anniversaries the 50th and 100th We are now in the complicated process of remembering the war for a third time Kreyling reminds us that we were a different we for each of the earlier commemorations and that we are certainly different now and not only because the president in office for the 150th anniversary represents a member of the race for whose emancipation from slavery the war was waged These essays explore the conscious and unconscious mechanisms by which each era has staged written and thought about the meaning of the Civil War Kreyling engages the not quite conscious agendas at work in the rituals of remembering through fiction film graphic novels and other forms of expression Each cultural example wrestles with the current burden of remembering What are we attempting to do with a memory that to many seems irrelevant or so far in the past as to be almost irretrievable
