Judd E. Hollander

The Memory Of Love By Aminatta Forna:

The Memory of Love Aminatta Forna, 2011-03-07 Freetown Sierra Leone 1969 On a hot January evening that he will remember for decades Elias Cole first catches sight of Saffia Kamara the wife of a charismatic colleague He is transfixed Thirty years later lying in the capital's hospital he recalls the desire that drove him to acts of betrayal he has tried to justify ever since Elsewhere in the hospital Kai a gifted young surgeon is desperately trying to forget the pain of a lost love that torments him as much as the mental scars he still bears from the civil war that has left an entire people with terrible secrets to keep It falls to a British psychologist Adrian Lockheart to help the two survivors but when he too falls in love past and present collide with devastating consequences The Memory of Love is a heartbreaking story of ordinary people in extraordinary circumstances The Literature of Contemporary Sierra Leone Ernest Cole, Mohamed Kamara, 2025-03-25 What are Sierra Leonean and diaspora authors writing about today What genres are they working in What are future possibilities and directions of travel The ethnically and linguistically diverse nation of Sierra Leone boasts a rich cultural legacy and in the first decades of the twenty first century has built an internationally recognized literary canon despite the ravages caused by a brutal civil war and then the Ebola and Covid pandemics While acknowledging the country's literary and creative heritage dating back to the mid twentieth century this book interrogates a number of prominent themes and critical perspectives on Sierra Leone's contemporary literature Drawing from body studies post colonial theory spatial theory trauma theory ecocriticism history and cultural studies scholars and writers from West Africa and the United States tease out the beginnings ecology and dynamism of a bona fide national literature They do so through a careful examination of such themes as social oppression and class distinction dystopia ethnocentricity homophobia misogyny and gender disparities anthropocentrism self discovery social transformation identity social degradation genocide and trauma while also theorizing constructs such as home migration displacement community and return Throughout contributors argue for a better appreciation of a vibrant national literature by Sierra Leoneans themselves as well as its place in and contribution to world literature more generally Women Writing Trauma in the Global South Annemarie Pabel, 2022-09-08 Through exploring complex suffering in the writings of Aminatta Forna Isabel Allende and Anuradha Roy Women Writing Trauma in the Global South dismantles conceptual shortcomings and problematic imbalances at the core of existing theorizations around psychological trauma The global constellation of women writers from Sierra Leone Chile and India facilitates a productive analysis of how the texts navigate intertwined experiences of individual and systemic trauma The discussion departs from a recent critical turn in literary and cultural trauma studies and transgresses many interrelated boundaries of geocultural contexts language and genre Discovering the role of literary forms in reparative articulation and empathic witnessing this critical intervention develops new ideas for an inclusive conceptual expansion of trauma from the global peripheries and contributes to the ongoing debate on marginalized suffering Retroland Peter Kemp, 2023-01-01 The essential companion for lovers of the contemporary novel Over the past fifty years fiction in English has never looked more various Books bulkier than Victorian three deckers appear alongside works of minimalist brevity and experiments with form have produced everything from verse novels to Twitter thread narratives This is truly a golden age But what unites this kaleidoscopic array of genres and styles Celebrated writer and critic Peter Kemp shows how modern writers are obsessed with the past In a series of engaging and illuminating chapters Retroland traces this novelistic preoccupation with history from the imperial and the political to the personal and the literary Featuring famous names from across the United Kingdom United States and the wider Anglophone world ranging from Salman Rushdie to Sarah Waters Toni Morrison to Hilary Mantel this is a work of remarkable synthesis and clarity a wonderfully readable and enjoyably opinionated guide to our current literary landscape

