Exploring non-human work in tourism Jillian M. Rickly, Carol Kline, 2021-02-22 Critical animal studies is increasingly interfacing with tourism research in an effort to shed light on the various ways animals are incorporated into touristic experience Exploring non human work in tourism From beasts of burden to animal ambassadors builds upon the theoretical connections of animal ethics agency and welfare as it foregrounds specifically the work that animals perform in the industry While some types of animal labor are more readily identified readers of this volume may be surprised by how many forms of animal labor are overlooked Taking a widely international perspective with cases from the Arctic China Costa Rica China Finland Greece Mexico New Zealand and the United Kingdom this volume offers readers diverse scenarios of animals working The book is arranged along three themes of work Performative work focuses on the animals whose performances are front and center of tourists motivations and experiences Value added work turns attention to the co working relationships of animals while the political work of animals as ambassadors and icons is examined within the chapters on hidden labor Additionally the book makes theoretical considerations of the implications of positioning animals as workers and offers reflections on ways this focus on working animals extends current scholarship in the field

The Philosophy of Animal Rights, Animal Ethics in the Wild Catia Faria, 2022-12-22 Animals like humans suffer and die from natural causes This is particularly true of animals living in the wild given their high exposure to and low capacity to cope with harmful natural processes Most wild animals likely have short lives full of suffering usually ending in terrible deaths This book argues that on the assumption that we have reasons to assist others in need we should intervene in nature to prevent or reduce the harms wild animals suffer provided that it is feasible and that the expected result is positive overall It is of the utmost importance that academics from different disciplines as well as animal advocates begin to confront this issue The more people are concerned with wild animal suffering the more probable it is that safe and effective solutions to the plight of wild animals will be implemented in the future

Ethical and Political Approaches to Nonhuman Animal Issues Andrew Woodhall, Gabriel Garmendia da Trindade, 2017-08-28 This book offers ethical and political approaches to issues that nonhuman animals face The recent political turn in interspecies ethics from ethical to political approaches has arisen due to the apparent lack of success of the nonhuman animal movement and dissatisfaction with traditional approaches Current works largely present general positions rather than address specific issues and principally rely on mainstream approaches This book offers alternative positions such as cosmopolitan libertarian and left humanist thought as well as applying ethical and political thought to specific issues such as experimentation factory farming nonhuman political agency and intervention Presenting work by theorists and activists insights are offered from both ethics and politics that impact theory and practice and offer essential considerations for those engaging in interspecies ethics within the political turn era

The Animal Catalyst Patricia MacCormack, 2014-06-19 The Animal Catalyst deals with the question of what is an animal and also in some instances what is a human It pushes critical animal studies in important new directions it re examines basic assumptions suggests new paradigms for how we can live and function ecologically in a world that is not simply ours It argues that it is not enough to recognise the ethical demands placed upon us by our encounters with animals or to critique our often murderous treatment of them this simply reinforces human exceptionalism Featuring contributions from leading academics lawyers artists and activists the book examines key issues such as How compassion for animals reinforces ideas of what distinguishes human beings from other animals How speciesism and human centrality are built into the legal system How individualist subjectivity works in relation to animals who may not think of themselves in the same way How any consideration of animal others must involve a radical deconstruction of our very notion of the human How art philosophy and literature can both avoid speciesism and deliver the human from subjectivity This volume is a unique project which stands at the cutting edge of both animal rights philosophies and posthuman artistic abstract philosophies of identity It will be of great interest to undergraduates and researchers in philosophy ethics particularly continental philosophy critical theory and cultural studies

Australian Animal Law Elizabeth Ellis, 2022-07-01 Australian Animal Law Context and Critique provides comprehensive information about the legal and regulatory framework governing the interaction between humans and animals By relating specific content areas to the discipline s broader characteristics and themes researcher Elizabeth Ellis exposes the systemic nature of current problems and the consequent need for significant change This book also illustrates the role of official animal protection narratives in legitimising the existing system despite the many factual flaws they contain Ellis covers the major areas of animal law in detail incorporating accessible contextual material and allowing readers to consolidate their understanding and build upon their knowledge Key areas include the concept of unnecessary animal suffering the effective exemption of most animals from the operation of cruelty laws regulatory conflicts of interest the hidden nature of animal use and the lack of transparency in animal law Australian Animal Law is an essential resource inviting reflection on the way the law helps to construct the relationship between human and non human animals including through its silences and omissions
