Grossmann describes Berlin in the days following Germany's surrender the mass rape of German women by the Red Army the liberated slave laborers and homecoming soldiers returning political exiles Jews emerging from hiding and ethnic German refugees fleeing the East She chronicles the hunger disease and homelessness the fraternization with Allied occupiers and the complexities of navigating a world where the commonplace mingled with the horrific Grossmann untangles the stories of Jewish survivors inside and outside the displaced persons camps of the American zone as they built families and reconstructed identities while awaiting emigration to Palestine or the United States She examines how Germans and Jews interacted and competed for Allied favor benefits and victim status and how they sought to restore normality in work in their relationships and in their everyday encounters Jews Germans and Allies shows how Jews were integral participants in postwar Germany and bridges the divide that still exists today between German history and Jewish studies

A Polish Doctor in the Nazi Camps Barbara Rylko-Bauer, 2014-02-24 Jadwiga Lenartowicz Rylko known as Jadzia Yah jah was a young Polish Catholic physician in Lodz at the start of World War II Suspected of resistance activities she was arrested in January 1944 For the next fifteen months she endured three Nazi concentration camps and a forty two day death march spending part of this time working as a prisoner doctor to Jewish slave laborers A Polish Doctor in the Nazi Camps follows Jadzia from her childhood and medical training through her wartime experiences to her struggles to create a new life in the postwar world Jadzia's daughter anthropologist Barbara Rylko Bauer constructs an intimate ethnography that weaves a personal family narrative against a twentieth century historical backdrop As Rylko Bauer travels back in time with her mother we learn of the particular hardships that female concentration camp prisoners faced The struggle continued after the war as Jadzia attempted to rebuild her life first as a refugee doctor in Germany and later as an immigrant to the United States Like many postwar immigrants Jadzia had high hopes of making new connections and continuing her career Unable to surmount personal economic and social obstacles to medical licensure however she had to settle for work as a nurse's aide As a contribution to accounts of wartime experiences Jadzia's story stands out for its sensitivity to the complexities of the Polish memory of war Built upon both historical research and conversations between mother and daughter the story combines Jadzia's voice and Rylko Bauer's own journey of rediscovering her family's past The result is a powerful narrative about struggle survival displacement and memory augmenting our understanding of a horrific period in human history and the struggle of Polish immigrants in its aftermath

After Memory Matthias Schwartz, Nina Weller, Heike Winkel, 2021-06-08 Even seventy five years after the end of World War II the commemorative cultures surrounding the War and the Holocaust in Central Eastern and South Eastern Europe are anything but fixed The fierce debates on how to deal with the past among the newly constituted nation states in these regions have already received much attention by scholars in cultural and memory studies The present volume posits that literature as a medium can help us understand the shifting attitudes towards World War II and the Holocaust in post Communist Europe in recent years These shifts point to new commemorative cultures shaping up after memory Contemporary literary representations of World War II and the Holocaust in Eastern Europe do not merely extend or replace older practices of remembrance and testimony but reflect on these now defunct or superseded narratives New narratives of remembrance are conditioned by a fundamentally new social and political context one that emerged from the devaluation of socialist commemorative rituals and as a response to the loss of private and family memory narratives The volume offers insights into the diverse literatures of Eastern Europe and their ways of depicting the area's contested heritage

Re-examining the Holocaust through Literature Aukje Kluge, Benn E. Williams, 2009-03-26 In the late 1980s Holocaust literature emerged as a provocative but poorly defined scholarly field The essays in this volume reflect the increasingly international and pluridisciplinary nature of this scholarship and the widening of the definition of Holocaust literature to include comic books fiction film and poetry as well as the more traditional diaries memoirs and journals Ten contributors from four countries engage issues of authenticity evangelicalism morality representation personal experience and wish fulfillment in Holocaust literature which have been the subject of controversies in the US Europe and the Middle East Of interest to students and instructors of antisemitism national and comparative literatures theater film history literary criticism religion and Holocaust studies this book also contains an extensive bibliography with references in over twenty languages which seeks to inspire further research in an international context
