The Data-Driven School Daniel M. Hyson, Joseph F. Kovalski, Benjamin Silberglitt, Jason A. Pedersen, 2020-07-10 This indispensable practitioner's guide helps to build the capacity of school psychologists, administrators, and teachers to use data in collaborative decision making. It presents an applied step-by-step approach for creating and running effective data teams within a problem-solving framework. The authors describe innovative ways to improve academic and behavioral outcomes at the individual, class, grade, school, and district levels. Applications of readily available technology tools are highlighted. In a large size format for easy photocopying, the book includes learning activities and helpful reproducible forms. The companion website provides downloadable copies of the reproducible forms as well as Excel spreadsheets, PowerPoint slides, and an online-only chapter on characteristics of effective teams. This book is in The Guilford Practical Intervention in the Schools Series edited by Sandra M. Chafouleas. The Fluency Construct Kelli D. Cummings, Yaacov Petscher, 2015-12-11 This book provides a comprehensive overview of fluency as a construct and its assessment in the context of curriculum-based measurement (CBM). Comparing perspectives from language acquisition, reading, and mathematics, the book parses the vagueness and complexities surrounding fluency concepts and their resulting impact on testing, intervention, and students' educational development. Applications of this knowledge in screening and testing ideas for creating more targeted measures and advanced methods for studying fluency data demonstrate the overall salience of fluency within CBM. Throughout, contributors argue for greater specificity and nuance in isolating skills to be measured and improved and for terminology that reflects those educational benchmarks. Included in the coverage: Indicators of fluent writing in beginning writers; Fluency in language acquisition, reading, and mathematics; Foundations of fluency-based assessments in behavioral and psychometric paradigms; Using response time and accuracy data to inform the measurement of fluency; Using individual growth curves to model reading fluency; Latent class analysis for reading fluency research. The Fluency Construct: Curriculum-Based Measurement Concepts and Applications is an essential resource for researchers, graduate students, and professionals in clinical child and school psychology, language and literature, applied linguistics, special education, neuropsychology, and social work. Practitioner's Guide to Curriculum-Based Evaluation in Reading Jason E. Harlacher, Tami L. Sakellaris, Nicole M. Kattelman, 2013-12-11 The educators are dedicated and concerned. The curriculum is successful. Yet some students aren't reading at grade level and meetings air problems without making progress. Many students continue to flounder, leading to more meetings with the same lack of meaningful results. The Practitioner's Guide to Curriculum-Based Evaluation in Reading gives researchers and professionals the means to break this frustrating cycle, crafted by authors who have not only been there and done that but can explain in depth how to replicate the method. Focusing on reading but applicable across subject areas, this highly accessible guide defines curriculum-based evaluation (CBE), provides conceptual background, and analyzes its component steps. Assessment and intervention are given equal attention within a problem-solving model featuring tools for skill assessment progress monitoring goal setting and other bedrock tasks Chapters build to lead readers beyond classroom strategies to guidelines for problem solving and decision making to effectively address individual student needs Included in the coverage The curriculum based evaluation process Relating CBE to the Multi Tier System of Support model Using CBE in daily practice both in classwork and schoolwide Decoding early literacy and reading comprehension Progress monitoring and decision making Plus FAQs handouts and other supplemental materials This level of educational insight and pedagogical detail make the Practitioner s Guide to Curriculum Based Evaluation in Reading a clarion call for researchers graduate students and professionals in school and clinical child psychology assessment testing and evaluation applied linguistics language education special education and allied education educational psychology and social work Writing Instruction and Intervention for Struggling Writers Michael Dunn,2019-11-18 Writing is a challenging task for many children To address this issue many educational researchers advocate for schools to implement a multi tiered systems of support MTSS model where struggling writers can be detected as early as kindergarten and provided with intervention programming to improve their skills and hopefully not need long term placement in special education Traditionally schools have employed the wait to fail model where children were offered the opportunity to learn to read write and do math in the first few years of elementary school if they still struggled at the end of third grade age eight then they would be assessed for special education The problem with this was not only a delayed assessment timeline but also the standardized tests not having an adequate set of questions to assess early elementary grade skills as well as the ethical problems and racial ethnic biases of test questions MTSS provides educators with a renewed emphasis on early intervention and progress monitoring assessment once or twice a week to monitor each student s skills and make instructional changes to promote success This book offers a description and case examples of how schools and teachers can apply MTSS concepts for writing Writing Assessment and Instruction for Students with Learning Disabilities Nancy Mather,Barbara J.
