Grant Morrison, 2024-09-24 Deep inside a top secret U S Air Force research facility a revolution in cybernetics is taking shape Using ordinary domestic animals for their test subjects the scientists of Project AWE have created a new class of cyborgs flesh and metal creatures designed to rule the battlefields of tomorrow The project s crowning achievement is a trio of prototypes code named WE3 each one custom built and trained to work as specialists within a team With their nervous systems enhanced and supplemented by cutting edge military hardware WE3 are the ultimate smart weapons programmable yet autonomous loyal yet utterly ruthless But successful as they are WE3 are still only prototypes to be dismantled when their testing is complete Inside their fearsome mechanical shells however are three lost pets whose amplified traits include the will to survive Grant Morrison Marc Singer, 2012-01-01 One of the most eclectic and distinctive writers currently working in comics Grant Morrison b 1960 brings the auteurist sensibility of alternative comics and graphic novels to the popular genres superhero science fiction and fantasy that dominate the American and British comics industries His comics range from bestsellers featuring the most universally recognized superhero franchises All Star Superman New X Men Batman to more independent creator owned work The Invisibles The Filth We3 that defies any generic classification In Grant Morrison

Combining the Worlds of Contemporary Comics author Marc Singer examines how Morrison uses this fusion of styles to intervene in the major political aesthetic and intellectual challenges of our time His comics blur the boundaries between fantasy and realism mixing autobiographical representation and cultural critique with heroic adventure They offer self reflexive appraisals of their own genres while they experiment with the formal elements of comics Perhaps most ambitiously they challenge contemporary theories of language and meaning seeking to develop new modes of expression grounded in comics capacity for visual narrative and the fantasy genres ability to make figurative meanings literal We3 (2004-) #3

Vertigo Comics Isabelle Licari-Guillaume, 2022-08-30 This book explores the so called British Invasion of DC Comics Vertigo imprint which played an important role in redefining the mainstream comics industry in the US during the early 1990s Focusing on British creators within Vertigo this study traces the evolution of the line from its creation in 1993 to its demise in 2019 Through an approach grounded in cultural history the book disentangles the imprint's complex roots showing how editors channelled the potential of its British writers at a time of deep seated economic and cultural change within the comics industry and promoted a sense of cohesion across titles that defied categories The author also delves into lesser known aspects of the Invasion exploring less canonical periods and creators that are often eclipsed by Vertigo's early star writers An innovative contribution on a key element of comic book history this volume will appeal both to researchers of Vertigo scholarship and to fans of the imprint It will also be an essential read for those interested in transatlantic collaborations and exchanges in the entertainment industry processes of cultural legitimization and cultural hierarchies and to anyone working on the representation of national and social identities

Narratology Beyond the Human David Herman, 2018 To what extent and in what manner do storytelling practices accommodate nonhuman subjects and their modalities of experience and how can contemporary narrative study shed light on interspecies interactions and entanglements In Narratology beyond the Human David Herman addresses these questions through a cross disciplinary approach to post Darwinian narratives concerned with animals and human animal relationships

Herman considers the enabling and constraining effects of different narrative media examining a range of fictional and nonfictional texts disseminated in print comics and graphic novels and film In focusing on techniques such as the use of animal narrators alternation between human and nonhuman perspectives the embedding of stories within stories and others the book explores how specific strategies for portraying nonhuman agents both emerge from and contribute to broader attitudes toward animal life Herman argues that existing frameworks for narrative inquiry must be modified to take into account how stories are interwoven with cultural ontologies or understandings of what sorts of beings populate the world and how they relate to humans Showing how questions of narrative bear on ideas of species difference and assumptions about animal minds Narratology beyond the Human underscores our inextricable interconnectedness with other forms of creaturely life and suggests that stories can be used to resituate imaginaries of human action in a more than human world

