

The background of the book cover is a vibrant, painterly illustration of a large field. In the foreground, there are dense patches of yellow and blue flowers. In the middle ground, several small figures of people are scattered across the field, some appearing to be working or walking. The background features a line of green trees under a sky with soft, colorful clouds in shades of purple, pink, and blue.

Issues in Career Development Donald Thompson,John Patrick,Grafton T. Eliason,2005-11-01 This volume will examine the historical emergence of the concept of career including early ideas about the meaning and role of work and how it fits with life The concept of career development is of relatively recent origin It was not until the early 20th Century that serious attention was given to the role of work and career as it applied to the common man While the concept of vocation has historical roots that date back centuries vocation or calling was typically only applied to the professions of the clergy law and medicine These individuals had careers while the common man had a job Perhaps the most significant event that changed both the labor market and the associated socio cultural values about work was the 2nd World War The technological advances that were brought about by the war were profound in terms of changing the nature of work and the war brought about a significant change in the gender makeup of our labor force as millions of women entered the labor market to support the war effort The combined effects of technology a radical new value system and a burgeoning economy changed everything

Art that Tells the Truth Reinekke Lengelle, Deirdre Hughes, Liane

Hambly,2024-06-28 Creative Methods are a shortcut to what we didn't know we knew. In working from a student's or client's own imagination and psychological material a person discovers who they are and what they need to expand and move forward. This enriching and inspiring book on creative methods demonstrates the power and effectiveness of the creative approach in guidance and counselling settings. The twenty chapters in this volume focus on the importance and joys of play, creative expression and imagination in effective learning as we develop, observe and interact with our own creations; we can arrive at fresh insights by tapping into the wisdom of the unconscious mind. Creative methods often provide a new perspective on difficult emotions and allow us to perceive what they're trying to tell us. Chapter topics include the following: Embodied Theatre Ecology, the Use of Poetry with Clients Recovering from Anorexia, Retirement Life Writing, the Value of Metaphors in Grieving, the Construction of New Narrative Identities in Careers, Dance Movement Psychotherapy as an Approach to Depression, Psychodrama and Philosophy in Learning Self-care by Encountering the Unknown, Other Artistic Tools for Psychotherapeutic Work with Children and Youth, Temporal Chair Work, Identity Learning through Paintings and the ways in which Poetry can Help us Bridge Cultural Divides and Inform Career Learning Practices. This volume will be of value and interest to students, researchers, teachers, professionals and practitioners of psychology, behavioural sciences, mental health, counselling and education. The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues in the British Journal of Guidance and Counselling.

Exploring New Horizons in Career Counselling Kobus Maree, Annamaria Di

Fabio,2015-11-03 This book brings together eminent global theorists and practitioners to share their views on the evolution of career counselling in recent decades. Multiple changes of a fundamental and complex nature as well as related challenges in the world of work have necessitated career counselling to undergo such an evolution. The authors examine the future nature and scope of new directions in the field of career counselling psychology and they critically reflect on as well as promote the predominant theoretical and conceptual framework of the field of career counselling. The latest models and methods in and for the 21st century are explored and teased out, including Mark Savickas' proposal to shift the focus in interventions from conceptualising the self as content to seeing the self as a process. This approach is in keeping with the notion of career as a story and consistent with leading theories such as Jean Guichard's self-construction framework and the life design paradigm. The authors deliver an avant-garde text that is easy to read and use without diluting the conceptual and terminological complexities of the field. The book is an invaluable resource for new, emerging and experienced researchers, academics, scholars, researchers, psychologists, social workers, teachers and clients. It merges what is known about the field with emerging approaches. It gives an overview of theoretical paradigms that can be applied to a changing world of work. It makes a critical analysis of germane questions such as: What does the future hold for the field of career counselling and how can challenges be turned into opportunities? and How can different paradigms, approaches and strategies be harnessed to promote clients' career, life, wellbeing and resilience? It facilitates an understanding of the skills necessary to deal with career related transitions challenges and barriers to help people acquire transferable career life skills and career choice readiness It examines the importance of career adaptability and how people can develop this vital 21st century survival competency It challenges career counsellors to grasp and acquire skills to promote and advocate social justice agendas It promotes and demonstrates the exciting and promising notion of dialogue writing to enhance the dialogical work of the career counsellor and client Individually and collectively the authors team up to blend retrospect and prospect and they make a concerted effort to convert 21st century challenges and frontiers in career counselling into opportunities hurt into hope hopelessness into inspiration
