Algorithmic and Quantitative Real Algebraic Geometry Saugata Basu, Laureano González-Vega, 2003-01-01

Algorithmic and quantitative aspects in real algebraic geometry are becoming increasingly important areas of research because of their roles in other areas of mathematics and computer science. The papers in this volume collectively span several different areas of current research. The articles are based on talks given at the DIMACS Workshop on Algorithmic and Quantitative Aspects of Real Algebraic Geometry. Topics include deciding basic algebraic properties of real semi algebraic sets, application of quantitative results in real algebraic geometry towards investigating the computational complexity of various problems, algorithmic and quantitative questions in real enumerative geometry, new approaches towards solving decision problems in semi algebraic geometry as well as computing algebraic certificates and applications of real algebraic geometry to concrete problems arising in robotics and computer graphics. The book is intended for researchers interested in computational methods in algebra.

Examples of Analytic Geometry of Three Dimensions Isaac TODHUNTER, 1858

Analytic Projective Geometry John Bamberg, Tim Pentttilä, 2023-10-19 Projective geometry is the geometry of vision and this book introduces students to this beautiful subject from an analytic perspective, emphasising its close relationship with linear algebra and the central role of symmetry. Starting with elementary and familiar geometry over real numbers, readers will soon build upon that knowledge via geometric pathways and journey on to deep and interesting corners of the subject. Through a projective approach to geometry, readers will discover connections between seemingly distant and ancient results in Euclidean geometry. By mixing recent results from the past 100 years with the history of the field, this text is one of the most comprehensive surveys of the subject and an invaluable reference for undergraduate and beginning graduate students learning classic geometry as well as young researchers in computer graphics. Students will also appreciate the worked examples and diagrams throughout.

Lectures On Algebra - Volume 1 Shreeram Shankar Abhyankar, 2006-07-31 This book is a timely survey of much of the algebra developed during the last several centuries, including its applications to algebraic geometry and its potential use in geometric modeling. The present volume makes an ideal textbook for an abstract algebra course, while the forthcoming sequel Lectures on Algebra II will serve as a textbook for a linear algebra course. The author's fondness for algebraic geometry shows up in both volumes, and his recent preoccupation with the applications of group theory to the calculation of Galois groups is evident in the second volume, which contains more local rings and more algebraic geometry. Both books are based on the author's lectures at Purdue University over the last few years.

Shape Interrogation for Computer Aided Design and Manufacturing Nicholas M. Patrikalakis, Takashi Maekawa, 2009-11-27 Shape interrogation is the process of extraction of information from a geometric model. It is a fundamental component of Computer Aided Design and Manufacturing (CAD/CAM) systems. The authors focus on shape interrogation of geometric models bounded by free form surfaces. Free form surfaces, also called sculptured surfaces, are widely used in the bodies of ships, automobiles, and aircraft, which have both functionality and attractive shape requirements. Many electronic devices as well as consumer products are designed with aesthetic shapes which involve free form surfaces This book provides the mathematical fundamentals as well as algorithms for various shape interrogation methods including nonlinear polynomial solvers intersection problems differential geometry of intersection curves distance functions curve and surface interrogation umbilics and lines of curvature geodesics and offset curves and surfaces This book will be of interest both to graduate students and professionals
