The Pesthouse By Jim Crace:

The Pesthouse Jim Crace, 2008-09-04 A devastated America exists in an imagined future Its technologies are forgotten its communities have splintered and its refugees reversing the course of history travel eastwards in search of safety and a new start Among them are Franklin and Margaret young bereft forced together by circumstance but finding that love courage and determination can endure even as a country breaks slowly apart

The Pesthouse Jim Crace, 2007 In The Pesthouse Jim Crace imagines an America of the future where a man and a woman trek across a devastated and dangerous landscape finding strength in each other and an unexpected love Once the safest most prosperous place on earth the United States is now a lawless scantily populated wasteland The machines have stopped The government has collapsed Farmlands lie fallow and the soil is contaminated by toxins Across the country families have packed up their belongings to travel eastward toward the one hope left passage on a ship to Europe Franklin Lopez and his brother Jackson are only days away from the ocean when Franklin nearly crippled by an inflamed knee is forced to stop In the woods near his temporary refuge Franklin comes upon an isolated stone building Inside he finds Margaret a woman with a deadly infection and confined to the Pesthouse to sweat out her fever Tentatively the two join forces and make their way through the ruins of old America Confronted by bandits rounding up men for slavery finding refuge in the Ark a religious community that makes bizarre demands on those they shelter Franklin and Margaret find their wariness of each other replaced by deep trust and an intimacy neither one has ever experienced before

BOOK JACKET The Pesthouse Jim Crace, 2008-05-06 Once the safest most prosperous place on earth the United States has become sparsely populated and chaotically unstable Across the country families have traveled toward the one hope left passage on a ship to Europe As Franklin Lopez makes his way towards the ocean he finds Margaret a sick woman shunned to die in isolation Tentatively the two join forces heading towards their future With striking prose and a deep understanding of the American ethos Jim Crace one of our most consistently ambitious writers creates in The Pesthouse a masterful tale of the human drive to endure

Jim Crace Philip Tew, 2013-07-19 Jim Crace is one of the most imaginative of contemporary novelists The author of nine novels he has received great public and intellectual acclaim across the UK Europe Australia and the United States He was awarded the National Book Critics Circle Fiction prize USA for Being Dead in 2000 Philip Tew's study is the first extended critical examination of Crace's oeuvre and is based on extensive interviews with the novelist including discussions of his work from his first worldwide bestseller Continent 1986 up to The Pesthouse 2007 Designed especially both for undergraduates of contemporary fiction and for those who simply enjoy reading the author Jim Crace is an excellent addition to the Contemporary British Novelists series Tew's treatment of themes contexts and narrative strategies illuminates the literary and critical contexts within which Crace operates situating him as one of the most adventurous and challenging of Britain's twenty first century authors Utopia and the Contemporary British Novel Caroline Edwards, 2019-07-11 Explores how the experience of time in contemporary British novels reveals the persistence of the utopian imagination today Mythmaking across Boundaries Züleyha Çetiner-Öktem, 2016-04-26 This volume explores the dynamics of myths throughout time and space along with the mythmaking processes in various cultures literatures and languages in a wide range of fields ranging from cultural studies to the history of art The papers brought together here are motivated by two basic questions How are myths made in diverse cultures and literatures And do all different cultures have different myths to be told in their artistic pursuits To examine these questions the book offers a wide array of articles by contributors from various cultures which focus on theory history space place philosophy literature language gender and storytelling Mythmaking across Boundaries not only brings together classical myths but also contemporary constructions and reconstructions through different cultural perspectives by transcending boundaries Using a wide spectrum of perspectives this volume instead of emphasising the different modes of the mythmaking process connects numerous perceptions of mythmaking and investigates diversities among cultures languages and literatures viewing them as a unified whole As the essays reflect on both academic and popular texts the book will be useful to scholars and students as well as the general reader Of Spaces and Ideas Petr Chalupský, Tereza Topolovská, 2024-11-01 This monograph provides a deeper insight into the work of two contemporary British novelists Jim Crace and Simon Mawer with a particular emphasis on their spatial sensibility as one of the defining elements of their poetics Drawing on a range of literary theoretical approaches to space the study analyses selected novels by the two writers to demonstrate the ways in which they render space and place and above all the ways in which their spatial representations allow them to express the key ideas behind their stories namely those of identity history and the relationship between an individual and the environment in which they live New Horizons in Prescriptivism Research Nuria Yáñez-Bouza, María E. Rodríguez-Gil, Javier Pérez-Guerra, 2024-04-16 This book investigates the connections between evaluative judgements on language and the larger social cultural and political issues that shed light on the practice of prescriptivism The chapters cover three main areas language which represents the traditional roots of the study of linguistic norms in authoritative historical manuals and judgemental attitudes to language usage literary and scripted texts which illustrates the enregisterment of the values of linguistic prescriptivism as a social and cultural phenomenon and speech communities which reflects the growth in scope of the field to consider geographical contexts beyond mainstream British and American English to include varieties of English and other languages worldwide The book also discusses recent theoretical and methodological advances in the study of prescriptivism

The Contemporary Post-Apocalyptic Novel Diletta De Cristofaro, 2019-12-26 Traditional apocalyptic texts concern the advent of a better world at the end of history that will make sense of everything that happened before But what is at stake in the contemporary shift to apocalyptic narratives in which the utopian end of time is removed The Contemporary Post Apocalyptic Novel offers an innovative critical model for our cultural obsession with the end by focussing on the significance of time in the 21st century post apocalyptic novel and challenging traditional apocalyptic logic Once confined to the genre of science fiction the increasing popularity of end of the world narratives has caused apocalyptic writing to feature in the work of some of contemporary literature s most well known fiction writers Considering novels by Will Self Cormac McCarthy David Mitchell Emily St John Mandel Jeanette Winterson and others Diletta De Cristofaro frames the contemporary apocalyptic imagination as a critique of modernity s apocalyptic conception of time and history Interdisciplinary in scope the book historicises apocalyptic beliefs by exploring how relentlessly they have shaped the modern world

The New Pastoral in Contemporary British Writing Deborah Lilley, 2019-10-10 This book identifies a major turn in contemporary British literature in response to environmental crisis It argues that the pastoral is emerging as a new critical framework in which to explore the understanding of people and place in this context The New Pastoral in Contemporary British Writing explores how the pastoral tradition has transformed as authors respond to our changing relationships with place in this period Analysing the features common to new pastoral writing it brings together a corpus of works from major authors including Ali Smith Jim Crace John Burnside Kathleen Jamie and Robert Macfarlane This book argues that crises such as pollution and climate change have shifted our understandings of the key relationships of pastoral and the terms upon which they are based giving new senses to its older oppositions between the human and the natural the urban and the rural and the past and the present Furthermore it shows that the versions of pastoral that ensue align with current ecocritical arguments produced by thinking through the individual cultural and ecological implications of environmental crisis As a result pastoral emerges as the crucial strategy in the re imagining of the environment underway in contemporary British writing the resurgence of interest in nature writing the increasing attention towards place in literary fiction and the development of ecological or climate fiction This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of English as well as those concerned with the interdisciplinary topics of the environmental humanities including literary geographies new nature writing cultures of climate change and the Anthropocene and ecologically oriented theory
