Clauset, Dale W. Lick, Carlene U. Murphy, 2008-05-15 Clearly shows the success that can occur when a staff learns together I highly recommend this book to aspiring and beginning principals as well as those with years of experience Paul Young Executive Director West After School Center Former President National Association of Elementary School Principals Foster schoolwide professional learning through a collaborative action research model Action research is a popular method for individual educators to examine their practices and grow in their profession In this how to guide readers will learn how Whole Faculty Study Groups WFSGs use action research to involve an entire school in advancing staff learning and school performance The WFSG model is a type of professional learning community PLC that catalyzes school change with schoolwide action research as a central component With over 20 years of experience the authors draw from hundreds of examples and case studies to describe how implementing WFSGs can help students teachers administrators and other staff members work collaboratively to improve teacher practice and student learning The authors empirical data and comprehensive approach help deepen educators understanding of how to use meaningful action research to strengthen teamwork and realize school reform Additionally readers will learn how The WFSG system compares with other approaches to action research The schoolwide action research process can be applied in a wide variety of school reform efforts Study groups can move from discussion to action Principals and district leaders can support schoolwide action research Discover the ways WFSGs can enhance student learning and result in real school improvement in this highly relevant must have guide Democracy at a Crossroads Gregory L. Samuels, Amy Samuels, 2019-06-01 At a time of questionable civility in American politics democratic education appears to be at a crossroads As we consider how to best explore democracy and foster a more civically engaged populace in the current socio political context it is critical to examine what frames our educational systems policies and practices and shapes our civic identity While teachers struggle with decreased instructional time for social studies and the demands of standardized tests the social sciences are often pushed to the margins Reflecting on how to negotiate local state national and global tensions related to policy and practice educators work to do what is best to equip students to foster democratic citizenship and ideals Social sciences educators are uniquely positioned to embrace a journey that upholds democratic ideals of equality freedom and justice while simultaneously critiquing inequity and injustice in schools and our society The contributors to this volume situate a variety of discussions within the context of the crossroads and explore how to negotiate translate and reconceptualize our own beliefs and positionings in ways that positively influence and empower students teachers teacher educators and education policy makers Studies are presented related to civic education cross cultural interpretations emotional citizenship international economics and race consciousness as well as those that discuss how to challenge dominant narratives and negotiate educational policies and practices Resources in Education ,2001-10 Math Advantage Grace M.
