An Introduction To Zimbabwean Law:

An Introduction to Zimbabwean Law Lovemore Madhuku, 2010 This is an introductory textbook on the Zimbabwean legal system. It sets the stage for a comprehensive description of that legal system by opening with some theoretical issues on the nature of law in general, particularly a definition of law, the role and purpose of law in society, the relationship between law and justice, and how morality impacts on law. After outlining this theoretical framework, it turns to the Zimbabwean legal system and covers the following key areas: sources of Zimbabwean law, the scope of Roman Dutch law in Zimbabwe, the law making process, and the role of Parliament, the structure of the courts in Zimbabwe, the procedures in the civil and criminal courts, the legal aid system, and the nature of the legal profession. It covers the process of appointment of judges and its effect on the independence of the judiciary. It has a long closing chapter on the interpretation of statutes covering all the rules, maxims, and presumptions.

An Introduction to Zimbabwean Business Law I. Bampton, D. Drury, 1988 Madhuku:

Labour Law in Zimbabwe, 2023-01-10 This is a comprehensive textbook on Zimbabwean labour law. After detailing the history and purpose of the law, it offers a comprehensive review of contracts of employment, termination, the rights of organisation and association, and collective bargaining. Dispute settlement is discussed within the contexts of the right to strike, conciliation, and arbitration, and the role of the courts in adjudication. State employment is treated separately as it is governed by constitutional law as well as labour law. The book concludes with chapters covering aspects of social security in Zimbabwe and a discussion on international labour law.

Performing Power in Zimbabwe Susanne Verheul, 2021-09-09 Focusing on political trials in Zimbabwe's Magistrates Courts between 2000 and 2012, Susanne Verheul explores why the judiciary have remained a central site of contestation in post-independence Zimbabwe. Drawing on rich court observations and in-depth interviews, this book foregrounds law's potential to reproduce or transform social and political power through the narrative material and sensory dimensions of courtroom performances. Instead of viewing appeals to law as acts of resistance by marginalised orders for inclusion in dominant modes of rule, Susanne Verheul argues that it was not recognition by but of this formal rule-bound ordering and the form of citizenship it stood for that was at stake in performative legal engagements. In this manner, law was much more than a mere instrument. Law was a site in which competing conceptions of political authority were given expression and in which people's understandings of themselves as citizens were formed and performed.

International and Foreign Legal Research Marci Hoffman, Mary Rumsey, 2012-04-19 International and Foreign Legal Research A Coursebook, second edition by Hoffman and Rumsey, now in a second edition, is designed for classes in foreign and international legal research. Topics covered in the book range from treaty research to chapters on particular subjects of international law. Coverage also includes chapters on researching foreign and comparative law, as well as major international organizations including the UN and the EU.

Legal Protection of Foreign Direct Investment. A Critical Assessment with Focus on South Africa and Zimbabwe Talkmore Chidede, 2016-09 This study undertakes a critical assessment of the legal protection of foreign direct investments FDI in South Africa and Zimbabwe by determining their compliance with the international minimum standards norms and or best practices on the legal protection of FDI by host states Firstly the study argues that foreign investment is much needed in South Africa and Zimbabwe to improve economic growth and development to create jobs and to increase their competitiveness However these benefits are not accrued automatically but rather host states need to create an enabling environment to receive such benefits Thus host states need to put an investment scheme into operation to guarantee the legal protection of foreign investments South Africa and Zimbabwe have at large crafted and implemented investment laws and related policies which tend to be hostile towards foreign investments Therefore similar investment laws and related policies in both jurisdictions are analysed This study will also offer recommendations for a legal investment which is not only flexible friendly and favourable to foreign investment in South Africa and Zimbabwe but also advances their local economic policies

Mixed Jurisdictions Worldwide Vernon Valentine Palmer, 2012-06-28 This examination of the mixed jurisdiction experience makes use of an innovative cross comparative methodology to provide a wealth of detail on each of the nine countries studied It identifies the deep resemblances and salient traits of this legal family and the broad analytical overview highlights the family links while providing a detailed individual treatment of each country which reveals their individual personalities This updated second edition includes two new countries Botswana and Malta and the appendices explore all other mixed jurisdictions and contain a special report on Cameroon

African Law(s) Salvatore Mancuso, 2023-09-29 This book takes a comparative law perspective and proposes a new approach for researching law in Africa Western theoretical perspectives in comparative law are too Eurocentric to fully catch the peculiarities and characteristics of the African lawscape in short they are inadequate for studying African law In this book Professor Salvatore Mancuso considers the law in Africa from a different perspective Deeply rooted in the culture of the African people this approach considers African legal culture with the same legitimacy as Western legal culture setting a precedent for future policy making decisions relating to legislative development in Africa

THE IMPLEMENTATION OF MODERN AFRICAN CONSTITUTIONS: Challenges and Prospects Charles M. Fombad, Nathaniel A Inegbedion, Thulani R Maseko, Lukman Abdulrauf, Tinashe Chigwata, Donald Rukare, Wandisa Phama, Palesa Madi, Makanatsa Makonese, Kamotho Waiganjo, Jane R Serwanga, 2016-12-30

