

The sky cleared
I was standing
under a tree.

and there were stars in the sky
that were also themselves
at the moment

at which moment
my right hand
was holding my left hand which was holding the tree which was filled with stars and the soft rain —
imagine! Imagine!
the long and wondrous journeys
still to be ours.

decades now Adam Gopnik has been one of our most beloved writers a brilliantly perceptive critic of art food France and more But recently he became obsessed by a more fundamental matter one he had often meditated on in The New Yorker How do masters learn their miraculous skill whether it was drawing a museum ready nude or baking a perfect sourdough loaf How could anyone become so good at anything There seemed to be a fundamental mystery to mastery Was it possible to unravel it In The Real Work the term magicians use for the accumulated craft that makes for a great trick Gopnik becomes a dedicated student of several masters of their craft a classical painter a boxer a dancing instructor a driving instructor and others Rejecting self help bromides and bullet points he nevertheless shows that the top people in any field share a set of common qualities and methods For one their mastery is always a process of breaking down and building up of identifying and perfecting the small constituent parts of a skill and the combining them for an overall effect greater than the sum of those parts For another mastery almost always involves intentional imperfection as in music where vibrato a way of not quite landing on the right note carries maximum expressiveness Gopnik s simplest and most invigorating lesson however is that we are surrounded by mastery Far from rare mastery is commonplace if we only know where to look from the parent who can whip up a professional strudel to the social worker who in one of the most personally revealing passages Gopnik has ever written helps him master his own demons Spirited and profound The Real Work will help you understand how mastery can happen in your own life and significantly why each of us relentlessly seeks to better ourselves in the first place Everyday Magic Marie D. Reaching Deeper Laurel

Hallman, 2008-05-27 A sermon is an event in a particular time and place with a particular preacher and congregation With the exception of one essay and one sermon preached in a larger context the place was The First Unitarian Church of Dallas Texas a church firmly in the Bible Belt with a people seeking open minded and open hearted wisdom for life clarity of purpose and the nourishment of worshipping together in the music silence prayer and preaching of a specific Unitarian Universalist Church These sermons are an inadequate representation of what happened when they were preached And in turn they are an inadequate effort by the preacher who after all is human They were preached each week whether the preacher was ready or not They have been slightly edited for clarity but remain largely as a text for preaching That is to say the sentences are often incomplete and the text sometimes follows a circuitous path to make a point That said this selection of sermons taken as a whole represents the deepening of a congregation and minister over time and should be read with the grace and forgiveness that was present when they were delivered
