Secret Son By Laila Lalami:

Secret Son Laila Lalami, 2011 When a young man is given the chance to rewrite his future he doesn't realize the price he will pay for giving up his past Casablanca's stinking alleys are the only home that nineteen-year-old Youssef El Mekki has ever known Raised by his mother in a one-room home the film stars flickering on the local cinema's screen offer the only glimmer of hope to his frustrated dreams of escape Until that is the father he thought dead turns out to be very much alive A high-profile businessman with wealth to burn Nabil is disenchanted with his daughter and eager to take in the boy he never knew Soon Youssef is installed in his penthouse and sampling the gold-plated luxuries enjoyed by Casablanca's elite But as he leaves the slums of his childhood behind him he comes up against a starkly unglittering reality Reading Beyond the

Book Danielle Fuller, DeNel Rehberg Sedo, 2013-04-02 Literary culture has become a form of popular culture over the last fifteen years thanks to the success of televised book clubs film adaptations big box book stores online bookselling and face-to-face and online book groups This volume offers the first critical analysis of mass reading events and the contemporary meanings of reading in the UK USA and Canada based on original interviews and surveys with readers and event organizers The resurgence of book groups has inspired new cultural formations of what the authors call shared reading They interrogate the enduring attraction of an old technology for readers community organizers and government agencies exploring the social practices inspired by the sharing of books in public spaces and revealing the complex ideological investments made by readers cultural workers institutions and the mass media in the meanings of reading With the Face of the Enemy

Katharina Motyl, 2024-11-20 With the Face of the Enemy focuses on the writings of Arab American authors between 2001 and 2011 Positioned as Arab Americans in the post 9/11 U.S. this underexamined group of writers projects unique insights into both the Western and Arab worlds Using the lens of postcolonial literary theory Katharina Motyl explores how the War on Terror turned Arab Americans into enemies within their own country Countering the master narrative of a clash of civilizations between the Islamic world and the West the fictional and poetic texts discussed in this book alternate between deconstructing neo-Orientalist stereotypes and critiquing U.S. neocolonialism in the Greater Middle East on the one hand and critically examining Arab culture for instance its patriarchal outlook on the other Motyl pays special attention to texts written by Arab American women who have radically advocated for self-determination in areas like sexuality and mode of dress thus rejecting the stereotype of Arab women as oppressed victims With the Face of the Enemy takes a serious look at how the aesthetics of Arab American literature negotiates the many psychosocial consequences the domestic War on Terror and the U.S. wars in Iraq and Afghanistan have had on the Arab American community Narrating 9/11 John N.

Duvall, Robert P. Marzec, 2015-09-11 Narrating 9/11 pushes beyond a critical focus on domestic realism offering chapters that examine speculative and genre fiction postmodernism climate change and the evolving security state as well as the television series Lost and the film Paradise Now New Voices of Muslim North-African Migrants in Europe Cristián H.

Ricci, 2019-08-26 New Voices of Muslim North African Migrants in Europe captures the experience in writing of a fast growing number of individuals belonging to migrant communities in Europe. The book follows attempts to transform postcolonial literary studies into a comparative translingual and supranational project. Cristina H Ricci frames Moroccan literature written in European languages within the ampler context of borderland studies. The author addresses the realm of a literature that has been practically absent from the field of postcolonial literary studies, i.e. Neerlandophone or Gay Muslim literature. The book also converses with other minor literatures and theories from Sub-Saharan Africa as well as Asians and Latino as in the Americas that combine histories of colonization, labor migration and enforced exile. Global Arab Fiction

Nadia Atia, Lindsey Moore, 2024-12-30 Global Arab Fiction explores twenty-first century fiction set in north and east Africa, the Gulf, the Arab east and diaspora, showing diversity and connections across Arab world contexts. Nadia Atia and Lindsey Moore draw on a substantial literary corpus highlighting contemporary trends in what is available to Anglophone audiences and considering how Arab fiction circulates as a global commodity. Global Arab Fiction begins by positioning the Arab novel as a global phenomenon. It also explores the influence of literary prizes, notably the International Prize for Arabic Fiction, on the enhanced international visibility of Arab fiction this century. The authors tackle the thorny issue of violence in representing Arab world contexts and spotlight queer Arab desire, identity and community. They address the rise of speculative Arab literary modes and show how both mobility and immobility challenge a global paradigm. Global Arab Fiction illuminates a vibrant body of literature rooted in but not circumscribed by a region redefined by twenty-first century global geopolitics. This book offers new arguments about twenty-first century Arab literary tropes, modes, consecration routes, identities and contexts. It is unmissable for readers interested in contemporary postcolonial Arab, Middle Eastern and world literary studies. Family, Violence and Gender in African Anglophone Novels and Contemporary Terrorist Threats

