in social political and economic processes endangering life on Earth today The cultural dimension of Russia s efforts at energy dominance deserves increased scholarly attention not only in its own right but also because it directly affects global energy policy As the contributors to this volume argue the nationally inflected cultural myths that underlie human engagements with energy have been highly consequential in the Anthropocene Toxic Voices Eric Laursen,2013-01-30

The Philosophy of Living Experience Alexander Aleksandrovich Bogdanov, 2015-10-05 The Philosophy of Living Experience is the single best introduction to the thought of Alexander Bogdanov 1873-1928 a Russian polymath who was co-founder with Lenin of the Bolshevik Party His landmark achievements are Empiriomonism 1904-6 a philosophy of radical empiricism that he developed to replace what he considered to be the crude materialism of contemporary Marxists and Tektology Universal Organisational Science 1912-17 a precursor of cybernetics and systems theory The Philosophy of Living Experience 1913 was written at a transitional point between the two it is a final summing up of empiriomonism an illustration of his theory of the social genesis of ideas and an anticipation of Tektology

Life and Evolution Lorenzo Baravalle, Luciana Zaterka, 2020-04-10 This book offers to the international reader a collection of original articles of some of the most skillful historians and philosophers of biology currently working in Latin American universities During the last decades increasing attention has been paid in Latin America to the history and philosophy of biology but since many local authors prefer to write in Spanish or in Portuguese their ideas have barely crossed the boundaries of the continent This volume aims to remedy this state of things providing a good sample of this production to the English speaking readers bringing together contributions from researchers working in Brazilian Argentinean Chilean Colombian and Mexican universities The stress on the regional provenance of the authors is not intended to suggest the existence of something like a Latin American history and philosophy of biology supposedly endowed with distinctive features On the contrary the editors firmly believe that advances in this field can be achieved only by stimulating the integration in the international debate Based on this assumption the book focuses on two topics life and evolution and presents a selection of contributions addressing issues such as the history of the concept of life the philosophical reflection on life manipulation and life extension the structure and development of evolutionary theory as well as human evolution Life and Evolution Latin American Essays on the History and Philosophy of Biology will provide the international reader with a rather complete picture of the ongoing research in the history and philosophy of biology in Latin America offering a snapshot of this dynamic community It will also contribute to contextualize and develop the debate concerning life and evolution and the relation between the two phenomena The Darwinian Tradition in Context Richard G. Delisle, 2017-12-29 The main goal of this book is to put the Darwinian tradition in context by raising questions such as How should it be defined Did it interact with other research programs Were there any research programs that developed largely independently of the Darwinian tradition Accordingly the contributing authors explicitly explore the nature of the relationship between the Darwinian tradition and other research programs running in parallel In the wake of the Synthetic Theory of Evolution which was established throughout the 1930s 1940s and 1950s historians and philosophers of biology devoted considerable attention to the Darwinian tradition i e linking Charles Darwin to mid Twentieth Century developments in evolutionary biology Since then more recent developments in evolutionary biology have challenged in part or entirely the heritage of the Darwinian tradition Not surprisingly this has in turn been followed by a historiographical recalibration on the part of historians and philosophers regarding other research programs and traditions in evolutionary biology In order to acknowledge this shift the papers in this book have been arranged on the basis of two main threads Part I A perspective that views Darwinism as either being originally pluralistic or having acquired such a pluralistic nature through modifications and borrowings over time Part II A perspective blurring the boundaries between non Darwinian and Darwinian traditions either by contending that Darwinism itself was never quite as Darwinian as previously assumed or that non Darwinian traditions took on board various Darwinian components when not fertilizing Darwinism directly Between a Darwinism reaching out to other research programs and non Darwinian programs reaching out to Darwinism the least that can be said is that this interweaving of intellectual threads blurs the historiographical field This volume aims to open vital new avenues for approaching and reflecting on the development of evolutionary biology
