The Making of a Transnational Capitalist Class William K. Carroll, 2013-04-04 Throughout the world there has been a growing wave of interest in global corporate power and the rise of a transnational capitalist class triggered by economic and political transformations that have blurred national borders and disembedded corporate business from national domiciles Using social network analysis William Carroll maps the changing field of power generated by elite relations among the world s largest corporations and related political organizations Carroll provides an in depth analysis that spans the three decades of the late 20th and early 21st century when capitalist globalization attained unprecedented momentum propelled both by the transnationalization of accumulation and by the political paradigm of transnational neoliberalism This has been an era in which national governments have deregulated capital international institutions such as the World Trade Organization and the World Economic Forum have gained prominence and production and finance have become more fully transnational increasing the structural power of capital over communities and workers Within this context of transformation the book charts the making of a transnational capitalist class reaching beyond national forms of capitalist class organization into a global field but facing spirited opposition from below in an ongoing struggle that is also a struggle over alternative global futures

Digital Technologies to Implement the UN Sustainable Development Goals Walter Leal Filho, Sandeep Kautish, Tony Wall, Sonja Rewhorn, Sanjoy Kumar Paul, 2024-09-16 Against this background and in order to facilitate a broad discussion on the contribution of IT toward implementing the UN SDGs this book is being produced The book gathers inputs from universities enterprises and research organizations working on matters related to IT and sustainable development in a variety of contexts It also provides a platform for the dissemination of information on the latest initiatives paving the way for technology transfer and networking Last but not least a further aim of the book is to present methodological approaches and experiences deriving from case studies and projects which aims to show how IT may support sustainability efforts in a wide range of settings and contexts Digital technologies are now widely spread and the variety of tools and methods available today means that they can potentially useful in helping to achieve the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals UN SDGs However the gap between technological innovation and sustainable development applications is quite wide For instance it is unclear how artificial intelligence can be leveraged to tackle some of the world's biggest environmental challenges including climate change biodiversity and water management Also there is a need to highlight how innovative green technologies and their applications in areas such as renewable energy waste management and sustainable agriculture may be used and to showcase how technological innovation can lead to more sustainable production and consumption patterns

Neoliberal Hegemony Dieter Plehwe, Bernhard J. A. Walpen, Gisela Neunhöffer, 2007-05-07 Neoliberalism is fast becoming the dominant ideology of our age yet politicians businessmen and academics rarely identify themselves with it and even political forces critical of it continue to carry out neoliberal policies around the globe How can we make sense of this paradox Who actually are the neoliberals This is the first explanation of neoliberal hegemony which systematically considers and analyzes the networks and organizations of around 1 000 self-conscious neoliberal intellectuals organized in the Mont Plerin Society This book challenges simplistic understandings of neoliberalism It underlines the variety of neoliberal schools of thought the various approaches of its proponents in the fight for hegemony in research and policy development political and communication efforts and the well-funded well-coordinated and highly effective new types of knowledge organizations generated by the neoliberal movement partisan think tanks It also closes an important gap in the growing literature on private authority presenting new perspectives on transnational civil society formation processes This fascinating new book will be of great interest to students of international relations political economy globalization and politics
