A Voice From The South:

A Voice from the South Augustus Baldwin Longstreet, 1848 A Voice from the South Anna J. Cooper, 2022-07-21 In A Voice from the South Anna J. Cooper presents a groundbreaking collection of essays that illuminate the complexities of race, gender, and social justice in post-Reconstruction America. Written in a style that blends rhetorical fervor with profound intellectual rigor, Cooper's work is both a personal testament and a powerful call to action. Her articulate arguments and poignant reflections challenge the prevailing narratives of her time, making her voice resonate across generations and establishing her as a precursor to later African American feminist thought. This text not only critiques the societal structures that marginalize Black women but also advocates for their rights, emphasizing the necessity of education and civic engagement. Anna J. Cooper, an influential educator and activist, was born into slavery and emerged as one of the first African American women to earn a college degree. Her life experiences, imbued with the struggles and aspirations of Black women, significantly shaped her perspectives, compelling her to speak out against the injustices faced by her community. Her conviction in the importance of education and advocacy laid the groundwork for her seminal work, reflecting the resilience and strength of Black womanhood. I highly recommend A Voice from the South to readers interested in understanding the intersecting struggles of race and gender, as well as those who seek a deeper appreciation of the roots of feminist thought. Cooper's eloquence and insight provide not only a historical perspective but also provoke thought on contemporary issues, making this work an essential reading for anyone invested in social justice.

A Voice From the South Anna Julia Cooper, 1988-04-14 Considered one of the original texts foretelling the Black feminist movement, this collection of essays first published in 1892 offers an unparalleled view into the thought of Black women writers in nineteenth-century America. A leading Black spokeswoman of her time, Anna Julia Cooper came of age during a conservative wave in the Black community, a time when men completely dominated African American intellectual and political ideas. In these essays, Cooper criticizes Black men for securing higher education for themselves through the ministry while erecting roadblocks to deny women access to those same opportunities and denounces the elitism and provinciality of the white women's movement. Passionately committed to women's independence, Cooper espoused higher education as the essential key to ending women's physical, emotional, and economic dependence on men.

A Voice from the South. Illustrated Anna J. Cooper, 2023-01-06 A Voice from the South By a Black Woman of the South is the first book by American author, educator, and activist Anna J. Cooper. The book advanced a vision of self-determination through education and social uplift for African American women. Its central thesis was that the educational, moral, and spiritual progress of Black women would improve the general standing of the entire African American community.

A Voice from the South, Discussing, Among Other Subjects, Slavery, and Its Remedy Lennox Birckhead, 1861 Twas: A Voice For Science In The South Daniel Schaffer, 2015-09-29 Science in the developing world has experienced historic change over the past 30 years. Nations that lacked resources for even basic science have since developed world class research centres Men and women who previously had no chance of pursuing scientific careers in their own countries now thrive in home grown universities and laboratories dedicated to scientific excellence The World Academy of Sciences TWAS has been front and centre during this remarkable transformation A Voice for Science in the South tells the story of TWAS through the eyes of 11 eminent scientists associated with the Academy They speak of the organization s challenges and triumphs and describe what TWAS has meant for their careers and the careers of thousands of scientists in the developing world They also explore the challenges that lie ahead for TWAS and more generally for science in the South It is a story of unprecedented global change and an account of what must be done to ensure that all nations can share in the benefits that emerge when science is woven into the fabric of society

