Lidström,2015-06-19 The environmental challenges facing humanity in the twenty first century are not only acute and grave they are also unprecedented in kind complexity and scope Nonetheless or therefore the political response to problems such as climate change biodiversity loss and widespread pollution continues to fall short To address these challenges it seems clear that we need new ways of thinking about the relationship between humans and nature local and global and past present and future One place to look for such new ideas is in poetry designed to contain multiple levels of meaning at once challenge the imagination and evoke responses that are based on something more than scientific consensus and rationale This ecocritical book traces the environmental sensibilities of two Anglophone poets Nobel Prize winner Seamus Heaney 1939 2013 and British Poet Laureate Ted Hughes 1930 1998 Drawing on recent and multifarious developments in ecocritical theory it examines how Hughes s and Heaney s respective poetics interact with late twentieth century developments in environmental thought focusing in particular on ideas about ecology and environment in relation to religion time technology colonialism semiotics and globalisation This book is aimed at students of literature and environment the relationship between poetry and environmental humanities and the poetry of Ted Hughes or Seamus Heaney The Isaianic Denkschrift and a Socio-Cultural Crisis in Yehud Alexander V. Prokhorov,2015-05-20 This study of the Isaianic Denkschrift Isaiah 6 1 9 6 is both a traditional and an innovative one It defends the integrity of the Denkschrift yet on grounds wholly other than those outlined by the early proponents of the unity of the composition The present work is founded on an inquiry into the ideological matrix of the composition on one hand and on the other on the understanding of the activity of mantic prophetic figures in the Near East during the early first millennium BCE that has emerged in recent scholarship The presentation of Yahweh as a royal character in the Denkschrift is interpreted as an integral part of the symbolic universe promoted by the composition Several levels of social discourse of the Denkschrift are identified the author s is simultaneously engaged in the creation of Judaeen autonomous cultural identity in polemical activity with the rival Yahwist community the North or Samaria and in the safeguarding of the privileged position of the former Babylonian exiles among the community of Jerusalem and Judah Two interrelated hypotheses are developed in the book regarding the historical milieu in which the Denkschrift was composed and regarding the place of the composition in the formation of First Isaiah As for the first Prokhorov proposes that the early second temple community of Yehud matches the profile of a society whose problems the Denkschrift is addressing and reflecting As for the second the author maintains the view that the Denkschrift marks one of the final stages of the creation of First Isaiah whose original nucleus consisted of the Hezekiah narrative now found in chapters 36-39 of Isaiah which in turn modified the respective Deuteronomistic material
