Barton Palmer, 2007-02-22 The essays in this collection analyse major film adaptations of twentieth century American fiction from F Scott Fitzgerald's The Last Tycoon to Toni Morrison's Beloved During the century films based on American literature came to play a central role in the history of the American cinema Combining cinematic and literary approaches this volume explores the adaptation process from conception through production and reception The contributors explore the ways political and historical contexts have shaped the transfer from book to screen and the new perspectives that films bring to literary works In particular they examine how the twentieth century literary modes of realism modernism and postmodernism have influenced the forms of modern cinema Written in a lively and accessible style the book includes production stills and full filmographies Together with its companion volume on nineteenth century fiction the volume offers a comprehensive account of the rich tradition of American literature on screen The Whitfield Family in America, 19?? Beloveds Gary Richards draws on contemporary theories of sexuality in reading the fiction of six writers of the era who accepted that potentially pejorative characterization as an opportunity Truman Capote William Goyen Harper Lee Carson McCullers Lillian Smith and Richard Wright Richards skillfully juxtaposes forgotten texts by those writers with canonical works to identify the complex narratives of same sex desire In their novels and stories the authors consistently reimagine gender roles centralize homoeroticism and probe its relationship with class race biological sex and southern identity This is the first book to assess the significance of same sex desire in a broad range of southern texts making a crucial contribution to the study of both literature and sexuality
