The Secret Police Dossier of Herta Müller Valentina N. Glajar, Valentina Glajar, 2023 An in depth investigation of the Romanian secret police's file on Müller winner of the 2009 Nobel Prize for Literature re-creating a file story of her surveillance Herta Müller should share her Nobel with the Securitate This comment by a former officer in the Romanian secret police or Securitate was in reaction to hearing that Müller a German writer originally from Romania had won the 2009 Nobel Prize for Literature Communist Romania's infamous secret police was indeed a protagonist in Müller's work though an undesired and dreaded one most of her writings are deeply and explicitly anchored in Ceaușescu's Romania and her own traumatic experiences with the Securitate Müller's file traces her surveillance from 1983 until after she emigrated to West Germany in 1987 She has written extensively in reaction to reading her file but primarily addresses its gaps begging the question what information the file does in fact contain This book is an in depth investigation of Müller's file and engages with other related files including that of her then husband the writer Richard Wagner Valentina Glajar treats the files as primary sources in order to re-create the story of Müller's surveillance by the Securitate In such an intrusive culture of surveillance surviving the system often meant a certain degree of entanglement for victims collaborators and implicated subjects alike Veiled in secrecy for decades these compelling and complex documents shed light on a boundary between victims and perpetrators as porous as the Iron Curtain itself

Local/Global Narratives, 2016-08-09

Over the past decade and a half Germany has experienced a period of political and cultural turbulence which many have attributed to the combined challenges of unification and globalisation In response to growing exposure to global markets politics and migration debates about identity have increasingly been renationalised At the same time there has been a notable reappraisal in Germany and in German Studies of the regional and global as spaces for the construction of identity This volume sets out to explore these complex and at times contradictory trends focusing in particular on developments in Germany since the 1970s although chapters treating earlier periods are also included The volume brings together British Irish German Canadian and American scholars working in the field and resulted from a conference organised by Women in German Studies at the University of Bath The first section is primarily concerned with the specifically German concept of locality known as Heimat and its changing relationship with the global Included are explorations of the writings of Kafka Bachmann Johnson Sell Wolf Brinkmann and Jelinek amongst others as well as films by Schl ndorff and Steyerl The second section focuses on the impact of the global on institutions and rituals such as commemoration memorialisation and architecture which have traditionally been influential in shaping national self images Overall this volume concludes that the nature of the relationship to the local has fundamentally changed under the impact of globalisation produced over the past 20 years by the Romanian German Nobel Laureate Herta Müller. She interrogates Communist society especially in its bizarre Romanian Ceausescu variation and matters of complicity, secrecy, betrayal, guilt, responsibility, resistance, and the power of literature.
