

2. Planning and research

Your teacher will have helped you study your text and taught you how to approach the topics. He or she will now advise you on how to carry out further research and plan for your task.

- During this phase you can work with others, for example discussing ideas and sharing resources on the internet.
- Your teacher can give you general feedback during this phase, but not detailed advice.
- You must keep a record of all the source materials you use, including websites.

3. Writing up the response

This will take place under timed, supervised conditions.

- It may be split into more than one session, in which case your teacher will collect your work at the end of the session and put it away until the beginning of the next. You will not have access to it between sessions.
- You may be allowed to take an unpenalised copy of the text into the session.
- You may be allowed to take in some brief notes.
- You may be allowed access to a dictionary or a thesaurus.
- You may be allowed to produce your permanent electronically, but you will not be allowed access to the internet, word, slide or memory sticks.
- During this time, you may not communicate with other candidates. The work you produce must be entirely your own.
- Your teacher will advise you on how much you should aim to write.

4. Marking

Your Controlled Assessment Task will be marked by your teacher and moderated (supervised and checked) by your exam board.

General marking rules

Remember:

- you will get marks for responding to the task, but not for writing other material that is irrelevant
- you must produce an individual response to the task to be final assessment, even if you have discussed ideas with other students previously

How to succeed in AQA English Literature

Your teacher will decide whether you should write about Macbeth as a Controlled Assessment Task (Unit 2) or an Examination Unit (3). These two units are very different, so you need to be absolutely sure which one you are taking. If you are in any doubt, ask your teacher.

Teacher's tip

Refer back to pages 106-7 for more about the assessment objectives you will be assessed on in Unit 2 (Controlled Assessment) or Unit 3 (Exam).

Unit 2 (Controlled Assessment Task)

If you take this unit, you have to write about a Shakespeare play and one other text that your teacher will choose. It may be a novel, a selection of poems, another play or even another Shakespeare play. The two texts will be linked in some way and you are expected to write about both.

The task

AQA will give your teacher a number of tasks to choose from. There are two main types:

1. Themes and ideas

These tasks might involve writing about power and conflict, the supernatural and fate, ambition, loyalty and heroism. For example: Explain the ways in which power affects the supernatural in the texts you have studied or Explain the ways in which power and fate affect loyalty in the texts you have studied.

2. Characterisation and voice

These tasks might involve writing about relationships, the presentation of good or evil characters, or characters who change in some way. For example: Explain the ways the texts present darkness, or the texts you have studied or Explain the ways the texts show how people can be influenced by others in the texts you have studied.

How to succeed

- You have to complete a written response to CPD tasks. This should be about 2,000 words, but remember that it's quality not quantity that counts.
- You have 1½ hours to produce your work. Your teacher will probably ask you to complete the task over separate sessions rather than in a single sitting.