The Question of the Aesthetic George Levine, 2022 A multi authored volume of original essays by scholars in literary studies and philosophy on the question of the aesthetic in the current critical climate Contested Identities Roger Nicholson, Gertrud Szamosi, Claudia Marquis, 2015-09-04 This volume brings together essays that individually and collectively address the force of the literary text with regard to problematic identities They work out of shared concerns with literary representations of this issue in different regions nations and communities that often prove divided they pursue questions related to textual identity where the literary text itself is contested internally or in its generic and historical relations In sum these studies actively test identity as social or literary concept discovering in difference the very condition of a useful if paradoxical sense of personal or textual coherence What happens to us when we move between different cultures or different societies defined in geographical or historical terms What happens to texts and textual practices in these same circumstances What happens to us when we are obliged to adapt to a new social order Homi Bhabha speaks of cultural difference as calling into play what he calls cultural translation What happens to identity the narrative that fashions a continued sense of self in this case Difference raised to alterity demands that we accord functional and philosophical value not just to other aspects but also to the aspect of the other At the level of personal or textual agency however difference contests and threatens to subvert stable selfhood composing a scene of conflict Even so it often proves to be instrumental in re charging a sense of the cultural valence of the literary text not least by virtue of its political implications In this regard the border where difference materialises has considerable presence in contributions to this volume prompting appreciation of texts that work on or travel across such borders however haphazardly and dangerously but also those that compose border textualities The Future of Trauma Theory Gert Buelens, Samuel Durrant, Robert Eaglestone, 2013-10-30 This collection analyses the future of trauma theory a major theoretical discourse in contemporary criticism and theory The chapters advance the current state of the field by exploring new areas asking new questions and making new connections Part one History and Culture begins by developing trauma theory in its more familiar post deconstructive mode and explores how these insights might still be productive It goes on via a critique of existing positions to relocate trauma theory in a postcolonial and globalized world

theoretically aesthetically and materially and focuses on non Western accounts and understandings of trauma memory and suffering Part two Politics and Subjectivity turns explicitly to politics and subjectivity focussing on the state and the various forms of subjection to which it gives rise and on human rights biopolitics and community Each chapter in different ways advocates a movement beyond the sort of texts and concepts that are the usual focus for trauma criticism and moves this dynamic network of ideas forward With contributions from an international selection of leading critics and thinkers from the US and Europe this volume will be a key critical intervention in one of the most important areas in contemporary literary criticism and theory

Culture Wars in British Literature Tracy J. Prince,2012-09-18 The past century s culture wars that Britain has been consumed by but that few North Americans seem aware of have resulted in revised notions of Britishness and British literature Yet literary anthologies remain anchored to an archaic Anglo English interpretation of British literature Conflicts have been played out over specific national vs British identity some residents prefer to describe themselves as being from Scotland England Wales or Northern Ireland instead of Britain in debates over immigration race ethnicity class and gender and in arguments over British literature These debates are strikingly detailed in such chapters as The Difficulty Defining Black British British Jewish Writers and Xenophobia and the Booker Prize Connections are also drawn between civil rights movements in the U S and UK This generalist cultural study is a lively read and a fascinating glimpse into Britain s changing identity as reflected in 20th and 21st century British literature

The Rise of the African Novel Mukoma Wa Ngugi, 2018-03-27 Engaging questions of language identity and reception to restore South African and diaspora writing to the African literary tradition To A Nação, with Love: The Politics of Language through Angolan Poetry Robert Simon, 2017-01-24 This book serves as a study of poets' reflections on the use of the Portuguese language as a tool for the nation building project of Angola during and after the war of independence The writers studied fall into two categories those of a first phase in the context of the war of independence during which time poets often focused on linguistic unity as a reflection of the nation's plurality through the inscribing of notions of singular identity simultaneous to the incorporation of elements of linguistic plurality and those of the second phase within the context of the post war and ensuing civil strife which if taken as a more or less continuous Civil War lasted from 1975 to 2002 and during which writers would use techniques seen in many postmodern poets to deconstruct the utopian discourse of poets from the previous generation The essay elucidates existing arguments regarding political and social movement as well as to less recognized arguments regarding literary evolution in Angola during this period Affect and Literature Alex Houen, 2020-02-06 This book considers how affect the experience of feeling or emotion has developed as a critical concept within literary studies in different periods and through a range of approaches Stretching from the classical to the contemporary the first section of the book Origins considers the importance of particular areas of philosophy theory and criticism that have been important for conceptualizing affect and its relation to literature Includes ancient Greek and Roman philosophy eighteenth century aesthetics Marxist theory psychoanalysis queer theory and postcolonial theory The chapters of the second section Developments correspond to those of the previous section and build on their insights through readings of particular texts The final Applications section is focused on contemporary and future lines of enquiry and revolves around a particular set of concerns media and communications capitalism and an environment of affective relations that extend to ecology social crisis and war