We3 (2004-) #2 Grant Morrison, Morrison and Quiteley continue their unique Westernized manga A cyborg dog cat and rabbit tear through everything the military turns against them only to come face to face with a teeming wave of frenzied cyber enhanced rats And in a bloody battle already filled with considerable cost the three will make an unforgivable mistake of fatal consequence EcoComix Sidney I. Dobrin, 2020-10-02 Exploring image and imagination in conjunction with natural environments the animal and the human this collection of essays turns the ecocritical and eco-compositional gaze upon comic studies The comic form has a long tradition of representing environmental rhetoric Through discussions of comics including A D New Orleans After the Deluge We3 Concrete and Black Orchid these essays bring the rich work of ecological criticism into dialogue with the multi faceted landscape of comics graphic novels web comics cartoons and animation The contributors ask not only how nature and environment are portrayed in these texts but also how these textual forms inform how we come to know nature and environment or what we understand those terms to represent Interdisciplinary in approach this collection welcomes diverse approaches that integrate not only ecocriticism and comics studies but animal studies posthumanism ecofeminism queer ecology semiotics visual rhetoric and communication ecoseeing image text studies space and spatial theories writing studies media ecology ecomedia and other methodological approaches The Funambulist Papers Léopold Lambert, 2013-10-23 This book is a collection of thirty five texts from the first series of guest writers essays written specifically for The Funambulist weblog from June 2011 to November 2012 The idea of complementing Lambert's own texts on his blog with those written by others originated from the idea that having friends communicate with each other about their work could help develop mutual interests and provide a platform to address an audience Thirty nine authors of twenty three nationalities were given the opportunity to write essays about a part of their work that might fit with the blog's editorial line Overall two families of texts emerged collected in two distinct parts in this volume The first part The Power of the Line explores the legal geographical and historical politics of various places of the world The second part Architectural Narratives approaches architecture in a mix of things that were once called philosophy literature and art This dichotomy represents the blog's editorial line and can be reconciled by the obsession of approaching architecture without care for the limits of a given discipline. This method rather than adopting the contemporary architect's syndrome that consists in talking about everything but being an expert in nothing attempts to consider architecture as something embedded within geo-political, cultural, social, historical, biological, and dromological mechanisms that widely exceed what is traditionally understood as the limits of its expertise.

Superhero Comics and Scottish Identity David John Boyd, Julie Briand-Boyd, 2025-06-25. Superhero Comics and Scottish Identity explores the life and career of Glasgow-born Eisner Award-winning and internationally acclaimed Marvel, DC, and Image Comics artist Frank Quitely. With a prolific career spanning more than three decades, Quitely played a pivotal role in the British superhero renaissance of the 1990s and 2000s and in the explosive emergence of the Scottish new wave of comics, a movement that included peers like Alan Grant, Mark Millar, and Grant Morrison but has been underrepresented in both comics studies and Scottish studies. This work investigates questions of historical and contemporary expressions of Scottishness in transcultural comics genres such as superhero, science fiction, and fantasy. Framed through the lens of comics and literary genres as well as their British and American editors, Quitely's approach to Scottishness is oblique and self reflexive his expressions of Scottishness are tensely bound to current nuanced examinations of Scottish national literary and historical subjectivity His work oscillates between two axiomatic antipodes the regional provincial and local versus the transnational cosmopolitan and global This comprehensive study also features an in depth interview with Quitely as well as unearthed archives sketchbooks notes and donated or personal artworks not available elsewhere Animal Alterity Sherryl Vint,2010-04-21 Animal Alterity uses readings of science fiction texts to explore the centrality of animals for our ways of thinking about human It argues that the academic field of animal studies and the popular genre of science fiction share a number a critical concerns thinking about otherness and the nature of human being desiring communication across species difference and interrogating the social and ethical consequences of changes in science and technology We are living in a complex set of contradictory and conflicting relations with non human animals This book maps this complex terrain arguing that we are better able to perceive options for a transformed politics if we perceive our various material relations with non human animals within a deeper understanding of the functions of the category animal