Chi Sum Garfield Lau, 2017-05-11 This book investigates how the breakdown of the family and the conventional gendering of roles gives rise to terrorist violence as portrayed in various African Anglophone narratives written by internationally renowned authors including Chinua Achebe, Doris Lessing, J. M. Coetzee and the award-winning contemporary Moroccan author Laila Lalami. It proves that the indispensable relationship between an eroding family structure and terror is not only an observation found in African Anglophone narratives but rather that this relationship can help us to better comprehend terror as a globalized phenomenon in the twenty-first century. Both the novels and the real-life cases of various terrorist figures such as Osama bin Laden and Mohamed Morsi seemingly suggest a linkage between an alternative family institution in the form of fundamentalist religious sects and terror. Referencing paratexts in fiction and biography, the book adopts a ground-breaking approach to juxtapose the portrayal of fictional characters to the life story of Malala Yousafzai, a Pakistani student who has resisted Taliban rule in Afghanistan at great personal risk. When viewed together, these paratexts capably represent a viable afterlife of ideology and narrative to the colonial legacy of terror and the reinvention of that legacy as a tradition of contemporary fundamentalism in response to the failure of states to protect the family The Secret Miracle Daniel Alarcón, 2010-04-13 The world's best contemporary writers from Michael Chabon and Claire Messud to Jonathan Lethem and Amy Tan engage in a wide ranging insightful and oft surprising roundtable discussion on the art of writing fiction Drawing back the curtain on the mysterious process of writing novels The Secret Miracle brings together the foremost practitioners of the craft to discuss how they write Paul Auster Roddy Doyle Allegra Goodman Aleksandar Hemon Mario Vargas Llosa Susan Minot Rick Moody Haruki Murakami George Pelecanos Gary Shteyngart Daniel Alarcón and others take us step by step through the alchemy of writing fiction answering everything from nuts and bolts queries Do you outline to perennial questions posed by writers and readers alike What makes a character compelling From Stephen King's deadpan distinction between novels and short stories Novels are longer and have more s t in them to Colm Tóibín's anti romanticized take on his characters They are just words to Jos Manuel Prieto's mature perspective on the anxieties of influence Influences are felt or weigh you down more when young every page contains insights found nowhere else With honesty humor and elegance The Secret Miracle gives both aspiring writers and lovers of literature a master class in the art of writing Moroccan Musings Anne B. Barriault, 2025-10-01 Moroccan Musings considers Moroccan culture through a collection of contemplative vignettes Relationships formed during visits to this country transformed an educational journey into magical experiences Part travel essay part journal part tribute to an ancient civilization Moroccan Musings leads the reader to discover some of life's challenges beauties and lessons to be learned daily against the backdrop of Morocco's desert sands cork trees date palms bustling markets calls to prayer and warm hearted people The Conscript Gebreyesus Hailu, 2012-01-23 Eloquent and thought provoking this classic novel by the Eritrean novelist Gebreyesus Hailu written in Tigrinya in 1927 and published in 1950 is one of the earliest novels written in an African language and will have a major impact on the reception and critical appraisal of African literature The Conscript depicts with irony and controlled anger the staggering experiences of the Eritrean ascari soldiers conscripted to fight in Libya by the Italian colonial army against the nationalist Libyan forces fighting for their freedom from Italy's colonial rule Anticipating midcentury thinkers Frantz Fanon and Aimé Césaire Hailu paints a devastating portrait of Italian colonialism Some of the most poignant passages of the novel include the awakening of the novel's hero Tuquabo to his ironic predicament of being both under colonial rule and the instrument of suppressing the colonized Libyans The novel's remarkable descriptions of the battlefield awe the reader with mesmerizing images both disturbing and tender of the Libyan landscape with its vast desert sands oases horsemen foot soldiers and the brutalities of war uncannily recalled in the satellite images that were brought to the homes of millions of viewers around the globe in 2011 during the country's uprising against its former leader Colonel Gaddafi Modern Arab American Fiction Steven Salaita, 2011-04-13 Within the spectrum of American literary traditions Arab American literature is relatively new Writing produced by Americans of Arab origin is mainly a product of the twentieth century and only started to flourish in the past thirty years While this young but thriving literature varies widely in content and style it emerges from a common community and within a specific historical political and cultural context In Modern Arab American Fiction Salaita maps out the landscape of this genre as he details rather than defines the last century of Arab American fiction Exploring the works of such best selling authors as Rabi Alameddine Mohja Kahf Laila Halaby Diana Abu Jaber Alicia Erian and Randa Jarrar Salaita highlights the development of each author's writing and how each has influenced Arab American fiction He examines common themes including the Israel Palestine conflict the Lebanese Civil War of 1975-90 the representation and practice of Islam in the United States social issues such as gender and national identity in Arab cultures and the various identities that come with being Arab American Combining the accessibility of a primer with in depth critical analysis Modern Arab American Fiction is suitable for a broad audience those unfamiliar with the subject area as well as scholars of the literature

