Maximus the Confessor Paul M. Blowers, 2016 This study contextualizes the achievement of a strategically crucial figure in Byzantium's turbulent seventh century the monk and theologian Maximus the Confessor 580-662 Building on newer biographical research and a growing international body of scholarship as well as on fresh examination of his diverse literary corpus Paul Blowers develops a profile integrating the two principal initiatives of Maximus's career first his reinterpretation of the Christocentric economy of creation and salvation as a framework for expounding the spiritual and ascetical life of monastic and non-monastic Christians and second his intensifying public involvement in the last phase of the ancient Christological debates the Monothelite controversy wherein Maximus helped lead an East-West coalition against Byzantine imperial attempts doctrinally to limit Jesus Christ to a single divine activity and will devoid of properly human volition Blowers identifies what he terms Maximus's cosmo-politeian worldview a contemplative and ascetical vision of the participation of all created beings in the novel politeia or reordered existence inaugurated by Christ's new theandric energy Maximus ultimately insinuated his teaching on the Christiformity and cruciformity of the human vocation with his rigorous explication of the precise constitution of Christ's own composite person. In outlining this cosmo-politeian theory, Blowers additionally sets forth a theo-dramatic reading of Maximus inspired by Hans Urs von Balthasar which depicts the motion of creation and history according to the christocentric plot or interplay of divine and creaturely freedoms. Blowers also amplifies how Maximus's cumulative achievement challenged imperial ideology in the seventh century, the repercussions of which cost him his life and how it generated multiple recontextualizations in the later history of theology.

Metaphor, Making and Mysticism Sheila Gallagher, Louise Nelstrop, Lydia Shahan, 2025-10-24. This volume focuses on the interplay between metaphor making and mysticism and sheds new light on the power of the metaphorical and creative dimensions of the mystical for the twenty-first century. It explores the ways a variety of mystical writers deal with metaphor and image by bringing together chapters from interdisciplinary vantage points: theological, philosophical, historical, artistic, and literary. The book touches on a range of historical and contemporary figures including Jalal al-Din al-Rumi, John of Ruusbroec, Hadewijch, John Scottus Eriugena, and Edward Abbey. In reviewing the place of metaphor in mystical texts, both Christian and Islamic, the contributions reflect on the hard and difficult places both metaphor and mysticism can bring us to. They explore contemporary artists' engagement with the mystical and how these open up new ways of reimagining our present, moving us beyond static categories such as religion versus secular and Christianity versus Islam. Overall, the book highlights the potential of mysticism to push us beyond comfortable spaces and associations and considers the language and images used to do so.

Heidegger, Neoplatonism, and the History of Being James Filler, 2023-05-04. This book argues that Western philosophy's traditional understanding of Being as substance is incorrect and demonstrates that Being is fundamentally Relationality. To make that argument, the book examines the history of Western philosophy's evolving conception of being and shows how this tradition has been dominated by an Aristotelian understanding of substance and his corresponding understanding of relation. First, the book establishes that the original concept of Being in ancient Western philosophy was relational and traces this relational understanding of Being through the Neoplatonists. Then it follows the substantial understanding of Being through Aristotle and the Scholastics to reach its crisis in Descartes. Finally, the book demonstrates that Heidegger represents a recovery of the original relational understanding of Being.

How Great Thou Art! Owen F. Cummings, 2024-08-09. Christian thinking about the theology of creation has received new impetus in recent decades. This is due to, among other things, a more holistic approach to Holy Scripture, fresh insights from the history of Christian doctrine, the stimulus afforded by contemporary philosophies, and the desire to praise and thank God the Creator for the gift of creation. This little volume opens up all of those areas in an informed yet accessible way.

