Committee on Post Office and Civil Service,1976 Of Risks and Normative Responses Christina Anikó Simmig,2023-09-23 Disaster losses in the context of natural hazards continue to rise despite a growing understanding of disaster risks and measures to reduce them One obstacle to enhancing private and public disaster risk reduction is the influence of the distorted risk perception of laypeople The book argues for the necessity of public regulations and explores means to mitigate the consequences of such distorted risk perception through legal measures and adjustments to political decision making in Council of Europe member states while respecting the value of autonomy and democratic principles In terms of collective decision making the book advocates for the implementation of deliberative fora in the democratic decision making process to mitigate the influence of distorted risk perception associated with natural hazards Additionally the book discusses a range of disaster risk reducing measures that member states may lawfully implement to protect individuals and communities from the consequences of distorted risk perceptions related to common natural hazards To underscore the merits of strengthening disaster risk reduction from the bottom up this book demonstrates how fundamental rights and democratic values impede attempts to increase DRR from the top down even in cases where people's risk perceptions are distorted.