Whitaker,Milton Clapp,William Gilmore Simms,James Henley Thornwell,1848 Presenting Women Philosophers Cecile Thérèse Tougas,Sara Ebenreck,2000 Western philosophy has long excluded the work of women thinkers from their canon Presenting Women Philosophers addresses this exclusion by examining the breadth of women s contributions to Western thought over some 900 years Editors Cecile T Tougas and Sara Ebenreck have gathered essays and other writings that reflect women s deep engagement with the meaning of individual experience as well as the continuity of their philosophical concerns and practices Arranged thematically the collection ranges across eras and literary genres as it emphasizes the intellectual significance of written work by key figures for example Hildegard of Bingen s visionary writings Iris Murdoch s fiction Hannah Arendt s historical narratives and the oral storytelling in black women s literary tradition The collection also brings to light the philosophical importance of little known work by such writers as Mme de Sabl and Mme de Condorcet This wide ranging collection offers non philosophers an introduction to women s thought but also promises to engage advanced students of philosophy with new research on unrecognized contributions Author note Cecile T Tougas formerly an Assistant Professor of Philosophy is a teacher of Latin and Algebra at Ben Franklin Academy in Atlanta Sara Ebenreck is Assistant Professor of Philosophy at St Mary s College of Maryland The Voice of Anna Julia Cooper Anna Julia Cooper,1998 This is the first collection of Cooper s major writings including many never before published Also includes The Higher Education of Women from A Voice From the South as recommended in the Wheatley edition of the CCSS Curriculum Maps

Confederate Sheet Music E. Lawrence Abel,2015-06-14 During the American Civil War songs united and inspired people on both sides The North had a well established music publishing industry when the war broke out but the South had no such industry The importance of music as an expression of the South s beliefs was obvious as one music publisher said The South must not only fight her own battles but sing her own songs and dance to music composed by her own children Southern entrepreneurs quickly rose to the challenge This reference book is distinguished by three major differences from previously published works First it lists sheet music that is no longer extant and listed nowhere else Second it gives complete lyrics for all extant songs a rich source for researchers And third a brief historical background has been provided for many of the songs Each entry provides as much of the following as possible staying faithful to the typography of each title page the title as published names of all lyricists composers and publishers dates of publication cities of publication and if applicable the names of catalogs or magazines in which the song appeared Music published in Southern cities under Federal occupation is excluded A Voice from the Hump John Wheatcroft, Race, Social Science and the Crisis of Manhood, 1890-1970 Malinda A. Lindquist, 2012 Black Social Science and the Crisis of Manhood 1890 1970 describes the young black male crisis why we are largely unfamiliar with the story of the black superman and why this matters to contemporary debates It does so by returning to the work of those original black social scientists to explore the ways in which they understood the challenges of black manhood offered substantive critiques of the nation's race class and gender systems and worked to construct a progression The careful study of their work reveals the centrality of gender to discussions of race and class and also new possibilities for understanding and discussing black men This book offers a look at pioneering black social scientists as well as a history of the changing perceptions ideals and shifting depictions of black and white manhood over nearly a century

