Producing Children Peter C. Kunze,Victoria Ford Smith,2025-04-15 Producing Children imagines the possibility indeed the inevitability of a creative relation between children as producers and consumers by revising the long established hierarchical relation between adults and children The chapters in this collection reveal that studying child produced culture complicates our received understandings of children s culture as culture by adults for children about children They also underscore children s literature as a cultural phenomenon that moves across and beyond genres forms and media As a whole this collection reveals that attention to child produced culture invites dialogue and collaboration across fields and disciplines invested in the critical understanding of children as embodied beings and childhood as both a stage of development and discursive construct with social political economic and cultural dimensions and influence With the ongoing vibrancy of childhood studies as a multidisciplinary area of inquiry studies of child produced culture provide scholars with an exciting opportunity to complicate enrich and expand theorization of childhood creativity children s culture and even children themselves

New Essays on Phillis Wheatley John C. Shields,Eric D. Lamore,2011-05-30 The first African American to publish a book on any subject poet Phillis Wheatley 1753 1784 has long been denigrated by literary critics who refused to believe that a black woman could produce such dense intellectual work In recent decades however Wheatley s work has come under new scrutiny as the literature of the eighteenth century and the impact of African American literature have been reconceived Fourteen prominent Wheatley scholars consider her work from a variety of angles affirming her rise into the first rank of American writers from publisher description Amazing Grace James G. Basker, Richard Gilder Professor of Literary History James G Basker, 2002-01-01 This volume is the first anthology of poetic writings on slavery from America Britain and around the Atlantic during the Enlightenment the crucial period that saw the height of the slave trade but also the origins of the anti slavery movement Bringing together more than four hundred poems and excerpts from longer works that were written by more than two hundred and fifty poets both famous and unknown the book charts the emergence of slavery as part of the collective consciousness of the English speaking world The book includes poems by forty women ranging from abolitionists Hannah More and Mary Robinson to Frances Seymour the Countess of Herford works by more than twenty African or African American poets including familiar names Phillis Wheatley intriguing figures Afro Dutch Latin scholar Johannes Capitein and newly rediscovered black poets an anonymous veteran of the Revolutionary War and poetry by such canonical writers as Dryden Defoe Pope Johnson Blake Boswell Burns Wordsworth and Coleridge The poems speak of the themes of slavery capture torture endurance rebellion thwarted romances and spiritual longing They also raise intriguing questions about the contradications between cultural attitudes and public policy of the time Writers such as these suggests editor James Basker were not complicit in the imperial project or indifferent about slavery but actually laid the groundwork for the political changes that would follow BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Ramsey, 2004 This classic text continues to define what multicultural education means in all kinds of settings The Third Edition includes activities to challenge children s assumptions on Racial Bias Social Class and Consumerism Perspectives on Cultures and the Natural World Gender and Sexual Orientation and Abilities and Disabilities Chasing Orion Kathryn Lasky, 2012-02-28 When a beautiful teen with polio enters their lives a girl and her older brother find themselves drawn into a web of lies in this compelling novel by a best selling author Age 10 and up Eleven year old Georgie loves science fiction movies but she won t be going to the theater anytime soon It s a hot Indiana summer in 1952 and public places from pools to camps are closing to slow the spread of polio Despite all the headlines Georgie never thought she d come as close to the fearful disease as she does when she spies a silver glint in her neighbor s yard There she discovers a monstrous hissing machine and inside is Phyllis a girl encased in an iron lung I have eighty seven cubic centimeters of air but you have the world Phyllis tells her Phyllis s ability to breathe may be limited but her strength to manipulate is boundless As Georgie struggles to comprehend this once gorgeous teenager s life in a coffin with legs Phyllis slowly weaves a web of lies that snare all those around her including Georgie s quickly smitten brother Can Georgie untangle the truth before Phyllis s deception achieves its inevitable end Children's Biographies of African American Women Sara C. VanderHaagen, 2018-11-15 A study of how rhetoric has shaped the life stories of African American role models in children's literature In Children's Biographies of African American Women Rhetoric Public Memory and Agency Sara C VanderHaagen examines how these biographies encourage young readers to think about themselves as agents in a public world Specifically VanderHaagen illustrates how these works use traditional means to serve progressive ends and thereby examines the rhetorical power of biography in shaping identity and promoting public action Drawing on scholarship in rhetoric memory studies and children's literature VanderHaagen presents rhetorical analyses of biographies of three African American women poet Phillis Wheatley activist Sojourner Truth and educator turned politician Shirley Chisholm published in the United States during the twentieth and twenty first centuries VanderHaagen begins by analyzing how biographical sketches in books for black children published during the 1920s represent Wheatley and Truth The study then shifts to books published between 1949 and 2015 VanderHaagen uses a concept adapted from philosopher Paul Ricoeur the idea of the agential spiral to chart the ways that biographies have used rhetoric to shape the life stories of Wheatley Truth and Chisholm By bringing a critical rhetorical perspective to the study of biographies for children this book advances the understanding of how lives of the past are used persuasively to shape identity and encourage action in the contemporary public world VanderHaagen contributes to the study of rhetoric and African American children's literature and refocuses the field of memory studies on children's biographies a significant but often overlooked genre through which public memories first take shape