Perceiving Pain in African Literature Z. Norridge, 2012-11-29 An analysis of literary accounts of suffering from sub Saharan Africa this book examines fiction and life writing in English and French over the last forty years Drawing on writers from the canonical to the less well known it uses close readings to examine the personal social and political consequences of representing pain in literature

The Cambridge Companion to the Postcolonial Novel Ato Quayson, 2016 This Companion provides an engaging account of the postcolonial novel from Joseph Conrad to Jean Rhys Covering subjects from disability and diaspora to the sublime and the city this Companion reveals the myriad traditions that have shaped the postcolonial literary landscape

The History of British Women's Writing, 1970-Present Mary Eagleton, Emma Parker, 2016-04-29 This book maps the most active and vibrant period in the history of British women's writing Examining changes and continuities in fiction poetry drama and journalism as well as women's engagement with a range of literary and popular genres the essays in this volume highlight the range and diversity of women's writing since 1970

Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 James Acheson, 2017-01-17 Focuses on the novels published since 2000 by twenty major British novelists The Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 is divided into five parts with the first part examining the work of four particularly well known and highly regarded twenty first century writers Ian McEwan David Mitchell Hilary Mantel and Zadie Smith It is with reference to each of these novelists in turn that the terms arealist apostmodernist ahistorical and apostcolonialist fiction are introduced while in the remaining four parts other novelists are discussed and the meaning of the terms amplified From the start it is emphasised that these terms and others often mean different things to different novelists and that the complexity of their novels often obliges us to discuss their work with reference to more than one of the terms Also discusses the works of Maggie O'Farrell Sarah Hall A L Kennedy Alan Warner Ali Smith Kazuo Ishiguro Kate Atkinson Salman Rushdie Adam Foulds Sarah Waters James Robertson Mohsin Hamid Andrea Levy and Aminatta Forna

Extramural Adrian Barlow, 2012-02-23 More than a personal account of a career in education but an argument for an idea Extramural is an argument for the lifelong pursuit of knowledge and the invaluable part Cambridge Institute of Continuing Education has played in helping people pursue this Barlow explains how the study of literature as thoughts expressed in language is central to education and utilises his own vast knowledge of literature from Tom Paine and John Ruskin to Alan Bennett and E M Forster to illustrate the depth that the study of literature can bring to continuing one's own development A stimulating and engaging exploration of the world of adult literary education Barlow offers the reader the chance to gain an insight into a world that depends on the support of those participating

Silence and Silencing in Selected African Novels Oumar Chérif Diop, 2025-09-04 Through literary analysis this book examines how African writers address silence and oppression in novels and poetry Silence and Silencing in Selected African Novels Power

Dynamics and Transformative Voices by Oumar Ch rif Diop explores representations of rhetorical sociocultural and gendered silence and silencing within selected African literature He examines how African writers deconstruct normative discourses and use aesthetic forms and narrative techniques to confront silencing systems Within these literary works characters express their thoughts emotions fears anxieties and protest through their silence Through textual analysis Diop explores the spaces where silence and silencing occur and how they highlight power dynamics and enforce oppressive structures These texts also reveal the transformative potential of silence to illustrate the resilience of marginalized characters and their inspiring struggle against the censoring mechanisms of repressive institutions Breaking the silence becomes an act of reclaiming agency and challenging oppressive forces Diop shows how the importance of voice in the struggle for justice and the potential for individual actions inspires broader movements for change Unseen City Ankhi Mukherjee,2021-12-09