We are Coming Shirley Wilson Logan, 1999 Shirley Wilson Logan analyzes the distinctive rhetorical features in the persuasive discourse of nineteenth century black women concentrating on the public discourse of club and church women from 1880 until 1900 Logan develops each chapter in this illustrated study around a feature of public address as best exemplified in the oratory of a particular woman speaker of the era She analyzes not only speeches but also editorials essays and letters Logan first focuses on the prophetic oratory of Maria Stewart the first American born black woman to speak publicly Turning to Frances Harper she considers speeches that argue for common interests between divergent communities And she demonstrates that central to the antilynching rhetoric of Ida Wells is the concept of presence or the tactic of enhancing certain selected elements of the presentation In her discussion of Fannie Barrier Williams and Anna Cooper Logan shows that when speaking to white club women and black clergymen both Williams and Cooper employ what Kenneth Burke called identification To analyze the rhetoric of Victoria Matthews she applies Carolyn Miller's modification of Lloyd Bitzer's concept of the rhetorical situation Logan also examines the discourse of women associated with the black Baptist women's movement and those participating in college affiliated conferences The book includes an appendix with little known speeches and essays by Anna Julia Cooper Selena Sloan Butler Lucy Wilmot Smith Mary V Cook Adella Hunt Logan Victoria Earle Matthews Lucy C Laney and Georgia Swift King A Voice from the Pew Walter Smith Allen, 1887 Sociology After the Crisis Charles C. Lemert, 2015-12-22 Widely assigned and taught in senior capstone and social theory courses Sociology After the Crisis offers the first systematic theory of social differences built on the sociological traditions by embracing to Durkheim Weber and other familiar figures The first edition was acclaimed for its nuanced and original rereading of Durkheim in relation to the theoretical reasons he and his contemporaries neglected race and gender This new edition features two chapters of new material written in the summer of 2003 as the new social structures of the 21st century became increasingly clear The new Chapter Ten draws upon 9 11 the new world order of two Bush presidencies and globalization to show how individuals lives and sociologies must be thought about in new ways These events also highlight how American society and sociology have responded and sometimes failed in the struggle over the crisis of modernism Reviews for the First Edition This expansive reimagining of the historical roots of sociological imagination especially as it embraces voices and visions long lost to our most important national debates is balm to the fractured soul of American society Lemert s elegant and passionate volume will aid immeasurably in our nation s search for sane solutions to the crises of purpose and perspective he so skillfully explores Michael Eric Dyson author of Making Malcolm and Between God and Gangsta Rap Elegantly crafted Steven Seidman State University of New York at Albany The Southern Quarterly Review ,1848 North Carolina Women Michele Gillespie,Sally G. McMillen,2014 This first of two volumes on North Carolina women chronicles the influence and accomplishments of individual women from the pre Revolutionary period through the early 20th century They represent a range of social and economic backgrounds political stances areas of influence and geographical regions within the state Even though North Carolina remained mostly rural until well into the twentieth century and the lives of most women centered on farm family and church Gillespie and McMillen note that the state s people exhibited a progressive streak that positively influenced women Public funds were set aside to advance statewide education private efforts after the Civil War led to the founding of numerous black schools and colleges and in 1891 the General Assembly chartered the State Normal and Industrial School later UNC G as one of the first publicly funded colleges for white women By the late 19th century as several essays in this volume reveal education played a pivotal role in the lives of many white and black women It inspired their activism and involvement in a world beyond their traditional domestic sphere Dark Thoughts Charles Lemert,2013-10-18 In Dark Thoughts eminent sociologist Charles Lemert dares to say and explain what everyone already knows that the modern world was built on the need of white people to pretend they are not as dark as the next person Delving poignantly into the history and literature of domination Lemert retells key moments of the twentieth century by profiling figures like W E B DuBois Charlotte Perkins Gilman Anna Julia Cooper Nella Larson Malcolm X and Muhammad Ali In a rare and unflinching look at his own complicated history Lemert also explores his own racism his struggle with the suicide of his oldest son as well as growing up as the virtual son of a black mother and his life now as the real father of an African American daughter Dark Thoughts speaks to the most urgent social issues at the beginning of the twenty first century race relations multiculturalism and social justice 23 Myths About the History of American Schools Sherman Dorn,David A. Gamson,2024 In this fascinating collection some of the foremost historians of education including Barbara Beatty Larry Cuban Linda Eisenmann Yoon Pak John Rury and Jonathan Zimmerman debunk commonly held myths about American schooling Each short readable chapter focuses on one myth explaining what the real history is and how it helped shape education today Contributors take on a host of tall tales including the supposed agrarian origins of summer vacation exaggerated stories of declining student behavior and academic performance persistent claims that some people are born to be teachers idealistic notions that the 1954 Brown decision ended segregation in American schools misleading beliefs that classrooms operate in ways designed to fit the industrial era and more 23 Myths About the History of American Schools will awaken the inner history nerd of everyone who ever asked How did we get this crazy school system It will affirm the truth that its readers are as entitled to think critically about schooling as anyone else Contributors include Barbara Beatty Larry Cuban Linda Eisenmann Yoon Pak John Rury and Jonathan Zimmerman Making the World a Better Place Jacqueline Jones Royster, 2023-06-27 In Making the World a Better Place Royster argues that African American women must be taken seriously as historical actors who were more consistently and more variously engaged in community and nation building than they have been given credit for Their considerable rhetorical expertise becomes evident when looking carefully at their work in terms of identity agency authority and expressiveness Their writings constitute a substantial artifactual record of their levels of engagement their excellence in sociopolitical work and the legacies of leadership and action The writing of African American women during the nineteenth century reflects their own perceptions of the ways and means of their lives They deserve to be recognized as consequential contributors to the narratives of the nation rather than marginalized as a group To that end Jacqueline Jones Royster offers a deeper understanding often through their own words of these women their practices and their achievements