Negotiating Law, Policing and Morality in African Chingozha, Misheck P., Mawere, Munyaradzi, 2015-09-04 The relationship between police and the public in formerly colonised countries of Africa has never been smooth It is plagued with cliches of suspicion mistrust and brutality which are all a result of the legacy of draconian policing in colonial Africa This colonial hangover has chiefly been an upshot of sluggish switching from the mantra of colonial policing to community progressive policing advocated in democratic societies This book the result of five years of ethnographic and library research on the interaction and relationships between police and members of the public in Zimbabwe is a clarion call for a generative progressive working together between the police and the public for a peaceful and orderly society While it traces the historical trends and nature of policing in Africa and in particular Zimbabwe the book demonstrates how law morality and policing enrich one another The book offers critical insights in the interpretation of contemporary policing in Zimbabwe with a view to inform and draw lessons for both police and the public It should be of interest not only to legal anthropologists but also political scientists members of the public police instructors police officers and students and educators in academic disciplines such as criminal justice criminology law sociology African studies and leadership and conflict management The Balancing of Interests in Environmental Law in Africa Willemien Du Plessis,2011 Now that economic development is starting to pick up in many countries in Africa the question arises how such development can be balanced with the need for adequate environmental protection This crucial issue inherent in the notion of sustainable development is addressed in this innovative and path breaking volume For the first time academics from seventeen African countries have joined forces to analyse the way in which economic and environmental interests are balanced in their legal systems The authors all use a common framework to improve the comparability of the country studies The different country related chapters do not only provide insights into the formally applicable legal rules law in the books but given that the book brings together academics aware of the practice in Africa they also describe the way in which environmental policy functions in practice law in action Many case studies with conceptual analyses are provided of pollution incidents and the way in which administrative agencies or courts have on those occasions balanced the interests between the economy society and the environment A critical comparative analysis by the editors points at tendencies towards convergence and points of divergence between the African countries Suggestions for policy reform are also formulated showing African countries how they can benefit from experiences in the US and Europe This thought provoking volume is a must for anyone academic policymaker or practitioner interested in sustainable development generally and in Africa in particular P 4 of cover Routledge Handbook of Critical African Heritage Studies Ashton Sinamai,John D.

Giblin,Shadreck Chirikure,Ishanlosen Odiaua,2024-09-06 This handbook is a foundational reference point for critical heritage research about Africa and its diaspora Foregrounding the diversity of knowledge systems needed to examine heritage issues in such a diverse continent the contributors to this volume argue for an understanding heritage that is at once both natural and cultural tangible and intangible political and dissonant going beyond the physical and objective to include subjective narratives performances rituals memories and emotions examine the pre coloniality coloniality post coloniality and decoloniality of current African heritage discourses and their consequences analyse how heritage legislation derived from colonial law is compatible or otherwise with how heritage is perceived identified and remembered in African communities discuss questions of repatriation restitution and reparations in relation to the return of artefacts from Western countries illuminate the importance of difficult heritage within Africa and its diaspora consider the role of heritage for development in Africa Making a crucial contribution to our understanding of African conceptions and practices of heritage this book is an

Human Rights, Power and Civic Action Bård A. Andreassen, Gordon Crawford, 2013-07-18 Human Rights Power and Civic Action examines the interrelationship between struggles for human rights and the dynamics of power focusing on situations of poverty and oppression in developing countries It is argued that the concept of power is a relatively neglected one in the study of rights based approaches to development especially the ways in which structures and relations of power can limit human rights advocacy Therefore this book focuses on how local and national struggles for rights have been constrained by power relations and structural inequalities as well as the extent to which civic action has been able to challenge alter or transform such power structures and simultaneously to enhance protection of people s basic human rights Contributors examine and compare struggles to advance human rights by non governmental actors in Cambodia China Ghana Kenya South Africa and Zimbabwe The country case studies analyse structures of power responsible for the negation and denial of human rights as well as how rights promoting organisations challenge such structures Utilising a comparative approach the book provides empirically grounded studies leading to new theoretical understanding of the interrelationships between human rights struggles power and poverty reduction Human Rights Power and Civic Action will be of interest to students and scholars of human rights politics power development and governance

Neo-Liberal Urban Development in Post-Colonial Zimbabwe Terence Tapiwa Muzorewa, 2025-07-14 This book investigates the role of private land developers in the development of Ruwa Town in post colonial Zimbabwe Whereas other post colonial established towns in the country emerged from direct public investment through the Growth Point policy Ruwa emerged from a public private partnership approach The development of Ruwa Town is therefore a valuable example of a new post colonial experience in urban planning and development which is a clear departure from the colonial town planning which was premised on racial segregation This book offers unique insights into the historical context the role of private developers in the growth of the city the impact of their involvement bringing a comparative analysis with state led development It offers a valuable contribution to the field of urban studies particularly within the context of urban development in post colonial Zimbabwe and in Africa
