

A high-contrast, black and white photograph of two hands cupping a single, vibrant red apple. The hands are positioned symmetrically, with fingers gently curled around the fruit. The apple is the central focus, its bright red color standing out against the dark background and the pale skin of the hands. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the contours of the hands and the smooth surface of the apple.

Seduced by Twilight Natalie Wilson, 2014-01-10 Stephenie Meyer's Twilight saga has maintained a tight grip on the contemporary cultural imagination This timely and critical work examines how the Twilight series offers addictively appealing messages about love romance sex beauty and body image and how these charged themes interact with cultural issues regarding race class gender and sexuality Through a careful analysis of the texts the fandom and the current socio historical climate this work argues that the success of the Twilight series stems chiefly from Meyer's negotiation of cultural mores

In the Twilight of Patriarchal Culture: The Struggle for Female Identity in Stephenie Meyer's Twilight Saga Astrid Ernst, 2012-06-18 Diploma Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 University of Vienna Anglistik und Amerikanistik course Anglistik Literatur Gender Studies language English abstract The paper investigates Meyer's popular saga from a feminist point of view focusing on the development of Bella's character and her quest for identity in a rigidly patriarchal world which forces her to choose between mutually exclusive options It will be argued that Bella's life is entirely determined by the two central male characters who form a polarized axis that slowly tears her apart Bella's low self esteem and her strong attachment to the over idealized Edward Cullen will be read as a symptom of her placelessness in a world that does not leave room for her to develop as an autonomous subject Bella's wish to become a vampire can be equalled with woman's desire to gain access to a higher social realm via her husband and thus escape her marginalisation in patriarchal culture As Beauvoir writes There is no other way out for her than to lose herself body and soul in him who is represented to her as the essential as the absolute Beauvoir The Second Sex 653 In order to become a supposedly superior being and to live eternally in the idealized capitalist patriarchal and puritanically Christian world Edward represents Bella has to make a series of sacrifices Leaving her mother behind she moves into a male dominated world which is divided into morally idealized Christian vampires and racially devalued werewolves She is forced to give up her friendship with Jacob Black who can be read as her free childlike self in order to enter a world that again pushes her into the patriarchally pre defined role of mother and wife Similar patterns of stereotypical representations of femininity can be observed in various characters of the saga A more controversial note is brought in by Bella's half vampire child who can be seen as a destabilizing factor of the saga's rigid dichotomy Taking all this into consideration we as feminists have to ask whether it is desirable to have millions of young women worldwide admiring Bella and the misogynist world in which she lives