dar ber hinaus auch den fr hen Islam im Blick The Divine Ideas Tradition in Christian Mystical Theology Mark A. McIntosh, 2021-03-04 By the time of early modernity a widely deployed tenet of Christian thought had begun to vanish The divine ideas tradition the teaching that all beings have an eternal existence as aspects of God s mind had functioned across a wide range of central Christian doctrines providing Christian thinkers and mystical teachers with a powerful theological capacity to illuminate the Trinitarian ground of all creatures and to renew the divine truth of all creatures through human contemplation Already by the time of the Middle Platonists Plato s forms had been reinterpreted as ideas in the mind of God Yet that was only the beginning of the transformation of the divine ideas for Christian belief in God as Trinity and in the incarnation of the Word imbued the divine ideas tradition with a remarkable conceptual agility The divine ideas teaching allowed mystical theologians to conceive the hidden presence of God in all creatures and the power of every creature s truth in God to consummate the full dynamic of every creature s calling The Divine Ideas Tradition in Christian Mystical Theology brings to life the striking role of the divine ideas tradition in the teaching of its central exponents and also suggests how the divine ideas might constructively inform Christian theology and spirituality today Especially in an age of global crises when the truth of the natural environment of racial injustice and of public health is denied and disputed for political ends the divine ideas tradition affords contemporary thinkers a creative and contemplative vision that reveres the deep truth of all beings and seeks their mending and fulfilment Gathering Those Driven Away Wendy Farley, 2011-01-01 This book is a powerful expression of Jesus Christ given in the midst of the brokenness and hostilities of this world as experienced by those who are marginalized and persecuted in contemporary society Drawing on broader sources in the Christian tradition Farley maintains the power of Jesus of Nazareth as the expression of the Divine Eros in Wisdom to break powers of sin and provide a vision of life which is an alternative Empire to present ways and where love reigns as norm Another Kind of Normal Graham Ward, 2022-01-13 Every age needs to examine and propose its ways of living ethically Another Kind of Normal Ethical Life II constructs a mode of such living according to the Christian tradition based upon an interpretation of Christ s coming and the relationship of that incarnation to God as the Creator of all things In the second of four volumes Graham Ward explores an Augustinian vision of consonance between divine rhythm and the rhythmic orders of creation On the basis of what Augustine calls the interval it proposes Christ is encountered as riddle scandal and paradox It provides an account of creation as a Trinitarian event that calls for a rethinking of what are the key teachings in Christianity with respect to an understanding of creation as a divine benediction and a theatre for transformation and healing Ward argues through Scriptural exegesis for the omnidirectionality of time as graced rejecting a conception of linear temporality and theologies indebted to that conception Throughout participation in God through our hiddenness in Christ develops an account of the complex relationship between divine and human creativity appealing to music painting poetry drama film architecture and novels The Voice of the Eagle John Scotus Eriugena, 2001-02 Secrets of spiritual leadership from ancient to modern times Behind the outer events of human history spiritual forces have guided human destinies In this book Rudolf Steiner portrays the spiritual leadership of ancient India Egypt and Greece He explains how the guidance of humanity later came under the beneficent influence of Christ as well as angelic beings working for both good and ill After the turning point of 1250 A D a modern form of esoteric spirituality arose to shape human development Now our century witnesses a revival of spiritual influences from ancient Egypt Revisited by Steiner for publication these three lectures also treat secrets of the connection between the early stages of childhood and the Christ being and the role of the unborn child in choosing its parents and horoscope

The Incarnation Stephen T. Davis, Daniel Kendall, Gerald O'Collins, 2004 This interdisciplinary study follows an international and ecumenical meeting of twenty four scholars held in New York at Easter 2000 the Incarnation Summit After an opening chapter which summarizes and evaluates twelve major questions concerning the Incarnation five chapters are dedicated to the biblical roots of this central Christian doctrine A patristic and medieval section corrects misinterpretations and retrieves for today the significance of the Council of Chalcedon AD 451 and its aftermath as well as clarifying Aquinas enduring metaphysical interpretation of the Incarnation The volume then moves to theological and philosophical debates three scholars take up such systematic issues as belief in the Incarnation the self emptying that it involves and its compatibility with divine timelessness The remaining four essays consider the place of the doctrine of the Incarnation in literature ethics art and preaching There is a fruitful dialogue between experts in a wide range of areas and the international reputation of the participants reflects and guarantees the high quality of this joint work The result is a well researched skilfully argued and at times provocative volume on the central Christian belief the Incarnation of the Son of God

Incarnation and Inspiration Alan John Spence, 2007 In Incarnation and Inspiration Alan Spence looks at the theology of John Owen examining Owen's efforts to integrate the concepts of incarnation and inspiration into one coherent Christology Owen offers a solution to this most intractable of christological dilemmas through his idea that the divine Son acted on his own human nature indirectly and by means of the Holy Spirit The foundation of the Spirit's distinctive work is thereby the renewal of the image of God through the humanity of Christ Spence's study raises such questions as can a Christology which affirms the distinct operation of Christ's two natures successfully maintain the unity of his personal action Is nature or ontological language too static to model the dynamic reality of Christ Can the actions of God be indivisible if the Son relates to the Father as to one who is other than himself Finally Spence grounds the discussion in more general terms by assessing the significance of Owen's Christology in relation to the Definition of Chalcedon and to modern theology From publisher's description
