A Taste Of The World:

A Taste of Progress: Food at International and World Exhibitions in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Professor Peter Scholliers, Dr Nelleke Teughels, 2015-11-28 World exhibitions have been widely acknowledged as important sources for understanding the development of the modern consumer and urbanized society yet whilst the function and purpose of architecture at these major events has been well studied the place of food has received very little attention Food stood as a powerful semiotic device for communicating and maintaining conceptions of identity history traditions and progress of inclusion and exclusion making it a valuable tool for researching the construction of national or corporate sentiments Combining recent developments in food studies and the history of major international exhibitions this volume provides a refreshing alternative view of these international and intercultural spectacles

A Taste of the World Little Little Gestalten, 2019-04-30 Takes children on a culinary journey around the world teaching them about new cultures and landscapes through different foods This illustrated non fiction book explains facts with interesting references and stories that spark curiosity about the different history and cultures of the world As children learn about foods they also understand how the environment and cultural practice can shape the way we eat By the end they will have learned about different cuisines and cultures with a thought about how we all share these widely today

A Taste of God T. van den Hoogen, 2011 In the course of the 20th century a new worldview has arisen in Western society and culture that is defined in this book as immanent mysticism Several major philosophers are sensitive to such a sense of immanent mysticism The same sensitivity is noticeable in the works of poets painters and other artists It expresses the desire for transforming the way to meaningful living A Taste of God shows that theological research programs are innovated by insights from aesthetics and studies of spirituality The book's research indicates that contemporary Western culture requires a reframing of foundational theology Series Nijmegen Studies in Theology Vol 3
