The Soloist By Mark Salzman:

The Soloist Mark Salzman, 1995-02-07 As a child Renne showed promise of becoming one of the world's greatest cellists. Now years later his life suddenly is altered by two events: he becomes a juror in a murder trial for the brutal killing of a Buddhist monk and he takes on as a pupil a Korean boy whose brilliant musicianship reminds him of his own past. Tricycle, 1995

The New York Times Book Review, 1995 Presents extended reviews of noteworthy books, short reviews, essays and articles on topics and trends in publishing, literature, culture and the arts. Includes lists of best sellers, hardcover and paperback.

The Laughing Sutra Mark Salzman, 2012-02-08 Iron Silk Mark Salzman's bestselling account of his adventures as an English teacher and martial arts student in China introduced a writer of enormous charm and keen insight into the cultural chasm between East and West. Now Salzman returns to China in his first novel which follows the adventures of Hsun Ching, a naive but courageous orphan, and the formidable and mysterious Colonel Sun who together travel from mainland China to San Francisco, risking everything to track down an elusive Buddhist scripture called The Laughing Sutra. Part Tom Sawyer, part Tom Jones, The Laughing Sutra draws us into an irresistible narrative of danger and comedy that speaks volumes about the nature of freedom and the meaning of loyalty.

More Book Lust Nancy Pearl, 2009-09-29 Whether you're searching for the perfect read for yourself or for a friend, More Book Lust offers eclectic recommendations unlike those in any other reading guide available. In this followup to the bestselling Book Lust, popular librarian Nancy Pearl offers a fresh collection of 1,000 reading recommendations in more than 120 thematic, intelligent and wholly entertaining reading lists. For the friend wanting to leave her job, Living Your Dream offers good armchair dreaming books about people who have left stodgy jobs to do what they love. Are you a budding chef? Fiction For Foodies includes books that sneak in a recipe or two along with a tantalizing plot. For the James Bond wannabe, Crime is a Globetrotter features crime novels set in various locations around the world such as Tibet, Sweden and Sicily. In the book's introduction, Pearl jokes, "If we were at a twelve-step meeting together, I would have to stand up and say, 'Hi, I'm Nancy P. and I'm a readaholic.'" Booklist magazine plays off this obsession while echoing a sentiment of Nancy Pearl's fans everywhere: "A self-confessed readaholic, Pearl lets us benefit from her addiction. May she never seek recovery. Indeed."

The Emergence of Complexity Paul Hager, David Beckett, 2019-10-11 This book centres on a broadened view of complexity that will enrich engagement with complexity in the social sciences. The key idea is to employ complexity theory to develop a holistic account of practice, agency and expertise. In doing so, the book acknowledges and builds upon the relational character of reductive accounts. It draws upon recent theoretical work on complexity, emergence and relationality to develop a novel account of practice, agency and expertise in and for workplaces. Biological, psychological and social aspects of these are integrated. This novel account overcomes problems in current views of practice, agency and expertise which suffer from reductive or fragmented analyses based upon individuals groups or networks In retrieving the experiential richness of human activity often esteemed as the basis of generative and creative life this book shows how complexity both emerges from and is a non reductive feature of human experience especially in daily work an ambitiously wide ranging volume questioning the key tenets of respected approaches and offering novel accounts which draw on features of complexity thinking But they go further than any of us in their argument that whatever reductive moves are made they flow from holistic accounts of relationality which have already affectively engaged the purposes of a co present group This is the intellectual contribution that is built consistently and persuasively across the chapters Professor Emerita Anne Edwards Oxford University Hager and Beckett have written a book that will challenge more commonly held notions of agency practice skills and learning Centering their argument on complexity theory or as they prefer complexity thinking Hager and Beckett argue that it is through relations that we raise questions about gather data from and make working sense of the complexity that surrounds us Groups then particularly small groups hold and implement agentive power And what the authors call co present groups ones in which holistic relationality occurs socially and affectively in distinctive places draw us closer to each other and harness our normativity by enabling negotiability and reason giving If your field of study involves anything remotely sociocultural in nature or if you are just interested in the complex ways we engage as humans with our worlds you should find a place for this book in your library
