Pro Ecclesia Vol 27-N2 Pro Ecclesia, 2018-04-30 Pro Ecclesia is a quarterly journal of theology published by the Center for Catholic and Evangelical Theology

Being Christian in Education Bryan Hazel, 2015-10-27 Experienced practitioners theologians and academics reflect on the Christian voice as it engages in education today At a time of national uncertainty for RE questions about faith based schools and the place of religious belief in the public arena this volume offers a creative exploration of the future for Christian engagement in education

Annual Review of the Sociology of Religion. Volume 4 (2013), 2013-11-21 Prayer is a phenomenon which seems to be characteristic not only of participants in every religion but also men and women who do not identify with traditional religions It can be practised even by those who do not believe either in a God or transcendent force In this sense therefore we may assert that the prayer is a typically human activity that has accompanied the development of different civilizations over the course of the centuries Both the material issues of concrete daily life as well as more symbolic elements expressed through words gestures body positions and community celebration are brought together in the act of praying

The Religious Lives of Older Laywomen Abby Day, 2017 The Religious Lives of Older Laywomen draws on ethnographic fieldwork cross cultural comparisons and relevant theories exploring the beliefs identities and practices of Generation A Anglican laywomen born in the 1920s and 1930s Now in their 70s 80s and 90s they are often described as the backbone of the Church and likely its final active generation The prevalence of laywomen in mainstream Christian congregations is a widely accepted phenomenon that will cause little surprise amongst the research community or Christian adherents What is surprising is that we know so little about them Generation A laywomen have remained largely invisible in previous work on institutional religion in Euro American countries particularly as the focus on religion and gender has turned to youth sexuality and priesthood Female Christian Generation A is on the cusp of a catastrophic decline in mainstream Christianity that accelerated during the post war post 1945 age The age profile of mainstream Christianity represents an increasingly aging pattern with Generation A not being replaced by their children or grandchildren the Baby Boomers and generations X Y and Z Generation A is irreplaceable and unique Generation shares specific values beliefs behaviors and orientations therefore when this generation finally disappears within the next five to 10 years their knowledge insights and experiences will be lost forever Abby Day both documents and interprets their religious lives and what we can learn about them and more widely about contemporary Christianity and its future very world which confronted Daniel and his friends Phenomenal Sydney Marcia Cameron, 2016-10-19 The Diocese of Sydney is admired hated loved and feared While often criticized as no longer Anglican it has at its heart an adherence to classic Anglicanism While to some it is a beacon in the darkness to others it is like a threatening bushfire It is very large very wealthy and very influential in other places Its opposition to ordaining women priests and in many parishes to women preaching mystifies and angers many Anglicans within and outside its boundaries What makes this diocese such a phenomenon The answer lies in its history in the men and women who shaped it in a particular view of the authority of the Bible and in the influence wielded by some powerful institutions that have prospered Its energy comes from the Scriptural mandate for mission to bring the outsider into the community of Christian people but not to leave it there To educate them in the knowledge of Christ in a variety of creative and imaginative ways This book also looks at what Sydney has done badly It may help readers to learn from its past achievements and its mistakes The Living Church ,1942 Representing God Méadhbh McIvor, 2020-10-06 Over the past two decades increasing numbers of Britons possessing Christian views and beliefs have taken to the courts to enforce what are framed as religious rights under both European and domestic legislation These cases typically involve Christians who have been penalized for seeking faith based exemptions from their conditions of employment e g Christian registrars who claim a conscientious objection to registering the marriages or civil partnerships of same sex couples or employees who ask for exceptions to uniform policies that forbid the visible wearing of religious jewellery crosses and crucifixes Observers of American politics and culture will be familiar with the view that devout Christians are victims of secular intolerance American right wing evangelical groups have launched well funded legal challenges to federal and state laws with a view to establishing opt out or conscientious objection provisions of the sort noted above Some of these cases will be heard by the U S Supreme Court soon The American connection to the English controversies is direct as the legal activism of English lobby organizations such as the Christian Legal Centre CLC is inspired by American conservative legal strategies and CLC also receives donations from American sources Although it should be noted that most of CLC s donor base is English This is an especially delicate matter in England a country which maintains an established Church but which remains wary of those who do God in public This book is an ethnographic investigation of this contemporary issue and is based on the author s two years of ethnographic research split between a conservative Christian lobby group CLC and a conservative evangelical church in London The author reveals that evangelicals on the ground are deeply ambivalent about the impact of this legal theology Although some wholeheartedly support the legal battles waged by organizations like CLC and see them as essential for allowing them to discharge their missionary obligations others are concerned about the possible negative consequences of using secular law as a vehicle for their faith and the potential damage such legal strategies might do to their efforts to spread the Gospel The Future of the Professions Richard E. Susskind, Daniel Susskind, 2015 This book predicts the decline of today s professions and describes the people and systems that will replace them In an Internet society according to Richard Susskind and Daniel Susskind we will neither need nor want doctors teachers accountants architects the clergy consultants lawyers and many others to work as they did in the 20th century The Future of the Professions explains how increasingly capable systems from telepresence to artificial intelligence will bring fundamental change in the way that the practical expertise of specialists is made available in society The authors challenge the grand bargain the arrangement that grants various monopolies to today's professionals They argue that our current professions are antiquated opaque and no longer affordable and that the expertise of their best is enjoyed only by a few In their place they propose six new models for producing and distributing expertise in society The book raises important practical and moral questions In an era when machines can outperform human beings at most tasks what are the prospects for employment who should own and control online expertise and what tasks should be reserved exclusively for people Based on the authors in depth research of more than ten professions and illustrated by numerous examples from each this is the first book to assess and question the relevance of the professions in the 21st century

Congregational Song in the Worship of the Church William L. Hooper, 2020-03-20 This book is a study of how congregational song developed and has been used in the worship of Western churches in general and specifically churches in the United States Beginning with the worship of ancient peoples the Hebrews and early Christians and continuing to the present the author examines historically how song has been and is used as an intentional sacred ritual action like prayer or Scripture reading Written primarily as an introductory text for college and seminary students the overall goal is to make a historical journey with the people events and ideas from which have evolved the various types of song we have in American worship today To help readers think more deeply about the material study questions are given at the end of each chapter

Christian-Muslim Dialogue in Northern Nigeria Thaddeus Byimui Umaru, 2013-08-14 Religion as a powerful impulse in human existence plays a paradoxical role in society as it both contributes significantly in shaping the spiritual socio political and economic lives of millions of people and also acts as a source of conflict The sad experience of interreligious conflict in Northern Nigeria challenges the claim of Islam and Christianity to be religions of peace However understood as closely intertwined with culture and custom of a people religion can be central in the establishment of peace and conflict resolution in and between communities This text using the model of
