

The background of the cover features a woman with dark, wavy hair, wearing a long, flowing green dress. She is holding a large, round lollipop with a red and white spiral pattern. Above her, several large, stylized lollipops with the same spiral pattern are floating. The overall color palette is dominated by the green of the dress, the red and white of the lollipops, and a soft, hazy background.

The Sugar Queen By Sarah Addison Allen:

The Sugar Queen Sarah Addison Allen, 2009-05-28 Twenty seven year old Josey is sure of three things winter in her North Carolina hometown is her favorite season she s a sorry excuse for a Southern belle and sweets are best eaten in the privacy of her hidden closet For while Josey has settled into an uneventful life in her mother s house her one consolation is the stockpile of sugary treats and paperback romances she escapes to each night Until she finds her closet harboring none other than local waitress Della Lee Baker a tough talking tender hearted woman who is one part nemesis and two parts fairy godmother

The Bookshop of Hidden Dreams Karen Hawkins, 2024-08-27 A magical entry in the Dove Pond series that follows a gifted historian investigating the mystery of a love story lost to time

Hatred Berit Brogaard, 2020 The first in depth philosophical analysis of personal hate and group hate Hatred Understanding Our Most Dangerous Emotion explores how personal hatred can foster domestic violence and emotional abuse how hate proneness is a main contributor to the aggressive tendencies of borderlines narcissists and psychopaths how seemingly ordinary people embark on some of history s worst hate crimes and how cohesive groups subjected to spontaneous forces of group polarization can develop extremist viewpoints of the sort that motivate hate crimes mass shootings and terrorism

Seeing and Saying Berit Brogaard, 2018-06-15 Imagine you are sitting at Starbuck glancing at the blue coffee mug in front of you The mug is blue on the outside white on the inside It s large for a mug And it s nearly full of freshly made coffee In the envisaged case you see all those aspects of the scene in front of you but it remains a question of ferocious debate whether the visual experience that makes up your seeing is a direct perceptual relation between you and your environment or a psychology state that has a content that represents the mug If your experience involves an external perceptual relation to an external mind independent object it is unlike familiar mental states such as belief and desire states which are widely considered psychological states with a representational content that stands between you and the external world Your belief that the coffee mug in front of you is blue has a content that represents the coffee mug as being blue Your desire that the coffee in the mug is still hot has a content that represents a state of affairs that may or may not in fact obtain namely the state of affairs that the coffee in the mug is still hot In this book Brit Brogaard defends the view that visual experience is like belief in having a representational content Her defense differs from most previous defenses of this view in that it begins by looking at the language of ordinary speech She provides a linguistic analysis of what we say when we say that things look a certain way or that the world appears to us to be a certain way She then argues that this analysis can be used to argue for the view that visual experience has a representation content that mediates between you and the world when you visually perceive
