Public Archaeology for the Twenty-First Century James F. Brooks, Jeremy M. Moss, 2025-06 In Public Archaeology for the Twenty First Century James F Brooks and Jeremy M Moss have collected essays from twenty seven scholars and community members to illuminate archaeological sites like ancient water courts at Mound Key in Florida the lost Black cemetery at Nashville Zoo fur trade era Fort Michilimackinac and Arizona s Gila Bend Internment Camp Each case offers readers an experience that enlivens the past while speaking to the present These essays wrestle with key tensions in the field of public archaeology What do we mean by public Is this site public facing or public participating Does public simply imply simplifications in scholarly rigor or does it require more creative attention to methods of analysis and interpretation to render stories sensible for those beyond the academy In the broadest sense these chapters explore the relationship between archaeological practice the representation of archaeology and history and our varied publics This requires not only consultation with varied stakeholders but also collaborative partnerships with descendant communities who have direct connections to the heritage resources we wish to share Deep Stories Mariela Nuñez-Janes, Aaron Thornburg, Angela Booker, 2017-03-20 Have you ever wondered what makes storytelling and digital media a powerful combination This edited volume examines the opportunities to think do and or create jointly afforded by digital storytelling The editors of this volume contend that digital storytelling and digital media can create spaces of empowerment and transformation by facilitating multiple kinds of border crossings and convergences involving groups of peoples places knowledge methodologies and teaching pedagogies The book is unique in its inclusion of anthropologists and education practitioners and its emphasis on multiple subfields in anthropology The contributors discuss digital storytelling in the context of educational programs teaching anthropology and ethnographic research involving a variety of populations and subjects that will appeal to researchers and practitioners engaged with qualitative methods and pedagogies that rely on media technology Urban Displacement and Trade in a Senegalese Market Gunvor Jónsson, 2024-03-07 The Malian market at the railway terminus in Dakar was bulldozed in 2009 and following privatisation of the railway passenger services in Senegal soon ceased altogether The consequences were felt especially by women traders who had travelled the line since its inauguration making the terminus in Dakar the centre of a thriving network of traders and migrants To examine the fates of those whose livelihoods were destroyed or disrupted Gunvor J nsson spent a year with the women evicted from the terminus Urban Displacement and Trade in a Senegalese Market explores what happens at the end of urban displacement when it is all over so to speak when the dust has settled and people find themselves scattered in sometimes unfamiliar surroundings trying to pick up the pieces and create something meaningful This book argues that rupture and ensuing displacement do not produce a clean slate where identities networks and histories must be produced from scratch Traders and their markets do not simply vanish into thin air when they are evicted The book examines not only what is lost but what emerges when a dense node such as the terminus is dissolved and fragmented The ethnography of the traders reveals that the aftermath of eviction in cities may lead to diasporic forms of consciousness and identity formations Displacement whether on a local or global scale demands difficult adjustments and people s capacities to adapt to new circumstances and environments vary This book uncovers some of these different capacities and variations in traders reactions to displacement Praise for Urban Displacement and Trade in a Senegalese Market J nsson's book is a masterful study of the aftermath of displacement in a major African city Through deep ethnographic engagement the book shows how displacement is about more than leaving a place it is also about how people rebuild livelihoods and how the space left behind continues to haunt their imagination of a meaningful life H l ne Neveu Kringelbach UCL This book is an inspiring tribute to the Malian women traders of Senegal Emptied out from their old market stalls by a vainglorious development scheme they bravely regrouped to recover their livelihoods and protect their families Gunvor I nsson challenges the idea that displacement only involves refugees Instead she creatively marries studies of migration and urbanization providing fresh insights to both fields Robin Cohen University of Oxford Necropolitics Boni Wozolek, 2023-04-07 Scholars across fields of education have longstanding histories of critically considering the many ways that inequities in schooling are engendered and maintained and just as significantly how these forms of oppression might be resisted and refused Drawing from these important dialogues Educational Necropolitics shares two years of stories sounds and powerful images collected through a sonic ethnographic study What emerges from this work are the reverberations of how students in this context and more broadly how youth across the country often negotiate the intersections of race genders sexual orientations class and other parts of their complex identities in overwhelmingly white high school settings This book examines what is produced in the wake of educational necropolitics the capacity for schools to dictate to what degree minoritized students ways of being can remain intact and significantly it follows the daily lives of youth as they encounter forms of violence through what schools intend to teach what is left out what is learned through everyday interactions and what is valued through the broader emergent cultural contexts This groundbreaking work includes interactive e features that invite readers to travel and interact with participants of the study which utilizes deep listening in qualitative research and reflects the results of this sonic ethnography A truly timely text for educators and administrators Educational Necropolitics provides an immersive experience in which leaders can address and correct systemic racist practices in the school setting by drawing directly from first hand student experiences
