The Valley of Decision, By Marcia Davenport Marcia Davenport, 1944 Irish Domestic Servants in Transatlantic Culture, c. 1870-1945 Catherine Healy, 2025-10-11 This book provides the first major transatlantic history of Irish serving women drawing on four years of archival research in Dublin Belfast New York Boston London and Liverpool Domestic service was the largest source of employment for generations of women who left Ireland in the decades after the Great Famine The perceived difficulty of managing Irish servants became a prominent feature of cultural discourse in the United States and England where countless cartoons editorials and literary works caricatured the figure of Bridget Irish maids and cooks were a canvas on which to project fears not only about Irish politics and immigration but also changing class and gender roles Existing scholarship on the Irish experience of domestic service has typically focused on socio economic conditions but such approaches tend not to capture the complex ways in which Irish female immigrants were encountered both in private households and in wider society Irish servants were framed through discourses that could involve nostalgia and guilt as well as amusement and disgust more complex scripts in general than those used to describe Irish immigrant men The period covered in the book allows for a diverse range of cultural sources including romance novels and Hollywood films depicting working Irish women to be examined moving beyond the Victorian era caricatures typically emphasised in earlier work on the Irish in domestic service Chronicle of the Pulitzer Prizes for Fiction Heinz-D. Nadine Paulina K. Dennis,2001-10 The Retail Bookseller ,1944 Crucible of Freedom Eric Leif Davin,2012-07-10 This book explores the relation between democracy and industrialization in United States history Over the course of the 1930s the political center almost disappeared as the Democratic New Deal became the litmus test of class with blue collar workers providing its bedrock of support while white collar workers and those in the upper income levels opposed it By 1948 the class cleavage in American politics was as pronounced as in many of the Western European countries such as France Italy Germany or Britain with which we usually associate class politics Working people created a new America in the 1930s and 1940s which was a fundamental departure from the feudalistic and hierarchical America that existed before They won the political rights of American citizenship which had been previously denied them They democratized labor capital relations and gained more economic security than they had ever known They obtained more economic opportunity for them and their children than they had ever known and they created a respect for ethnic workers which had not previously existed In the process class politics re defined the political agenda of America as for the first time in American history the political universe polarized along class lines Eric Leif Davin explores the meaning of the New Deal political mobilization by ordinary people by examining the changes it brought to the local county and state levels in Pittsburgh Allegheny County and Pennsylvania as a whole