Contemporary Arab-American Literature Carol Fadda-Conrey, 2014-05-30 The last couple of decades have witnessed a flourishing of Arab American literature across multiple genres Yet increased interest in this literature is ironically paralleled by a prevalent bias against Arabs and Muslims that portrays their long presence in the US as a recent and unwelcome phenomenon Spanning the 1990s to the present Carol Fadda Conrey takes in the sweep of literary and cultural texts by Arab American writers in order to understand the ways in which their depictions of Arab homelands whether actual or imagined play a crucial role in shaping cultural articulations of US citizenship and belonging By asserting themselves within a US framework while maintaining connections to their homelands Arab Americans contest the blanket representations of themselves as dictated by the US nation state Deploying a multidisciplinary framework at the intersection of Middle Eastern studies US ethnic studies and diaspora studies Fadda Conrey argues for a transnational discourse that overturns the often rigid affiliations embedded in ethnic labels Tracing the shifts in transnational perspectives from the founders of Arab American literature like Gibran Kahlil Gibran and Ameen Rihani to modern writers such as Naomi Shihab Nye Joseph Geha Randa Jarrar and Suheir Hammad Fadda Conrey finds that contemporary Arab American writers depict strong yet complex attachments to the US landscape She explores how the idea of home is negotiated between immigrant parents and subsequent generations alongside analyses of texts that work toward fostering more nuanced understandings of Arab and Muslim identities in the wake of post 9/11 anti Arab sentiments

True Stories of Teen Terrorist Recruits Bridey Heing, 2017-12-15 Terror groups recruitment efforts center on vulnerable impressionable populations which make teens a common target This book helps readers understand why and how teens join terrorist organizations like ISIS and the Lord's Resistance Army by providing specific case studies The book also explains the geopolitical circumstances that have given rise to terrorist groups themselves and promotes critical thinking about what drives young people to engage in terrible violence

Islamism and Cultural Expression in the Arab World Abir Hamdar, Lindsey Moore, 2015-04-10 Whereas most studies of Islamism focus on politics and religious ideology this book analyses the ways in which Islamism in the Arab world is defined reflected transmitted and contested in a variety of creative and other cultural forms It covers a range of contexts of production and reception from the early twentieth century to the present and with reference to cultural production in and or about Morocco Algeria Tunisia Egypt Yemen the Gulf Lebanon and Israel Palestine The material engaged with is produced in Arabic English and French and includes fiction autobiography feature films television series television reportage the press rap music and video games Throughout the book highlights the multiple forms and contested interpretations of Islamism in the Arab world exploring trends and tensions in the ways Islamism is represented to primarily Arab audiences and complicating simplistic perspectives on this phenomenon The book considers repeated and idiosyncratic themes modes of characterisation motifs structures of feeling and forms of engagement in the context of an ongoing struggle for symbolic power in the region

Edinburgh Companion to the Arab Novel in English Nouri Gana, 2015-04-17 Opening up the field of diasporic Anglo Arab literature to critical debate this companion spans from the first Arab novel in 1911 to the resurgence of the Anglo Arabic novel in the last 20 years There are chapters on authors such as Ameen Rihani Ahdaf

Women and Resistance in the Maghreb Nabil Boudraa, Joseph Ohmann Krause, 2021-07-29 This book studies women s resistance in the three countries of the Maghreb concentrating on two questions First what has been the role of women artists since the 1960s in unlocking traditions and emancipating women on their own terms Second why have Maghrebi women rarely been given the right to be heard since Algeria Morocco and Tunisia gained national independence Honouring the artistic voices of women that have been largely eclipsed from both popular culture and political discourse in the Maghreb the work specifically examines resistance by women since 1960s in the Maghreb through cinema politics and the arts In an ancillary way the volume addresses a wide range of questions that are specific to Maghrebi women related to upbringing sexuality marriage education representation exclusion and historical memory These issues in their broadest dimensions opened the gates to responses in different fields in both the humanities and the social sciences The research presents scholarship by not only leading scholars in Francophone studies cultural history and specialists in women studies but also some of the most important film critics and practicing feminist advocates The variety of periods and disciplines in this collection allow for a coherent and general understanding of Maghrebi societies since decolonization The volume is a key resource to students and scholars interested in women s studies the Maghreb and Middle East studies
